Malenkov Wins, Experts Declare

Reds Jail Farmersas Saboteurs

Berlin, Aug. 11 (AP)—East Germany's Communist government was reported jailing farmers today for "sabotaging" the Soviet zone harvest. Thousands of the hungry victims of the Reds' agricultural breakdown meanwhile continued to pour into West Berlin for free American food parcels.

The resourceful food seekers eluded Red travel controls by mingling with the thousands of East Berlin workers who commute daily across the Soviet frontier. West Berlin officials expected today's food handout to approximate yesterday's 108,047.

In the two-week-old campaign, the west up to last night had given 2,111,621 parcels to East Zone citizens. The present distribution system will end next Saturday but a new plan is to begin Aug. 27.

The U. S. State Department's newspaper Neue Zeitung reported the arrests of East Zone farmers. The paper said the Red regime, enraged by delays in bringing the storm-plagued grain crop to market, began sending police out into the fields last weekend.

'Criminal Slowness' Charged

The report said farmers and farm laborers have since been taken into custody on charges of "criminal slowness" in reaping, threshing, harvesting and transporting the grain. The largest number of arrests were reported in Mecklenburg, where the harvest lagged behind the other four Russian-occupied provinces.

City dwellers also were reported victims of police action because they failed to volunteer for unpaid weekend farm service or had "spread tendentious rumors about harvest conditions."

The new Communist drive against farmers repudiated the Reds' promise in June to treat owners of small and medium-sized

Chief Rivals Will Avow Soon Full Allegiance to Premier

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Premier Georgi Malenkov has successfully weathered a grim power struggle inside the Kremlin and now stands virtually unchallenged as Russia's ruler.

This, at least, is the carefully considered view of top American foreign affairs experts who have been watching developments within the Soviet union since Premier Stalin's death.

Active support by powerful Red army leaders, they said, probably was a deciding factor in maintaining Malenkov's power despite widespread uncertainty after the sudden purge of Deputy Premier Lavrenty Beria.

It would be no surprise to these American experts if in the coming weeks Malenkov's most prominently mentioned rivals, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, and Defense Minister Nicolai Bulganin, publicly avow their loyalty to Malenkov.

Top Man of Communism

A closing of ranks within the Soviet high command, in their view, does not rule out potential unrest within Russia and the satellite world later. But it does plainly indicate to them that the sleepy-eyed Malenkov now is definitely top man at the Kremlin and director of the Communist network stretching throughout the world.

The conclusion that Malenkov has won his battle for power, at least temporarily, stems partly from the tone and content of his speech last Saturday to the Soviet parliament. He scolded and criticized Communist party chiefs generally and talked like a man completely confident of his position.

The United States and Britain, it was learned, have added information which supports this view.

No Word on Bomb

No authoritative American official would say whether they took at face value Malenkov's broad hint Saturday that Russia has mastered production of the hydrogen bomb.

Tending to support his claim, however, is an unexplained 92 per cent increase in the Russian budget's "other expenditures" category which usually shows how much Moscow intends to spend on atomic weapons and similar secret projects.

American experts, after analyzing the Soviet budget figures, concluded that, instead of cutting

Million Workers Involved In French Railway Strike

Paris, Aug. 11 (AP)—A Communist-sparked railway strike against government economy decrees spread today to a million workers in publicly owned industries. Rail traffic was almost completely shut off throughout the nation.

The paralyzing stoppage threatened to spread to other means of transportation, snarling traffic at the peak of France's lucrative tourist season. Strikes among postal, telephone and telegram workers went into their seventh day with no end in sight. Angry tourists and citizens were stranded, unable to send messages even for more money to spend in France—or to get out.

Coal Miners Out

Coal miners were ordered to walk out of the pits for an indefinite period. Some ships were tied up at French ports, unable to leave on scheduled voyages. Gas workers stayed away from their jobs even though no strike order went out to them, and gas pressure dwindled.

Members of the cabinet directly concerned with the situation held an emergency meeting this morning to discuss the increasingly gloomy situation arising out of the continued protests against economy decrees issued by Premier Joseph Laniel's government.

The ministers may decide to issue more requisition orders for key workers to return to their jobs or face disciplinary action. The workers generally have been ignoring such orders already sent out to post, telegraph and telephone workers. Five who refused to obey the orders were hailed into a Paris court today.

Launched by Reds

The new tieup was launched by the Communist-led CGT (National Confederation of Labor) which called its 270,000 member railwaymen off their jobs. The non-Communist Socialist Workers' forces (FO) went along on the walkout.

Most of last week's walkouts were for 24 to 48 hours. This time no limit was set by the CGT.

The FO and Christian Trade Federation (CFTC) control the rest of the country's 440,000 railway workers. Thus far, there was no indication that the CFTC had decided on its action in the tieup.

The CGT said the aims of the strike were higher salaries and all-out war on the government decrees, which described as hitting at the privileges and social benefits of civil servants.

In Paris, many of the big train terminals were closed including St. Lazare, the main station for suburban lines. Some terminals were open but had no trains operating.

Might Hit Buses, Subway

There also were indications that the strike would spread to the city's subway and bus system during the day.

A new, large-scale strike in the government-run gas and electricity industries was also feared. It already had begun in Nice, on the vacation-crowded Rivera.

The nationwide postal, telephone and telegraph (PTT) tieup was in its seventh day. The lack of mail service, crippling business and commercial transactions, was expected soon to force many industrial establishments to close.

Planes and ships had not yet been hit by the strike, but there was a possibility of a port strike, beginning at Marseille.

The unrest began even before the publication of the government degrees, aimed at lifting France's government from the morass of near-bankruptcy. They include a provision placing some nationalized industries, including the railroads, under the same retirement system as government office workers.

Although the retirement systems vary from one group to another, in general the measure would add about five years to the time workers must serve before they can retire.

The government said the move was necessary because people are living longer and pensions are costing the government too much.

Other sections of the French economy also are effected by the decrees they ban cartels which merchants have used to keep prices high enough to enable marginal producers to carry on. Wine growers will not be able to sell as much of their surplus to the government and employers of more than 10 persons will have to make available one per cent of their payrolls for housing construction.

To Release Cooper

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—The New Jersey parole board announced today it had granted parole to Ralph Cooper, the only defendant left in the Bizarre Trenton six murder case.

Under the grant, Cooper will be paroled in November.

Cooper was sentenced to 6 to 10 years in prison last February, five years after the crime. Just before he was sentenced, Cooper told Judge Joseph E. Conlon that his five companions were at the scene in 1948 when William Horner, elderly shopkeeper, was bludgeoned to death during a holdup.

Four of the five have been acquitted and the fifth died in prison while awaiting a fourth trial for murder.

St. Laurent Sweeps Canada's Election For His Fifth Term

Party Wins 171 Commons Seats — Calls Returns an Expression of Confidence

Toronto, Aug. 11 (AP) — Canadians still swear by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and will have none—or very little—of his detractors. They made that clear in the national elections with a big tide of votes rolling the Liberal party to an unprecedented fifth term.

The vote yesterday returned the Liberals to power with a House of Commons majority just short of the record margin they ran up in the landslide St. Laurent engineered in 1949.

There were 265 Commons seats at stake. The Liberals needed 133 to maintain a majority able to back a government. They won 171.

The Progressive Conservative (Tory) party won 50. The Socialist CCF (Commonwealth Cooperative Federation) was in third place with 23 and the Social Creditors next with 15. The remaining 6 were scattered.

Had 193 in 1949

In 1949 the Liberals won 193 seats for the greatest majority in history. The Conservatives won 41, the CCF 13 and the Social Creditors 10.

St. Laurent hailed the result as showing Canada has the kind of government it wants. He called the returns "a heartening expression of confidence."

The 71-year-old "Uncle Louis" conducted his own kind of campaign. "I'm running on performance, not promises," he said.

In Power Since 1935

The present-day Liberals have been in power since 1935, first under W. L. MacKenzie King and since 1948 under St. Laurent. With the four to five years added by yesterday's election, they will run their tenure to 22 years.

The Conservatives now have failed to win a Canadian election since 1930. They tried yesterday under the same leader who lost in 1949—George Drew, former premier of Ontario. His hopes of being Prime Minister were as good as lost in mid-campaign. Some Conservative candidates, as if to pull away from Drew ties, never mentioned him in their speeches.

Popular Vote Not Factor

Eisenhower Asks Cut in U. S. Outlay

President Would Avoid Calling Special Term of Congress — Letter Sent to Agencies

Denver, Aug. 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower, trying to avoid calling a special session of Congress, today called for a reduction of federal spending "with renewed vigor."

In a letter to the heads of the federal departments and agencies, the President said:

"Ever since the date of inauguration, every member of this administration has been dedicated to the purposes of efficiency and economy in government.

'Time to Attack'

"Now that Congress is adjourned, it is time to attack the problem with renewed vigor."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the letter public as the President's vacation headquarters here as Eisenhower was getting a briefing on the world military situation from Adm. Arthur Radford, the incoming chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Hagerty told newsmen that Eisenhower, in calling for a new drive to reduce federal spending, was trying to avoid calling a special session of Congress.

The press secretary noted that the Senate had refused to go along with the President's request for an increase in the 275 billion dollars ceiling on the national debt. The administration wanted it increased to 290 billion dollars.

Briefing by Radford

Denver, Aug. 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower gets a briefing on the world military situation today from Adm. Arthur W. Radford, the incoming chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Radford, who takes over his new duties Saturday, flew from Washington to the President's vacation headquarters here late yesterday. He and Eisenhower arranged a 10 a. m. (EST) conference at the Chief Executive's Summer White House office at Lowry Air Force Base.

The admiral is succeeding Gen. Omar N. Bradley as head of the military high command. Bradley retires at the end of the week.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said no emergency prompted Radford's flying visit. The chairman of the joint chiefs briefs the President routinely at least once a week, Hagerty said. The practice will continue while Eisenhower is vacationing in Colorado.

He added that Radford is handling the assignment this week because of the imminence of Bradley's retirement.

Employes Quit Jobs

Austin, Tex., Aug. 11 (AP)—Some 1,200 employes of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Austin, Waco, and San Antonio, Tex., walked off their jobs yesterday protesting lack of air-conditioning in their exchanges. Austin's Bell employes voted to go back to work today pending negotiations for installation of air conditioning facilities.

Work to Start Soon On West Road to Span

Authority Will Adopt Resolution

Firm Moves Machines to Area for Approach to Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Site

Philip Totonelly, Inc., of Newburgh, sole bidder for the contract of rough grading the western approach for the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge, started moving equipment to the site yesterday afternoon, and state officials today indicated that a contract technicality, which delayed start of the project will be ironed out as early as possible this week.

James F. Loughran, of this city, chairman of the New York State Bridge Authority, said today, his office had received a letter from J. B. McMorran, chief engineer of the New York State Department of Public Works, requesting final action by the authority and it was indicated that this would be done at a meeting as early as possible this week, possibly tomorrow.

Resolution Appended

With McMorran's letter was a resolution prepared by the state public works department's legal branch, and, when this is adopted by the bridge authority, it will authorize the signing of a contract.

A spokesman for Totonelly said today that the equipment was being moved to the site so that work may start as soon as contract details are completed. Fred Rose, of Highland Falls is currently in charge of the moving in of the equipment and Philip Totonelly will supervise the job as soon as work is started.

Grading, Clearing Asked

The contract calls for clearing and grading .67 of a mile eastward from Route 32 toward the Hudson river. Totonelly's bid was $156,452, and the state estimate was $163,000. Bids were opened in Albany July 9.

Details of the resolution which came to the bridge authority's office with McMorran's letter were not released because it had not been acted upon by the authority, but it is understood it emphasizes official sanction by the authority for start of the project. It was also indicated that the contract as originally submitted was considered not emphatic enough on this point by the legal branch of the public works department.

William J. Hagginbothom, secretary of the bridge authority, said today he was making every possible effort to get the members of the authority together for a meeting as early as possible, and he indicated if all are able to attend, it will be held tomorrow.

Blast Complaints Made

Local police reported complaints against a blast at about 3:45 p. m., yesterday which shook houses in different sections of the city. First reports came from a Warren street resident, another from West Pierpont street, and others followed. The "Callanan Road Improvement Co., of South Rondout was contacted and said they did set off a blast at 3:45 p. m.," the police report said.

Officials Study Effect of Prison On Some Returnees

Lacking Direct Reports, Capital Leaders Have Adopted View of Wait and See

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Reports from Freedom Village that some freed American Prisoners of War may be coming back home as indoctrinated Communists furrowed some official brows in Washington today.

However, those chiefly concerned with the nation's internal security, appeared to be taking a "wait and see" attitude.

Top officials in the Justice Department reported they have had no direct official report on any American-turned-Red on the repatriation list. But they said press reports of such cases were being followed closely.

"It is difficult to say at this point what the situation might be," one such source said. "If any evidence of treason, such as acts of atrocity against other Americans, should turn up, we would certainly look at it very carefully.

Under Severe Strain

"On the other hand, we should all recognize that men long confined, especially under conditions such as those in Korea, are frequently under severe emotional strain at release. It will take time to get a clear picture."

An army spokesman said there was no intention to conduct anything like a witch hunt among re-

Grim GIs Vow Vengeance On Pals Who Went Red

Diehard American Prisoners Are Proud of Term 'Reactionary' and Tell of Tortures

Panmunjom, Aug. 11 (AP)—A bitter band of diehard Americans came back from their Red prison camps today—vowing vengeance on weaker comrades who turned to communism under pressure.

They spat out "progressive" as a dirty word, and wore with honor the badge of "reactionary" fastened on them by Red Chinese who clubbed and tortured them but did not break their spirits.

One tough American had to be held back by force when he spotted a "Progressive" at the Freedom Village reception center.

"I'll get that guy when I get home," he said.

One hundred Americans came back from the north, along with 24 British, 25 Turks and 250 South Koreans in the seventh day of the Korean war prisoner exchange.

Meanwhile, 328 Americans repatriated earlier sailed from Inchon aboard the troopship Gen. Nelson M. Walker for the 14-to-15 day voyage to San Francisco's Golden Gate.

All were classed as healthy.

The ship originally was to sail several hours later, but its orders apparently were changed.

Litter Patients Rest

A plane bearing 17 seriously ill Americans, all litter patients, landed at Honolulu for a night of rest before continuing homeward. It is expected to arrive at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco about 6 a. m. Wednesday (8 a. m. EST).

The first week of exchange has brought 648 Americans of the 3,313 the Reds say they hold. A total of 2,772 allied captives have

Man Found Dead In Shack; Body Taken to Ellenville

A man identified as Walter Ives, a berry picker, was found dead yesterday afternoon on Shawangunk Mountain about five miles from Ellenville, state police of the Ellenville Station reported today.

Dr. Charles Rosenstock, Ellenville coroner, said that, according to the evidence, the man died of natural causes. "There was no evidence of injury or homicide," he said. No autopsy will be held.

Troopers said that two men who occupy a shack on the mountain near where Ives lived walked the five miles to Ellenville to report his death.

The two men, Oscar Countryman and Carl Sanstrom, reported that Ives had complained recently of ulcers and that they had paid a visit to his shack yesterday to check his condition, troopers told The Freeman. When they felt no pulse they hiked into the village

Leading UN Diplomats Are Arriving in New York

United Nations, Aug. 11 (AP)—Top UN diplomats began arriving here today for a week of behind-the-scene talks on the impending Korean political conference.

Before the 60-nation general assembly convenes next Monday, the delegates hope to agree on the countries that will take part in the conference and its time and place.

The conference must begin by Oct. 27, under the terms of the Korean armistice.

Some preliminary talks have been in progress since the truce-signing, but the signal for full-scale consultations was the return of Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., from Korea.

Lodge conferred with President Eisenhower at the summer White House in Denver yesterday, then rushed back to New York to begin discussions immediately.

Arriving in New York today were Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinky, returning from Moscow; British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd, and Maurice Schumann, French secretary of state for foreign affairs.

The United States so far has not disclosed its views on the conference even to its closest allies. Though this has made it impossible for the allies to shape up any firm proposals, they felt it was worthwhile to learn in preliminary talks as much as possible about the views of others.

Responsible diplomatic sources said they found these prevailing views:

1. The conference should be small, preferably about 11 countries.

2. The participating countries should decide whether the conference should limit its discussions to the Korean problem or should include other subjects.

3. The conference should be a roundtable parley rather than an across-the-table-negotiation limited to the belligerent parties. A roundtable would permit such non-belligerents as Russia and India to take part.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles has indicated the United States would try to limit the conference to the Korean problem.

Grading, Clearing Asked

The contract calls for clearing and grading .67 of a mile eastward from Route 32 toward the Hudson river. Totonelly's bid was $156,452, and the state estimate was $163,000. Bids were opened in Albany July 9.

Details of the resolution which came to the bridge authority's office with McMorran's letter were not released because it had not been acted upon by the authority, but it is understood it emphasizes official sanction by the authority for start of the project. It was also indicated that the contract as originally submitted was considered not emphatic enough on this point by the legal branch of the public works department.

William J. Hagginbothom, secretary of the bridge authority, said today he was making every possible effort to get the members of the authority together for a meeting as early as possible, and he indicated if all are able to attend, it will be held tomorrow.

Blast Complaints Made

Local police reported complaints against a blast at about 3:45 p. m., yesterday which shook houses in different sections of the city. First reports came from a Warren street resident, another from West Pierpont street, and others followed. The "Callanan Road Improvement Co., of South Rondout was contacted and said they did set off a blast at 3:45 p. m.," the police report said.

Officials Study Effect of Prison On Some Returnees

Lacking Direct Reports, Capital Leaders Have Adopted View of Wait and See

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Reports from Freedom Village that some freed American Prisoners of War may be coming back home as indoctrinated Communists furrowed some official brows in Washington today.

However, those chiefly concerned with the nation's internal security, appeared to be taking a "wait and see" attitude.

Top officials in the Justice Department reported they have had no direct official report on any American-turned-Red on the repatriation list. But they said press reports of such cases were being followed closely.

"It is difficult to say at this point what the situation might be," one such source said. "If any evidence of treason, such as acts of atrocity against other Americans, should turn up, we would certainly look at it very carefully.

Under Severe Strain

"On the other hand, we should all recognize that men long confined, especially under conditions such as those in Korea, are frequently under severe emotional strain at release. It will take time to get a clear picture."

An army spokesman said there was no intention to conduct anything like a witch hunt among re-

Grim GIs Vow Vengeance On Pals Who Went Red

Diehard American Prisoners Are Proud of Term 'Reactionary' and Tell of Tortures

Panmunjom, Aug. 11 (AP)—A bitter band of diehard Americans came back from their Red prison camps today—vowing vengeance on weaker comrades who turned to communism under pressure.

They spat out "progressive" as a dirty word, and wore with honor the badge of "reactionary" fastened on them by Red Chinese who clubbed and tortured them but did not break their spirits.

One tough American had to be held back by force when he spotted a "Progressive" at the Freedom Village reception center.

"I'll get that guy when I get home," he said.

One hundred Americans came back from the north, along with 24 British, 25 Turks and 250 South Koreans in the seventh day of the Korean war prisoner exchange.

Meanwhile, 328 Americans repatriated earlier sailed from Inchon aboard the troopship Gen. Nelson M. Walker for the 14-to-15 day voyage to San Francisco's Golden Gate.

All were classed as healthy.

The ship originally was to sail several hours later, but its orders apparently were changed.

Litter Patients Rest

A plane bearing 17 seriously ill Americans, all litter patients, landed at Honolulu for a night of rest before continuing homeward. It is expected to arrive at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco about 6 a. m. Wednesday (8 a. m. EST).

The first week of exchange has brought 648 Americans of the 3,313 the Reds say they hold. A total of 2,772 allied captives have

Man Found Dead In Shack; Body Taken to Ellenville

A man identified as Walter Ives, a berry picker, was found dead yesterday afternoon on Shawangunk Mountain about five miles from Ellenville, state police of the Ellenville Station reported today.

Dr. Charles Rosenstock, Ellenville coroner, said that, according to the evidence, the man died of natural causes. "There was no evidence of injury or homicide," he said. No autopsy will be held.

Troopers said that two men who occupy a shack on the mountain near where Ives lived walked the five miles to Ellenville to report his death.

The two men, Oscar Countryman and Carl Sanstrom, reported that Ives had complained recently of ulcers and that they had paid a visit to his shack yesterday to check his condition, troopers told The Freeman. When they felt no pulse they hiked into the village

Million Workers Involved In French Railway Strike

Paris, Aug. 11 (AP)—A Communist-sparked railway strike against government economy decrees spread today to a million workers in publicly owned industries. Rail traffic was almost completely shut off throughout the nation.

The paralyzing stoppage threatened to spread to other means of transportation, snarling traffic at the peak of France's lucrative tourist season. Strikes among postal, telephone and telegram workers went into their seventh day with no end in sight. Angry tourists and citizens were stranded, unable to send messages even for more money to spend in France—or to get out.

Coal Miners Out

Coal miners were ordered to walk out of the pits for an indefinite period. Some ships were tied up at French ports, unable to leave on scheduled voyages. Gas workers stayed away from their jobs even though no strike order went out to them, and gas pressure dwindled.

Members of the cabinet directly concerned with the situation held an emergency meeting this morning to discuss the increasingly gloomy situation arising out of the continued protests against economy decrees issued by Premier Joseph Laniel's government.

The ministers may decide to issue more requisition orders for key workers to return to their jobs or face disciplinary action. The workers generally have been ignoring such orders already sent out to post, telegraph and telephone workers. Five who refused to obey the orders were hailed into a Paris court today.

Launched by Reds

The new tieup was launched by the Communist-led CGT (National Confederation of Labor) which called its 270,000 member railwaymen off their jobs. The non-Communist Socialist Workers' forces (FO) went along on the walkout.

Most of last week's walkouts were for 24 to 48 hours. This time no limit was set by the CGT.

The FO and Christian Trade Federation (CFTC) control the rest of the country's 440,000 railway workers. Thus far, there was no indication that the CFTC had decided on its action in the tieup.

The CGT said the aims of the strike were higher salaries and all-out war on the government decrees, which described as hitting at the privileges and social benefits of civil servants.

In Paris, many of the big train terminals were closed including St. Lazare, the main station for suburban lines. Some terminals were open but had no trains operating.

Might Hit Buses, Subway

There also were indications that the strike would spread to the city's subway and bus system during the day.

A new, large-scale strike in the government-run gas and electricity industries was also feared. It already had begun in Nice, on the vacation-crowded Rivera.

The nationwide postal, telephone and telegraph (PTT) tieup was in its seventh day. The lack of mail service, crippling business and commercial transactions, was expected soon to force many industrial establishments to close.

Planes and ships had not yet been hit by the strike, but there was a possibility of a port strike, beginning at Marseille.

The unrest began even before the publication of the government degrees, aimed at lifting France's government from the morass of near-bankruptcy. They include a provision placing some nationalized industries, including the railroads, under the same retirement system as government office workers.

Although the retirement systems vary from one group to another, in general the measure would add about five years to the time workers must serve before they can retire.

The government said the move was necessary because people are living longer and pensions are costing the government too much.

Other sections of the French economy also are effected by the decrees they ban cartels which merchants have used to keep prices high enough to enable marginal producers to carry on. Wine growers will not be able to sell as much of their surplus to the government and employers of more than 10 persons will have to make available one per cent of their payrolls for housing construction.

Leading UN Diplomats Are Arriving in New York

United Nations, Aug. 11 (AP)—Top UN diplomats began arriving here today for a week of behind-the-scene talks on the impending Korean political conference.

Before the 60-nation general assembly convenes next Monday, the delegates hope to agree on the countries that will take part in the conference and its time and place.

The conference must begin by Oct. 27, under the terms of the Korean armistice.

Some preliminary talks have been in progress since the truce-signing, but the signal for full-scale consultations was the return of Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., from Korea.

Lodge conferred with President Eisenhower at the summer White House in Denver yesterday, then rushed back to New York to begin discussions immediately.

Arriving in New York today were Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinky, returning from Moscow; British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd, and Maurice Schumann, French secretary of state for foreign affairs.

The United States so far has not disclosed its views on the conference even to its closest allies. Though this has made it impossible for the allies to shape up any firm proposals, they felt it was worthwhile to learn in preliminary talks as much as possible about the views of others.

Responsible diplomatic sources said they found these prevailing views:

1. The conference should be small, preferably about 11 countries.

2. The participating countries should decide whether the conference should limit its discussions to the Korean problem or should include other subjects.

3. The conference should be a roundtable parley rather than an across-the-table-negotiation limited to the belligerent parties. A roundtable would permit such non-belligerents as Russia and India to take part.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles has indicated the United States would try to limit the conference to the Korean problem.

SAWKILL NEWS

Sawkill, Aug. 10—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hulsair and daughter, Winifred, White Plains, and Mrs. Patrick Duffy, Brooklyn, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Duffy and family in the village.

Belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Dolan on their July 14 wedding anniversary.

Wedding anniversaries being celebrated this month include those of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Estes, August 7; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dolan, August 8; and Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson, August 18.

The Sawkill Fire Company was alerted last Friday afternoon, and aided in a woods fire in the vicinity of the Byron Gerlach farm on the lower Sawkill road. The Ulster Hose Company and forest rangers also were at the scene. The fire was brought under control in the early evening. It was reported further damage, which could have assumed serious proportions due to the strong winds that day and the extremely dry condition of the woods, was prevented partly by the number of woods roads in the area which had been kept open, and served as a check on the fire.

Birthday congratulations to Donald Dolan, August 4; James Anderson, August 7; Joseph Leahy, August 7; Debra Joan Buchanan, August 6; Mrs. Samuel Hull, August 8; Miss Ellen Kirchner, August 11; Earl Kirchner, August 11; Michael Dolan, August 12th and Vincent Dolan, August 12.

One of the troubles with Hard Luck Joe is that his feet are far too big for any normal human being. As a result, his feet are always getting in his own way, his partner's way or into his own mouth. In today's hand, for example, Joe held the South cards and managed to get himself beautifully tangled up.

There were nothing much to the play. West opened a trump, and Joe exhausted trumps in two rounds. He took a successful heart finesse, and took a successful club finesse on the way back. He was then able to claim twelve tricks, giving up only one spade.

North looked daggers at his partner, and Joe looked apologetic. "I don't see how we could bid that slam," muttered Joe. "After all, we couldn't make the slam unless both the heart and the club finesse worked."

Joe still hasn't seen what crime he had committed. See if you can spot it for yourself before you read on.

South's crime occurred in the bidding. There was no need for him to bid four diamonds. He had already made an opening bid on a slightly doubtful hand, and there was no need to make a second bid on the same doubtful cards.

If South passed instead of bidding, North would have the chance to continue to diamonds if he chose to do so. Hence South would lose nothing by this pass.

Actually there would have been a great gain. North would not have continued the bidding in diamonds. North would have doubled the ridiculous bid of three spades with speed, delight, and gusto.

Almost any reasonable defense would strip West of his eight cards in the side suits. He would still have to lose two trump tricks, and therefore would be set six for a loss of 1700 points! No wonder North was annoyed at Joe.

KNOWLAND FACES STIFF TEST

No one need envy too much the new permanent Senate Majority Leader, Republican William F. Knowland of California. He has his work cut out for him.

So long as Senator Taft was alive, Knowland was invested with something of the Ohioan's great personal authority when he spoke as leader. That large, comforting assurance is gone now, and Knowland is on his own.

Ahead of him next year, a critical election season in which GOP control of the Senate will be on the block, are such crusty problems as tax reduction, a new farm program, postal rate increases, a new foreign trade policy covering tariffs, extension of social security, possible Taft-Hartley revision, statehood for Hawaii, and a possible Korean peace treaty.

All these issues were deferred in 1953. Yet it took every bit of Taft's parliamentary skill and influence to get key parts of the President's relatively modest initial program past the Senate.

There were many reasons why. Every one of them might obtain in 1954 as it did this time. First, Republican control is razor-thin. Even assuming perfect accord on the issues, nearly 100 per cent attendance would be needed to keep command at all times.

But in practice, the GOP never had accord, any more than the Democrats before them. Right-wing Republicans showed no more sympathy for the President's programs than for those of his Democratic predecessors. By tremendous effort, Taft managed to pull some of them into the camp now and then, but seldom if ever did he get them all.

Consequently, the administration was dependent on Democratic votes to get important bills through. Since in 1954 the issues will be tougher and the intra-party tensions perhaps greater, that dependence may actually be increased when Congress returns. Knowland took note of the prospect by bowing acknowledgment to the Democrats when he assumed his permanent leadership post.

Lastly, President Eisenhower applied a theory of presidential power which tended to leave Congress largely to its own devices. He allowed himself to be, in effect, a congressman's idea of a President. Inevitably this greatly enlarged Taft's difficulties; factional strife intensified without White House leverage to minimize it. Only reluctantly, and then sometimes at great cost, did Mr. Eisenhower use the authority at his command.

In the new situation, the President may feel compelled to exercise this huge power more frequently and more tellingly. He may do this personally, or through some agent wise in the ways of politics and legislatures.

But whether he does or not, the majority leadership now and in 1954 is sure to provide a stiff test of Senator Knowland's capacity for growth, for accommodation to a wide range of viewpoints, for dealing with the opposition, for sheer output of energy.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Recently the President met with representatives of the newspaper, insurance and transportation industries to plan a national highway safety campaign which will begin either late this year or early next year. It is hoped that such a campaign can result in the saving of 17,000 lives and $1,250,000,000.

The campaign will begin with a conference of from 2,000 to 3,000 community representatives at a conference in Washington. The exact nature of the campaign was not disclosed although it is likely that an educational program will play a big part in it.

President Eisenhower said that he was tired of having three and four times as many people killed on our highways as died annually in the fighting in Korea. He said that whenever a coordinated effort is made to reduce the number of accidents, the accident trend drops sharply.

Anything that can be done to reduce the number of accidents is commendable. The national conference of community representatives to meet and exchange ideas may accomplish a great deal of good. Our high accident toll is deplorable and represents a loss in lives and money that staggers the imagination. As the President pointed out this is the result of our own folly and indifference. We cannot afford this kind of indifference and folly much longer.

'These Days'

A USEFUL GRANT

The Rockefeller Foundation has announced that it has voted a grant of $200,000 to the New York City Center of Music and Drama. This is a valuable cultural aid, supporting an institution that needs to be preserved because it gives to young Americans an opportunity to develop themselves in the arts of expression. Unlike nearly all European countries, the United States provides few opportunities for young artists in all the arts to go through a period of apprenticeship under great masters. It is for this reason that so many talented young people are forced to go to Europe for their training.

It is a curious commentary upon our way of thinking that at a time when we are pouring billions of dollars into foreign countries for the preservation of their cultures, we are permitting our own cultural institutions to decay for lack of funds. Few museums are safe today. There are no longer any Carnegies or Fricks or Otto Kahns available to assist our art museums and libraries. There are no Vanderbilts to come to the support of the Metropolitan Opera. Every privately-endowed college and university is worried about its finances and some are frightened by the prospect. A completely integrated university, maintaining all departments of learning and providing time and facilities for research by its faculty, cannot live on student fees.

The New York City Center is a particularly noteworthy institution because it gives young Americans a chance. It is a feeder for the Metropolitan Opera as minor league baseball teams are feeders for the major league teams. It is at this place that such new operas as Menotti's are tried out, just as at Tanglewood, Copeland, Bernstein, Foss and other young Americans can have their compositions played by such a fine orchestra as the Boston Symphony.

Yet, the Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood is running in the red and will have to find some way of making a public appeal. It may be difficult to arrange for public subscriptions for such an institution because, unless one actually sees what is being done for young Americans here, it is impossible to realize how much those who expect to make music their careers can accomplish here during the short summer session when they have the opportunity of association with the greatest men in their respective fields. It is an apprenticeship opportunity on the best European standards.

From every standpoint, it would be preferable if our universities, museums, orchestras, schools and other voluntary institutions were continued to be supported by donations from the people as they always have been in American life. Yet, it does come to mind that when billions of dollars, provided by the American taxpayer, are being used to support cultural activities in Europe and Asia, why are our own institutions being permitted to wither on the vine? We finance UNESCO, Point Four, International Students Exchange, libraries and all sorts of activities in the foreign cultural field.

A new committee of Congress has been appointed, under the chairmanship of Representative Carroll Reece, to investigate the general activities of private Foundations. A similar committee, under the chairmanship of Eugene Cox, had begun to look into this subject, but Cox died and the committee's work was abortive. There is no secrecy about the work of any of the Foundations because they issue reports. The committee's activities therefore will be to analyze these reports in detail and to try to find a pattern of expenditures. While, in these days, emphasis will be laid on subversives, if any, who gain an advantage, which they ought not to have, the taxpayer would be interested in an analysis of the relationship between expenditures within the United States and abroad.

It would be an error to jump to conclusions on this subject without all the data being carefully studied. It may be found that the Foundations meet all the criticisms levelled at them; it may be that they are assuming that as they control the money, they are entitled to follow their own judgment. Yet, the fact is that the Foundations are relieved of taxes on the single assumption that their expenditures will be in the public interest. Whatever the outcome, the Reece Committee intends to produce the facts, to analyze them and to make recommendations to Congress for legislation on the subject.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

THE CONTROL OF PAIN

Physicians agree that the commonest symptom, the symptom that causes most patients to consult the physician, is pain. Pain must be stopped at any cost. In many cases the patient wants a pain-killing drug at once, whereas the physician would like to discover the cause of the pain before giving a drug which may hide or mask the cause.

Of course, when the pain is caused by injury or cancer, the pain-killing drug is prescribed at once.

In "today's Health," published by the American Medical Association, Drs. Henry G. Schwartz and James L. O'Leary, Washington University School of Medicine, state:

"To halt chronic, incessant pain, as from cancer, surgeons can cut into the spinal cord, just deep enough to sever the nerve lines carrying pain signals to the brain." The severing of the nerve lines doesn't interfere with movement or control of the pain-ridden leg, arm or other part of the body. They find that the nerve lines which carry prickling pain and the lines carrying burning pain concide at a point in the spinal cord. So they can operate under local anesthetic, with the patient conscious, and prick the person's leg, for example, with a pin as they cut into the spinal cord. "When the patient no longer can feel the pin pricks it also means that he will no longer feel the burning pain in the leg which is causing his agony."

Prickling pain travels along nerves at a speed of about 30 yards a second, while burning pain is telegraphed at only two yards a second.

From the above we can understand how the patient must make the choice of taking a strong pain-killing drug or undergoing the operation of cutting he nerve lines carrying the pain signals to the brain.

In favor of the nerve-cutting operation is the fact that it is done under a local anesthetic with the patient fully conscious and absolutely free from pain, as pricking the skin with a pin keep patient and surgeon aware of the progress of the operation.

For those who dislike or fear operation, the use of a pain-killing drug is employed; some of the newer drugs do not cause formation of the drug habit or severe, depressing after effects.

The fact that cutting the nerve line is done under a local anesthetic with no pain felt during or after the operation, and the use of pain-killing drugs leaving depression of spirits, would seem to influence the patient toward operation with no further treatment necessary to control pain.

Powerful Blow to the Breadbasket

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The methods by which Republican congressmen prevented Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield from getting his proposed $240 million postal-rate increase provides another good case history on how things get done and undone in Washington.

The result of this action, killing the rate increases, is that the Post Office Department will operate with a deficit of about $300 million in the coming year. If the rate increase had gone through, the deficit would still have been about $60 million.

Even if Congress corrects this action early next January—which is still doubtful—the rate increases can't be put into effect before, say, next April 1. This deliberate congressional delay will cost the taxpayers over $100 million.

It was a complete job of congressional sabotage that accomplished this result. In the House, the attack was led by representatives of small business. In the Senate, bigger business interests took over. But both groups claimed postage-rate increases would put many firms out of business.

Summerfield Cited High Cost

Postmaster General Summerfield did not propose to make up all of this deficit by a rate increase. He proposed that the rates on second-class mail be increased only 9 per cent of the $232-million deficit, to bring in another $20 million.

Religious, educational, scientific, philanthropic, agricultural, labor, veterans' and professional nonprofit organizations and their publications would have been exempted. Also, "free in county" newspaper mail delivery would be continued. The subsidy, or deficit, for handling other second-class mail would have been left at $212 million.

In pitching his appeal for this increase, Mr. Summerfield pointed out that in the last 20 years the costs of postal operation had gone up 98 per cent. In the same period, there had been no increase in first-class mail rates. Second-class mail rates had actually been reduced 6 per cent. Third-class rates had been upped 38 per cent.

Also, there were 17 bills pending in Congress to raise the pay scales of postal employes by $500 million a year. And the railroads were demanding a 45 per cent increase in their pay for hauling the mail. This would cost the government another $143 million.

None of these arguments did any good.

In the House, the fight was led by Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa and Rep. Harold C. Hagen of Minnesota. Congressman Gross had been in the newspaper business from 1921 to 1935, when he switched to radio. Congressman Hagen still lists himself as editor of a Norwegian language newspaper, Vesterheimen.

Senator Carlson Opposed Increases

Chairman Edward H. Reese (R-Kan.) of the House Post Office Committee, supported the rate increases. But on this he differed sharply with his fellow Kansan, Sen. Frank Carlson, chairman of the Senate's Post Office Committee.

Last April, Chairman Carlson had formed a Citizens' Advisory Council for his committee, just to study the postal-rate matter. The committee was made up largely of big mail users who stood to profit most by continued low rates.

It included Walter D. Fuller, chairman of the board of Curtis Publishing Co., John E. Tillotson of Kansas City, a director of the Associated Third-Class Mail Users, and Edward B. Rubin of Chicago, vice president of Spiegel, Inc., who had sued the Post Office Department on the rate-increase question.

The committee was given $100,000 of government money to investigate the issue, although it had already been pretty well investigated by the Post Office Department. Anyway, under the excuse that the advisory council had not had time to complete its study and would not be ready to report until next January, the Senate refused to act on the increase this year.

The prospect is that if postal wage increases and payments to the railroads are increased, without any increase in postal rates, the Post Office Department deficit next year will be a full one billion dollars.

Costello Manages Central Office

At the regular meeting of the directors of the Home-Seekers' Savings and Loan Association held last evening, William D. Costello was designated as manager of the central Broadway office located at 628 Broadway.

Costello has been with the association since 1938 and served in various capacities until the fall of 1949 when he was appointed assistant secretary upon the resignation of Charles J. Turk. Upon the opening of the central Broadway office on October 18, 1951, Mr. Costello was transferred to the new office and has spent most of his time there since.

Costello is a member of the Wiltwyck Golf Club, president of the Southeastern League of Savings and Loan Associations and a governor of the Capital District Chapter of the American Savings and Loan Institute. He has been a member of the class in courses offered by the institute in Kingston and received the highest rating in the course on personal money management. He is also a veteran of World War 2, serving four and one half years in the Signal Corps.

Costello is now active making plans for the second anniversary of the central Broadway office which will take place in October. Details will be announced in about a month.

Malenkov Speech Shows Soviets Get Comfort From 'Free World' Dissension

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 11 — Malenkov's speech is an uncensored version of what the top leaders in the Soviet are thinking and saying to themselves about the western world.

Hence it is significant that the Soviet dictator should be boasting that "one of the decisive advantages" of the Communist bloc in the world situation today "and its basic difference from the Imperialist camp lies in the fact that it is not rent by internal contradictions and strife."

The Soviet leaders have only to read the American press dispatches from around the world in these critical times to get a good deal of comfort out of the dissension among the governments of the so-called "free world."

Just last Saturday, for example, the United Press sent a bulletin over its wires at 4:30 p. m. declaring that the 16 United Nations members which had fought the Communist aggression in Korea "warned the Reds that they probably would have to carry the war into China itself if the Communists break the armistice."

This sounded like tought language and an evidence of allied unity—something that might be calculated to make the Reds think twice about violating the armistice and to give Red China in particular a cause for concern.

But exactly two hours later, over the same United Press wires, came a dispatch from London telling the Reds, in effect, not to worry about that United Nations warning. Here is how the London dispatch began:

"A foreign office spokesman said tonight that, in Britain's opinion, the United Nations threat to carry the war to the enemy if the Korean truce is violated doesn't imply any advance commitments to any precise course of action."

Whatever spirit of resoluteness there was in the allied warning from the United Nations headquarters in New York was thus deflated promptly. The London Foreign Office went on to say:

"When the text to the declaration (the 16-member warning) was under discussion, her majesty's government was careful to make it clear that, in their view, decisions which might have grave consequences should be taken only at the time and in full knowledge of the circumstances."

Did anybody think for a moment that her Majesty's government would ever make any decisions without "full knowledge of the circumstances" existing at the time a grave decision was being made? Then what was the purpose of the palpable effort to play down and minimize the solemn warning issued at New York in behalf of the 16 nations which had been doing the fighting in Korea?

If this were the first time the foreign office in London contradicted a firm warning issued in its behalf somewhere else in the world, it would be understandable. But the British Foreign Office evidently doesn't hesitate to throw down even the statements made by Prime Minister Churchill when he isn't in London—as happened when he assured the American Congress of Britain's intent to stand with her allies in the event that aggression were renewed in the Far East.

It is inexplicable why, in the midst of delicate situations, the British Foreign Office should always interject itself in a way that must necessarily weaken the hand of the allies as against the Communists and, in effect, tell the Communists not to pay any attention to strong words that may be issued—that they really don't mean what they seem to mean.

Another example of bungling is to be noted in a dispatch from London on Monday of this week announcing that "Britain has formally put the U. S. on notice" that she will press for Red China's admission to the United Nations if the Korean peace conference is a success.

Then an outline is given of what the British would consider a "success"—namely, a pledge by the Communists for "free elections" in Korea after a three-to five-year "neutralization" period.

This is a strange way to start out a negotiation—by telegraphing the enemy that the attitude of a principal ally, the United States, in opposing Red China's admission to the UN is really of no consequence. Maybe the British officials haven't discovered the facts of international life as Congress sees it. Congress is on record as being ready to withdraw from the UN when Red China goes in.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Aug. 10—Congressman Clare E. Hoffman is, in my informed opinion, and, on his record, a superior public servant, diligent in pursuing criminals and authorized tyrants operating under the charters and special privileges which the New Deal conferred on unions and on its parasitic political adherents. He is a Republican, representing the Fourth Michigan District. He is almost 78 years old, lean, little, aggressive and driven by an unflagging fury against the degeneration of this republic, and the theft and waste of the taxes which the people have to pay. He has traveled for months in the most oppressive weather to some of the least inviting places in the country from the standpoint of an old man who might reasonably take thought of his comfort and health, living in cheerless hotel rooms and hounding racketeers and regional satraps of the reigning corruption established by the late Roosevelt and his machine.

While many of his colleagues, including other Republicans, have preferred luxurious journeys by air at government expense to interesting areas overseas from which they returned home heavy with treasure with only their own conscientious scruples to guide them at customs, Mr. Hoffman has fought it out in gritty hearing rooms in Kansas City, Omaha, Chicago, St. Paul and Detroit, often sitting as a one-man subcommittee. Now he has been "cut down to size" as Charlie Halleck put it. Halleck is a tired, discouraged, Indiana Republican of the Eisenhower machine. Mr. Hoffman's indifference to state boundaries and the local interests of other congressmen as the clues led him into their home districts has been viewed with alarm. Mr. Hoffman, like Joe McCarthy, was too active and too successful for the comfort and political security of others in Congress. So now he has been handcuffed, hobbled and gagged by his colleagues, including other Republicans who are too lazy to work just one summer anywhere near as hard as he has worked for years and who realize that if he should go belling into their home districts he might catch them in flagrant relations with his quarry.

George Bender, a Taft Republican from Ohio, said Hoffman was crotchety and temperish and always wanted his own way. That is a fair description. Even with reporters, unlike many other statesmen on the hill, he makes no effort to be winsome. Publicity for its own sake or flattery for his scrapbook is beneath his notice. It seems as though, being nearly 78, although he is spry both mentally and physically, he has realized that he has too little time left to do all the good for his country that he has set himself to do.

Mr. Bender has had some experience with Mr. Hoffman's dogged inquisitiveness. Hoffman caught a fellow on the payroll of a congressional committee who was even then in the employ of a company which the committee was investigating. The case led right into Bender's district and, only in the nick of time, Bender saw to it that the man refrained from cashing the checks for his government pay. Such a crotchety, temperish and absolutely unswervable old man as Hoffman could make things damned embarrassing, if allowed to go poking into other people's districts in the off-season. Not that there was anything crooked here, of course. Mr. Hoffman made no such charge but he did admonish Bender on the appearance of evil.

In Kansas City, Hoffman uncovered a frightful reign of terror over not only industry, including "projects" of the government involving mountainous sums of the taxpayers' money, but brutal intimidation of other unions by the local teamsters and, to a lesser extent, by the Common Laborers' Union.

The teamsters, and especially Dave Beck, of Seattle, the regent appointed by Dan Tobin, the retiring grand exalted fathead of this monstrous force, have been glamorized for more than a year in some of the most wanton corrupt journalism in the history of our press. With untold millions to spend for any purpose that the ruling high-binders deem suitable for the purposes of the union, the teamsters' has been presented as a new concept in "progressive" unionism. Beck has been depicted as a "labor statesman" of superior quality. This propaganda has gone forth from a few obvious outlets of pro-union publicity in the east to papers all over the country which are on warning but nevertheless have lent themselves to a massive deception of a public which has not yet learned to read the papers with a reasonable skepticism.

The Common Laborers', the fabulous racket of Joe Moreschi and other notorious racketeers, was exposed as such over a course of years starting ten years ago. It never has made the slightest pretense of reform because it didn't have to. In the Kansas City hearings, with Hoffman in charge as chairman of a subcommittee of the House Committee on Government Operations, extortion and anarchy were disclosed as violent and brazen as the worst depredations of the CIO and AF of L in the wild insurrections under Roosevelt's patronage in the "organizing" days of 1937.

It should be stated for the understanding of the reader that a number of other congressmen took an honest, aggressive part in these hearings in Kansas City and elsewhere. But the point of this introductory discussion which, I am afraid, must lead to an entire new expose of the menace of unionism to legal government and popular freedom, is that Clare Hoffman's individual zeal and success brought down a cloture from the Republican bosses in the Lower House. In Detroit, Hoffman uncovered an insurance racket run by the Teamsters' local authorities, including one notorious racketeer and ex-convict operating under Beck's high authority, whereby countless workers drawing low pay had to pay $5 a week for immunity from slugging or worse. In another phase of the same underworld system the union agents actually sold business firms "insurance" against strikes.

Mr. Hoffman is depressed almost to the point of heart-break by this jealous and arbitrary ter-

KNOWLAND FACES STIFF TEST

No one need envy too much the new permanent Senate Majority Leader, Republican William F. Knowland of California. He has his work cut out for him.

So long as Senator Taft was alive, Knowland was invested with something of the Ohioan's great personal authority when he spoke as leader. That large, comforting assurance is gone now, and Knowland is on his own.

Ahead of him next year, a critical election season in which GOP control of the Senate will be on the block, are such crusty problems as tax reduction, a new farm program, postal rate increases, a new foreign trade policy covering tariffs, extension of social security, possible Taft-Hartley revision, statehood for Hawaii, and a possible Korean peace treaty.

All these issues were deferred in 1953. Yet it took every bit of Taft's parliamentary skill and influence to get key parts of the President's relatively modest initial program past the Senate.

There were many reasons why. Every one of them might obtain in 1954 as it did this time. First, Republican control is razor-thin. Even assuming perfect accord on the issues, nearly 100 per cent attendance would be needed to keep command at all times.

But in practice, the GOP never had accord, any more than the Democrats before them. Right-wing Republicans showed no more sympathy for the President's programs than for those of his Democratic predecessors. By tremendous effort, Taft managed to pull some of them into the camp now and then, but seldom if ever did he get them all.

Consequently, the administration was dependent on Democratic votes to get important bills through. Since in 1954 the issues will be tougher and the intra-party tensions perhaps greater, that dependence may actually be increased when Congress returns. Knowland took note of the prospect by bowing acknowledgment to the Democrats when he assumed his permanent leadership post.

Lastly, President Eisenhower applied a theory of presidential power which tended to leave Congress largely to its own devices. He allowed himself to be, in effect, a congressman's idea of a President. Inevitably this greatly enlarged Taft's difficulties; factional strife intensified without White House leverage to minimize it. Only reluctantly, and then sometimes at great cost, did Mr. Eisenhower use the authority at his command.

In the new situation, the President may feel compelled to exercise this huge power more frequently and more tellingly. He may do this personally, or through some agent wise in the ways of politics and legislatures.

But whether he does or not, the majority leadership now and in 1954 is sure to provide a stiff test of Senator Knowland's capacity for growth, for accommodation to a wide range of viewpoints, for dealing with the opposition, for sheer output of energy.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Recently the President met with representatives of the newspaper, insurance and transportation industries to plan a national highway safety campaign which will begin either late this year or early next year. It is hoped that such a campaign can result in the saving of 17,000 lives and $1,250,000,000.

The campaign will begin with a conference of from 2,000 to 3,000 community representatives at a conference in Washington. The exact nature of the campaign was not disclosed although it is likely that an educational program will play a big part in it.

President Eisenhower said that he was tired of having three and four times as many people killed on our highways as died annually in the fighting in Korea. He said that whenever a coordinated effort is made to reduce the number of accidents, the accident trend drops sharply.

Anything that can be done to reduce the number of accidents is commendable. The national conference of community representatives to meet and exchange ideas may accomplish a great deal of good. Our high accident toll is deplorable and represents a loss in lives and money that staggers the imagination. As the President pointed out this is the result of our own folly and indifference. We cannot afford this kind of indifference and folly much longer.

'These Days'

A USEFUL GRANT

The Rockefeller Foundation has announced that it has voted a grant of $200,000 to the New York City Center of Music and Drama. This is a valuable cultural aid, supporting an institution that needs to be preserved because it gives to young Americans an opportunity to develop themselves in the arts of expression. Unlike nearly all European countries, the United States provides few opportunities for young artists in all the arts to go through a period of apprenticeship under great masters. It is for this reason that so many talented young people are forced to go to Europe for their training.

It is a curious commentary upon our way of thinking that at a time when we are pouring billions of dollars into foreign countries for the preservation of their cultures, we are permitting our own cultural institutions to decay for lack of funds. Few museums are safe today. There are no longer any Carnegies or Fricks or Otto Kahns available to assist our art museums and libraries. There are no Vanderbilts to come to the support of the Metropolitan Opera. Every privately-endowed college and university is worried about its finances and some are frightened by the prospect. A completely integrated university, maintaining all departments of learning and providing time and facilities for research by its faculty, cannot live on student fees.

The New York City Center is a particularly noteworthy institution because it gives young Americans a chance. It is a feeder for the Metropolitan Opera as minor league baseball teams are feeders for the major league teams. It is at this place that such new operas as Menotti's are tried out, just as at Tanglewood, Copeland, Bernstein, Foss and other young Americans can have their compositions played by such a fine orchestra as the Boston Symphony.

Yet, the Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood is running in the red and will have to find some way of making a public appeal. It may be difficult to arrange for public subscriptions for such an institution because, unless one actually sees what is being done for young Americans here, it is impossible to realize how much those who expect to make music their careers can accomplish here during the short summer session when they have the opportunity of association with the greatest men in their respective fields. It is an apprenticeship opportunity on the best European standards.

From every standpoint, it would be preferable if our universities, museums, orchestras, schools and other voluntary institutions were continued to be supported by donations from the people as they always have been in American life. Yet, it does come to mind that when billions of dollars, provided by the American taxpayer, are being used to support cultural activities in Europe and Asia, why are our own institutions being permitted to wither on the vine? We finance UNESCO, Point Four, International Students Exchange, libraries and all sorts of activities in the foreign cultural field.

A new committee of Congress has been appointed, under the chairmanship of Representative Carroll Reece, to investigate the general activities of private Foundations. A similar committee, under the chairmanship of Eugene Cox, had begun to look into this subject, but Cox died and the committee's work was abortive. There is no secrecy about the work of any of the Foundations because they issue reports. The committee's activities therefore will be to analyze these reports in detail and to try to find a pattern of expenditures. While, in these days, emphasis will be laid on subversives, if any, who gain an advantage, which they ought not to have, the taxpayer would be interested in an analysis of the relationship between expenditures within the United States and abroad.

It would be an error to jump to conclusions on this subject without all the data being carefully studied. It may be found that the Foundations meet all the criticisms levelled at them; it may be that they are assuming that as they control the money, they are entitled to follow their own judgment. Yet, the fact is that the Foundations are relieved of taxes on the single assumption that their expenditures will be in the public interest. Whatever the outcome, the Reece Committee intends to produce the facts, to analyze them and to make recommendations to Congress for legislation on the subject.

That Body of Yours

THE CONTROL OF PAIN

Physicians agree that the commonest symptom, the symptom that causes most patients to consult the physician, is pain. Pain must be stopped at any cost. In many cases the patient wants a pain-killing drug at once, whereas the physician would like to discover the cause of the pain before giving a drug which may hide or mask the cause.

Of course, when the pain is caused by injury or cancer, the pain-killing drug is prescribed at once.

In "today's Health," published by the American Medical Association, Drs. Henry G. Schwartz and James L. O'Leary, Washington University School of Medicine, state:

"To halt chronic, incessant pain, as from cancer, surgeons can cut into the spinal cord, just deep enough to sever the nerve lines carrying pain signals to the brain." The severing of the nerve lines doesn't interfere with movement or control of the pain-ridden leg, arm or other part of the body. They find that the nerve lines which carry prickling pain and the lines carrying burning pain concide at a point in the spinal cord. So they can operate under local anesthetic, with the patient conscious, and prick the person's leg, for example, with a pin as they cut into the spinal cord. "When the patient no longer can feel the pin pricks it also means that he will no longer feel the burning pain in the leg which is causing his agony."

Prickling pain travels along nerves at a speed of about 30 yards a second, while burning pain is telegraphed at only two yards a second.

From the above we can understand how the patient must make the choice of taking a strong pain-killing drug or undergoing the operation of cutting he nerve lines carrying the pain signals to the brain.

In favor of the nerve-cutting operation is the fact that it is done under a local anesthetic with the patient fully conscious and absolutely free from pain, as pricking the skin with a pin keep patient and surgeon aware of the progress of the operation.

For those who dislike or fear operation, the use of a pain-killing drug is employed; some of the newer drugs do not cause formation of the drug habit or severe, depressing after effects.

The fact that cutting the nerve line is done under a local anesthetic with no pain felt during or after the operation, and the use of pain-killing drugs leaving depression of spirits, would seem to influence the patient toward operation with no further treatment necessary to control pain.

Powerful Blow to the Breadbasket

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The methods by which Republican congressmen prevented Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield from getting his proposed $240 million postal-rate increase provides another good case history on how things get done and undone in Washington.

The result of this action, killing the rate increases, is that the Post Office Department will operate with a deficit of about $300 million in the coming year. If the rate increase had gone through, the deficit would still have been about $60 million.

Even if Congress corrects this action early next January—which is still doubtful—the rate increases can't be put into effect before, say, next April 1. This deliberate congressional delay will cost the taxpayers over $100 million.

It was a complete job of congressional sabotage that accomplished this result. In the House, the attack was led by representatives of small business. In the Senate, bigger business interests took over. But both groups claimed postage-rate increases would put many firms out of business.

Summerfield Cited High Cost

Postmaster General Summerfield did not propose to make up all of this deficit by a rate increase. He proposed that the rates on second-class mail be increased only 9 per cent of the $232-million deficit, to bring in another $20 million.

Religious, educational, scientific, philanthropic, agricultural, labor, veterans' and professional nonprofit organizations and their publications would have been exempted. Also, "free in county" newspaper mail delivery would be continued. The subsidy, or deficit, for handling other second-class mail would have been left at $212 million.

In pitching his appeal for this increase, Mr. Summerfield pointed out that in the last 20 years the costs of postal operation had gone up 98 per cent. In the same period, there had been no increase in first-class mail rates. Second-class mail rates had actually been reduced 6 per cent. Third-class rates had been upped 38 per cent.

Also, there were 17 bills pending in Congress to raise the pay scales of postal employes by $500 million a year. And the railroads were demanding a 45 per cent increase in their pay for hauling the mail. This would cost the government another $143 million.

None of these arguments did any good.

In the House, the fight was led by Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa and Rep. Harold C. Hagen of Minnesota. Congressman Gross had been in the newspaper business from 1921 to 1935, when he switched to radio. Congressman Hagen still lists himself as editor of a Norwegian language newspaper, Vesterheimen.

Senator Carlson Opposed Increases

Chairman Edward H. Reese (R-Kan.) of the House Post Office Committee, supported the rate increases. But on this he differed sharply with his fellow Kansan, Sen. Frank Carlson, chairman of the Senate's Post Office Committee.

Last April, Chairman Carlson had formed a Citizens' Advisory Council for his committee, just to study the postal-rate matter. The committee was made up largely of big mail users who stood to profit most by continued low rates.

It included Walter D. Fuller, chairman of the board of Curtis Publishing Co., John E. Tillotson of Kansas City, a director of the Associated Third-Class Mail Users, and Edward B. Rubin of Chicago, vice president of Spiegel, Inc., who had sued the Post Office Department on the rate-increase question.

The committee was given $100,000 of government money to investigate the issue, although it had already been pretty well investigated by the Post Office Department. Anyway, under the excuse that the advisory council had not had time to complete its study and would not be ready to report until next January, the Senate refused to act on the increase this year.

The prospect is that if postal wage increases and payments to the railroads are increased, without any increase in postal rates, the Post Office Department deficit next year will be a full one billion dollars.

Costello Manages Central Office

At the regular meeting of the directors of the Home-Seekers' Savings and Loan Association held last evening, William D. Costello was designated as manager of the central Broadway office located at 628 Broadway.

Costello has been with the association since 1938 and served in various capacities until the fall of 1949 when he was appointed assistant secretary upon the resignation of Charles J. Turk. Upon the opening of the central Broadway office on October 18, 1951, Mr. Costello was transferred to the new office and has spent most of his time there since.

Costello is a member of the Wiltwyck Golf Club, president of the Southeastern League of Savings and Loan Associations and a governor of the Capital District Chapter of the American Savings and Loan Institute. He has been a member of the class in courses offered by the institute in Kingston and received the highest rating in the course on personal money management. He is also a veteran of World War 2, serving four and one half years in the Signal Corps.

Costello is now active making plans for the second anniversary of the central Broadway office which will take place in October. Details will be announced in about a month.

Malenkov Speech Shows Soviets Get Comfort From 'Free World' Dissension

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 11 — Malenkov's speech is an uncensored version of what the top leaders in the Soviet are thinking and saying to themselves about the western world.

Hence it is significant that the Soviet dictator should be boasting that "one of the decisive advantages" of the Communist bloc in the world situation today "and its basic difference from the Imperialist camp lies in the fact that it is not rent by internal contradictions and strife."

The Soviet leaders have only to read the American press dispatches from around the world in these critical times to get a good deal of comfort out of the dissension among the governments of the so-called "free world."

Just last Saturday, for example, the United Press sent a bulletin over its wires at 4:30 p. m. declaring that the 16 United Nations members which had fought the Communist aggression in Korea "warned the Reds that they probably would have to carry the war into China itself if the Communists break the armistice."

This sounded like tought language and an evidence of allied unity—something that might be calculated to make the Reds think twice about violating the armistice and to give Red China in particular a cause for concern.

But exactly two hours later, over the same United Press wires, came a dispatch from London telling the Reds, in effect, not to worry about that United Nations warning. Here is how the London dispatch began:

"A foreign office spokesman said tonight that, in Britain's opinion, the United Nations threat to carry the war to the enemy if the Korean truce is violated doesn't imply any advance commitments to any precise course of action."

Whatever spirit of resoluteness there was in the allied warning from the United Nations headquarters in New York was thus deflated promptly. The London Foreign Office went on to say:

"When the text to the declaration (the 16-member warning) was under discussion, her majesty's government was careful to make it clear that, in their view, decisions which might have grave consequences should be taken only at the time and in full knowledge of the circumstances."

Did anybody think for a moment that her Majesty's government would ever make any decisions without "full knowledge of the circumstances" existing at the time a grave decision was being made?Then what was the purpose of the palpable effort to play down and minimize the solemn warning issued at New York in behalf of the 16 nations which had been doing the fighting in Korea?

If this were the first time the foreign office in London contradicted a firm warning issued in its behalf somewhere else in the world, it would be understandable. But the British Foreign Office evidently doesn't hesitate to throw down even the statements made by Prime Minister Churchill when he isn't in London—as happened when he assured the American Congress of Britain's intent to stand with her allies in the event that aggression were renewed in the Far East.

It is inexplicable why, in the midst of delicate situations, the British Foreign Office should always interject itself in a way that must necessarily weaken the hand of the allies as against the Communists and, in effect, tell the Communists not to pay any attention to strong words that may be issued—that they really don't mean what they seem to mean.

Another example of bungling is to be noted in a dispatch from London on Monday of this week announcing that "Britain has formally put the U. S. on notice" that she will press for Red China's admission to the United Nations if the Korean peace conference is a success.

Then an outline is given of what the British would consider a "success"—namely, a pledge by the Communists for "free elections" in Korea after a three-to five-year "neutralization" period.

This is a strange way to start out a negotiation—by telegraphing the enemy that the attitude of a principal ally, the United States, in opposing Red China's admission to the UN is really of no consequence. Maybe the British officials haven't discovered the facts of international life as Congress sees it. Congress is on record as being ready to withdraw from the UN when Red China goes in.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Aug. 10—Congressman Clare E. Hoffman is, in my informed opinion, and, on his record, a superior public servant, diligent in pursuing criminals and authorized tyrants operating under the charters and special privileges which the New Deal conferred on unions and on its parasitic political adherents. He is a Republican, representing the Fourth Michigan District. He is almost 78 years old, lean, little, aggressive and driven by an unflagging fury against the degeneration of this republic, and the theft and waste of the taxes which the people have to pay. He has traveled for months in the most oppressive weather to some of the least inviting places in the country from the standpoint of an old man who might reasonably take thought of his comfort and health, living in cheerless hotel rooms and hounding racketeers and regional satraps of the reigning corruption established by the late Roosevelt and his machine.

While many of his colleagues, including other Republicans, have preferred luxurious journeys by air at government expense to interesting areas overseas from which they returned home heavy with treasure with only their own conscientious scruples to guide them at customs, Mr. Hoffman has fought it out in gritty hearing rooms in Kansas City, Omaha, Chicago, St. Paul and Detroit, often sitting as a one-man subcommittee. Now he has been "cut down to size" as Charlie Halleck put it. Halleck is a tired, discouraged, Indiana Republican of the Eisenhower machine. Mr. Hoffman's indifference to state boundaries and the local interests of other congressmen as the clues led him into their home districts has been viewed with alarm. Mr. Hoffman, like Joe McCarthy, was too active and too successful for the comfort and political security of others in Congress. So now he has been handcuffed, hobbled and gagged by his colleagues, including other Republicans who are too lazy to work just one summer anywhere near as hard as he has worked for years and who realize that if he should go belling into their home districts he might catch them in flagrant relations with his quarry.

George Bender, a Taft Republican from Ohio, said Hoffman was crotchety and temperish and always wanted his own way. That is a fair description. Even with reporters, unlike many other statesmen on the hill, he makes no effort to be winsome. Publicity for its own sake or flattery for his scrapbook is beneath his notice. It seems as though, being nearly 78, although he is spry both mentally and physically, he has realized that he has too little time left to do all the good for his country that he has set himself to do.

Mr. Bender has had some experience with Mr. Hoffman's dogged inquisitiveness. Hoffman caught a fellow on the payroll of a congressional committee who was even then in the employ of a company which the committee was investigating. The case led right into Bender's district and, only in the nick of time, Bender saw to it that the man refrained from cashing the checks for his government pay. Such a crotchety, temperish and absolutely unswervable old man as Hoffman could make things damned embarrassing, if allowed to go poking into other people's districts in the off-season. Not that there was anything crooked here, of course. Mr. Hoffman made no such charge but he did admonish Bender on the appearance of evil.

In Kansas City, Hoffman uncovered a frightful reign of terror over not only industry, including "projects" of the government involving mountainous sums of the taxpayers' money, but brutal intimidation of other unions by the local teamsters and, to a lesser extent, by the Common Laborers' Union.

The teamsters, and especially Dave Beck, of Seattle, the regent appointed by Dan Tobin, the retiring grand exalted fathead of this monstrous force, have been glamorized for more than a year in some of the most wanton corrupt journalism in the history of our press. With untold millions to spend for any purpose that the ruling high-binders deem suitable for the purposes of the union, the teamsters' has been presented as a new concept in "progressive" unionism. Beck has been depicted as a "labor statesman" of superior quality. This propaganda has gone forth from a few obvious outlets of pro-union publicity in the east to papers all over the country which are on warning but nevertheless have lent themselves to a massive deception of a public which has not yet learned to read the papers with a reasonable skepticism.

The Common Laborers', the fabulous racket of Joe Moreschi and other notorious racketeers, was exposed as such over a course of years starting ten years ago. It never has made the slightest pretense of reform because it didn't have to. In the Kansas City hearings, with Hoffman in charge as chairman of a subcommittee of the House Committee on Government Operations, extortion and anarchy were disclosed as violent and brazen as the worst depredations of the CIO and AF of L in the wild insurrections under Roosevelt's patronage in the "organizing" days of 1937.

It should be stated for the understanding of the reader that a number of other congressmen took an honest, aggressive part in these hearings in Kansas City and elsewhere. But the point of this introductory discussion which, I am afraid, must lead to an entire new expose of the menace of unionism to legal government and popular freedom, is that Clare Hoffman's individual zeal and success brought down a cloture from the Republican bosses in the Lower House. In Detroit, Hoffman uncovered an insurance racket run by the Teamsters' local authorities, including one notorious racketeer and ex-convict operating under Beck's high authority, whereby countless workers drawing low pay had to pay $5 a week for immunity from slugging or worse. In another phase of the same underworld system the union agents actually sold business firms "insurance" against strikes.

Mr. Hoffman is depressed almost to the point of heart-break by this jealous and arbitrary ter-

Riding Club Field Day Games Are Listed

Woodstock, August 10 — The annual fall field day of the Woodstock Riding Club, Inc., to be held this year on Sunday, Sept. 20, will feature familiar informal games as well as two inovations. There will be a doughnut spearing contest and an exciting game of polo croquet. Since the members of the club are fairly certain that no one knows anything about either of these two new games, they should provide a lot of fun and excitement for both spectators and participants, according to the field day committee.

In the doughnut spearing contest, each rider will be equipped with a long spear reminiscent of those used in medieval jousts and they will attack large doughnuts. For the polo croquet, three large wickets will be set up and the players will be required to knock the balls through the wickets with polo mallets. The games will be worked on a scoring basis and anyone willing to try them is welcome to enter.

The field day will also schedule some conventional classes such as the stock class, bare back jumping, road hack and others, but the general prevailing spirit of the day will be that of "fun on horseback."

The entry blanks and the program for the event are now being prepared by the committee. Most of the classes will be inexpensive to enter. An attractive assortment of ribbons and trophies are now being secured by the club in preparation for the event.

Committees Listed To Hold Blind Sale

Woodstock, August 10 — The following committees will be in charge of the annual Woodstock sale for the blind to be held on Tuesday, Aug. 18, on the Lutheran Church lawn on Mill Hill Road from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Dutch Reformed Church — Mrs. LaMonte V. Simpkins, chairman, Mmes. Earl Snyder, Maude Stratton, Alice Freer, William Mower; Methodist Church — Miss Linda Sahler, chairman, Mmes. Lee Brinkman, Emily Harrington, Effie Happy, Lewis Reynolds; Lutheran Church — Mrs. Olney E. Cook, chairman, Mmes. John Wolven, Lloyd Gibson, Olga Randall, Miss Florence Peper; St. Joan of Arc Chapel — Miss Maude Shelton, chairman, Mmes. Irving Davis, Joseph Cosgrove, Miss Marguerite Grahame; Episcopal — Mrs. Helen Jackson, chairman, Mrs. Margaret Kenyon; American Legion Auxiliary—Mrs. Clarence Snyder, chairman, Mmes. Erwin Holumzer, Fennell Franckling, Henry Grazier.

Mrs. John Wolven is general chairman of the Woodstock sale. In the event of rain, the sale will be held under the church sheds.

Library Fair Raises $7,198, Board Says

Woodstock, Aug. 10—The treasurer's report on the annual Library Fair held Thursday, July 30, has been released by the board of trustees. The net fair income after expenses of $667.39 were paid, was $7,198.25.

Exhibition by Sloan Pleasing, Tranquil

Woodstock, Aug. 10—In a pleasant and tranquil vein, the exhibition of paintings and crayon portraits by Allan Sloan now on view at the Town House, offer a welcome interlude in summer art exhibitions. Most of the landscapes are of familiar Woodstock scenes as in the cold silence of a late winter afternoon in the view of a house, fields and mountains titled IV Below and in the placid pool, Before Easter. Early Fall is pictured in the carefully delineated farm tones of the season, and Between Showers presents a typical feathery spring landscape. More in the rugged style is his rich western landscape, Cahuenga Pass.

In his still lifes Sloan is meticulous in the detailed handling of silver and pottery and there is brilliance and charm in Delphinium. His portraits range from the delicate crayon drawings of children to the amusing oil study of a boy with a horn, Blue Note, and the solid Portrait in the Woods.

The exhibition opened last Friday afternoon with a reception and will continue through August 20.

Exhibition Features Art of Recent Period

Woodstock, Aug. 10—The new exhibition which will open at the Woodstock Art Gallery by the Woodstock Artists Association on Saturday afternoon will be composed of recent work by the artists. All of the paintings in the exhibition have been done within the last two years.

The Reality Program Announced for Friday

Woodstock, Aug. 10—The gallery evening, sponsored by the Woodstock Artists Association, to be held Friday at the gallery at 8:30 p. m., has been announced as The Reality Program. A panel discussion will take place with Dr. Susan Langer as the moderator. Dr. Langer is the author of Philosophy in a New Key, and she was also one of the speakers at the Art Conference held in Woodstock last year. On the panel, speaking for the pro-reality will be the noted artists, Louis Bouche and Anton Refregier. On the opposing side will be Ralph Wickiser and another speaker to be announced later.

To Place Sketches By Pike at Theatre

Woodstock, August 10—An exhibition of preliminary black and white sketches by John Pike, which he has made in preparation for watercolor paintings, will go on exhibition in the lobby of the Woodstock Playhouse at the opening of the play Accent on Youth Tuesday evening. There will be between 30 and 40 sketches of all types in the show, which Pike has made in this vicinity, in North Carolina and Korea. The show, which was arranged by Jerry Jerominek, will be on view for two weeks.

EXCLUSIVE DISTRIBUTORS AMERICAN SEAL "PRESSURKOTE"

We are the sole and only authorized exclusive distributor for Pressurkote in Ulster and Dutchess Counties. Pressurkote is an exclusive product of American Seal Paint Mfg. Co. of Troy, N. Y.

What Is PRESSURKOTE?

Pressurkote is up to twenty times thicker than paint. It outlasts paint by years and years. . . . It is not brushed or nailed. . . . It is pressure-fused to walls, bonds perfectly to any surface, assuring maximum protection and durability.

Highly specialized equipment, operated by trained mechanics, is required. For your own protection, Pressurkote is sold on an installed basis only.

It preserves every architectural contour, every original surface design, on wood, brick masonry. At the same time, Pressurkote conceals and covers unsightly imperfections and discolorations with a velvety, pliable, textured finish.

Its unique ingredients, Mica and Asbestos assure positive resistance to water infiltration. Insulating qualities of asbestos and mica minimize thermal transmission. Titanium pigments resist fading. Chemical mildewcide fights fungus and mildew. Pressurkote costs less! A decade of protection and beauty without recurring maintenance costs. Pressurkote installations may be financed, with up to three years to pay.

What PRESSURKOTE Does—

- Beautifies your home! Ten clear-toned colors plus brilliant white. Velvety textured finish.
- Resists every kind of weather; unaffected by extremes of heat and cold.
- Moisture can't hurt it! Special anti-fungus and anti-mildew ingredients!
- Expands and contracts with wall. Never chips, cracks, peels, or blisters! Fire-Resistant!
- Preserves architectural form of home! Pliable protective layer brings real beauty out!
- Increases value of your home, greater re-sale value.
- Great insulation value! Reduces fuel costs!
- Perfect color uniformity. No streaks, no brush marks, no shaded areas.
- Unaffected by acids and alkalis.
- Reduces yearly maintenance cost! A decade of dependable beauty and protection.
- PRESSURKOTE preserves, protects, beautifies. Puts new life into old walls!

About the Manufacture of "PRESSURKOTE"

American Seal products have been continuously produced in Troy, N. Y., since 1852—over 100 years.

The American Seal reputation for quality, reliability and performance has been maintained throughout those 100 years.

American Seal products have been sold throughout the United States, in Europe, and as far away as the Philippine Islands.

All of the knowledge gained in 100 years of progressive manufacturing experience is embodied in the know-how inevitably associated with the American Seal name.

There is no substitute for this experience and no short-cut to the quality this experience assures.

100 Years of experience assures product reliability. American Seal is a name you can depend on.

A gentleman was much surprised when the good-looking young lady greeted him by saying, "Good evening." He could not remember ever having seen her before.

She evidently realized that she had made a mistake, for she apologized, and explained:

"Oh, I'm so sorry. When I first saw you I thought you were the father of two of my children."

She walked on while the man stared after her. She did not realize, of course, that he was unaware of the fact that she was a school teacher.

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, Aug. 10—Members of the Onteora Hose Company have set aside each Tuesday and Thursday night for work on the new firehouse. Flood lights have been set up so that the volunteer firemen can work after dark.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Woodruff of Scottsburg, Ind., visited Mrs. Francis Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Reese Smith, Jr., last week. Mrs. Woodruff is the former Gussie Lane. The Woodruffs drove to Catskill on Thursday after they had been notified that Mr. Woodruff's oldest sister had been slightly injured in an automobile accident there.

Cpl. Robert Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Klein, of the Brookside House, has been stationed in Korea with the army for the past several months. He recently wrote his parents that, due to the elimination of the point system, he probably would not be home before next March.

The Community Association of Mount Tremper and Mount Pleasant, Inc. met in the former schoolhouse Thursday night. A committee was appointed to construct book shelves for the free lending library the association is planning to open in the building. Although many donations of books have been received, the drive is still on for literature.

The newspaper staff of the Onteora P-TA will meet in the Onteora Central School Thursday, August 13 at 8 p. m.

The CYO baseball team will participate in a donkey baseball game with the Lanesville team Tuesday night, Aug. 11. The players will attempt to play the game while mounted on live donkeys. The game will be played under floodlights at the Lanesville field.

Mrs. Louise Abel spent Thursday shopping in Kingston.

AMERICAN MENU

July Is Carolina Peach Time

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS VOLUNTEER to sort peaches harvested during July. Peaches are picked and chilled to 45 degrees.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

More than 3,000,000 bushel baskets of fresh peaches started rolling to markets all over the United States on July 20 from Spartanburg, S. C. We went down to see how the growers handled the delicate "queen of fruits" to get it to the American table in tree-fresh condition.

We watched high school boys and girls cull, defuzz, grade and size and then chill down the peaches to 45 deg. from the orchard temperature of 90 deg. in an ice water shower before they were shipped in refrigerated freight cars and trucks.

When we asked for some local recipes they gave us "Spartanburg Secrets" a 127 page book of recipes compiled by the Junior Charity League of Spartanburg. The money goes to local charity projects.

Mrs. James F. Byrnes, wife of the governor, contributed this recipe:

Shrimp Pie

Two cups cooked shrimp, 3 slices bread cut in cubes, 1 cup milk, 3 eggs well beaten, 2 tablespoons melted butter, salt and pepper to season well, 1 cup chopped green pepper and celery mixed.

Soak bread in milk and mash with fork. Add shrimp, butter, seasonings and other ingredients. Turn into a buttered casserole and bake in moderately hot oven about 20 minutes.

The shrimp pie could be served with fluffy rice, buttered green beans, hot rolls, sliced tomatoes and chopped green onions, sliced Elberta peaches, cream, lemon sponge cake.

Velasco Hails U. S. Stand on Soviets

Quito, Ecuador, Aug. 11 (AP)—Ecuador's president has hailed the United States as an "efficient dam against Soviet totalitarianism."

In a 23,000 word "State of the Union" message yesterday, President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra also defended his regime against charges of dictatorship made following his closure of two Guayaquil newspapers last April. He said the papers had violated constitutional prohibitions against "injury, personal insult, immorality or articles contrary to the national interests."

Declaring the United States "professes democracy and respect to the rights of man and the citizen," Velasco said geography and the same political doctrines "place us closer to the United States. . . . Thus we are loyal to Pan-Americanism."

The rest of the message was devoted to a review of his administration since he became president last Sept. 1.

Weeks Says Taxes Hit Small Business

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks says the whole system of federal excise taxation is "antiquated and cock-eyed and in particular soaks small business."

Weeks, speaking last night to the National Retail Jewelers Association, said the system requires a thorough overhauling and that the administration is hard at work on the project.

Delicious luncheon salad: Stuffed hard-cooked egg halves on a bed of shredded green cabbage. Accompany the salad with Russian dressing made by mixing mayonnaise with finely diced green pepper, olives, celery and scallions.

Growing thyme in your garden? Add a pinch or two to a fish or vegetable chowder.

Issues Not Settled

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Direct negotiations between representatives of 750 electrical, mechanical and chemical engineers and the Arma Corporation, now being struck by 4,600 employes at its Brooklyn and Garden City plants, failed to settle contract dispute issues yesterday, a federal mediator said. Negotiators for the company and the Engineering Association of Arma (Ind.) met at offices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, but without mediators present at the parties' request. Both sides will meet again at the call of the Mediation Service.

Mexican Paper Reports Divorce For Mrs. O'Dwyer

Mexico City, Aug. 11 (AP)—Sloan Simpson O'Dwyer was reported today to have obtained a Mexican civil divorce from the former New York cop who quit the mayor's chair in the world's largest city to become U. S. ambassador to Mexico.

The Newspaper Excelsior in a copyrighted story said court records at Cuernavaca, resort town 45 miles south of the Mexican capital, showed the 36-year-old former model filed suit there Feb. 18 and was granted a divorce from 62-year-old William O'Dwyer June 3. Excelsior said she charged mental cruelty.

O'Dwyer, who quit his ambassador post after President Eisenhower's election and opened a law office here, would neither confirm nor deny the report.

"Our marital affairs are in the hands of the Catholic church," he said early today in a voice choked with emotion.

Mrs. O'Dwyer is now in Spain and could not be reached immediately for comment.

Impossible From Start

According to the report from Cuernavaca, she said in her divorce testimony: "From the beginning we knew that our marriage was impossible. The irascible character of my husband, which in time led to almost continual threats and insults, is the cause of all our trouble."

O'Dwyer reportedly was notified of the proceedings, replied he was "not in accord with the proceedings of my wife," but was not on record as having fought the suit.

The O'Dwyer's announced last January that the Catholic Church had granted them permission for a temporary separation. Later the archbishop of Mexico, Msgr. Luis Maria Martinez, said an annulment was being sought.

Most Popular Couple

The couple married in 1949, while he still was mayor of New York. They came to Mexico in November, 1950, and quickly established themselves as one of the most popular couples ever to occupy the embassy.

O'Dwyer's tenure as ambassador was accompanied, however, by congressional investigations in New York which were followed by widespread charges of irregularities during his regime and criminal convictions of some of his employes.

Rumors of a rift between the couple began to circulate in 1952. They made their last public appearance together Dec. 11 at a farewell party given for the retiring ambassador.

Mrs. O'Dwyer later denied rumors she was planning another marriage. O'Dwyer apparently has decided to remain in Mexico, though he recently told a reporter he planned to spend as much time in the United States as Mexican residence regulations allow.

Mrs. ODwyer reportedly has intimated she would like to get into television work in the United States.

Of the people in the United States who marry after the age of 60, nine-tenths have been married before.

Pentagon Rushes Identification of Americans on List

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Pentagon is speeding the identification of Americans on the list of 1,050 non-Korean captives reported by the Reds to have died in Communist prison camps.

The list, supplied in accordance with the armistice terms, reached Washington over the weekend.

But the Defense Department said public identification will be withheld—and even the total number of Americans listed—until exhaustive checks have been completed and all families of the men notified.

Red China's Peiping radio station reported last night that 1,050 non-Koreans had died in captivity. It also said the United Nations command had reported 8,440 Communist prisoners who had died while in the UN hands.

Even if all of the dead prisoners reported by the Reds were Americans, which is highly unlikely, the number falls far short of the 8,705 U. S. servicemen listed by the Pentagon as missing in action.

Soldier Claims Reds Bayonetted Stragglers

Freedom Village, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—An American from Bayonne, N. J., said after release from the Communists today that he saw "with his own eyes" Red soldiers bayonet stragglers in a column of captives marching north.

Pfc. Richard W. Gollewski, 20, was captured Feb. 13, 1951, while with the 2nd Division.

"On the march up," he said, "they bayonetted a lot. I saw that with my own eyes. A guy would fall out and a guard would drop back and you'd hear the guy scream.

"A couple of times I was at the end of the column and I saw it myself.

"A lot died of starvation," he said. "You never got anything to eat. Maybe a little rice ball or barley."

Driver Is Injured As Car Crashes Rail

James W. Fennely, 34, of Spring and Vassar roads, Poughkeepsie, was treated at Vassar Hospital for minor injuries received when his car ran off Route 299 into a shallow pond in the village of Highland early today, state police of the Highland station reported.

Troopers said Fennely was traveling east on a curve at 3:45 a. m. when his car went through a guard rail on the north side of the road and ran into about three feet of water in a pond. They reported Fennely received lacerations of the left forearm and possible injuries to his right knee.

Quakes Shake Islands

Athens, Greece, Aug. 11 (AP)—Earthquakes shook the islands of western Greece for the third successive day today, causing heavy damage. One quake early today destroyed all the houses in the village of Samis, on Cephallonia Island. No details of any casualties were given in a message received by the Ministry of the Interior. Tremors were also felt in Patras, one of Greece's largest cities, in the northern Peloponnesus, but no damage or casualties were reported.

Haymes' Attorney Hopes To See Brownell Soon

Los Angeles, Aug. 11 (AP)—Dick Haymes' attorney says he hopes to see Atty. Gen. Brownell here later this week in an effort to prevent the crooner's deportation to his native Argentina.

Haymes and Attorney Robert Eaton canceled a trip to Washington yesterday when they learned the attorney general is coming to Southern California on another matter, the problem of illegal Mexican alien entrants.

The singer was arrested last Thursday as an alien accused of illegal re-entry after a trip to Hawaii to visit actress Rita Hayworth.

An Immigration Department hearing on the case is expected in about 10 days. Haymes is at liberty on $500 bail.

Oversight Admitted

Charlestown, R. I., Aug. 11 (AP)—An admitted oversight by town fathers has made lawbreakers of a number of town businessmen the past 225 years. Town Solicitor James O. Watts told the Town Council last night that no business can stay open on Sunday without a license from the council. Councilmen told Watts the council has never issued a Sunday license to any one, any time.

45 Boys Take Trip To See Yankees

A busload of 45 boys went on the YMCA's Yankee Stadium trip last Friday to see the Yankees play the Chicago White Sox. For some of the youngsters it was the first time they had ever seen a big league ball game. Those who went included Tom Koulos, John Kelly, John Coughlin, Tom Daly, Wilson Wright, Ralph Hutton, John MacDonald, John Cole, Andrew Lord, Dick Treacy, James Ploss, Emery Vassak, Frank Hilton, Harry Mertine, Mark Dean, Gerald Farber, Bob Coughlin, George Dawkins, Paul Krusher, Jim Williams, Charles Adler, Don Krueger, Joe Schrowang, John Culjak, Rudy Hohenburgher, Bob Vertetis, Dick Amato, Francis Fisher, Gardis Tirums, Tom Wisneski, Bob Tellier Bob Dumond, Tom Tellier, Bob Roos, John Woolsey, Ted Feeney, Dave, Don and Barry Buddington, Bob Smith, Dick Marcus, Dick Derrenbacher, Bill Huber, Terry Corkery and Bruce Jansen.

Swim Lessons Continue

Swimming instruction for boys and girls in the Y pool will continue this week. Girls instruction is at 9:15 a. m., Wednesday and Friday and boys instruction is 9:30 a. m., Tuesday and Thursday.

Monday the YMCA boys went on a boat trip up the Hudson River. This is a trip not made too often in the past by the Kingston group. Thursday 10 boys will take an educational tour of the New York Central System's roundhouse accompanied by Henry Eighmey of the Kingston Freeman. Later in the week a baseball game will be held with Camp Alert, Glenford.

WomanTellsPolice She Was Kidnaped, Raped by 3 Men

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—A hysterically sobbing woman factory worker told Bronx detectives last night she had been kidnaped in daylight and held prisoner at knifepoint for 10 hours by three young men, each of whom she said raped her several times.

Talking to the detectives from a bed in Fordham Hospital, where she was being treated for shock, Theresa Gonsalves, 23, of 2031 Webster avenue, the Bronx, said she was pulled into a car at midday yesterday near Claremont Parkway and Park avenue, the Bronx.

Last night, she told the detectives, she was thrown from the car at Claremont Parkway and Webster avenue, about a block away from the kidnaping spot.

Police broadcast an alarm for three unidentified men, charging them with assault, rape, kidnaping and sodomy.

Seized on Way Home

Miss Gonsalves was seized as she left work for her home.

She told detectives that the driver of the car called to her. Not hearing what he had said, she approached the car, and was shown a knife.

She was ordered into the back seat of the sedan with the two other men, and taken to a remote area of the Bronx.

Miss Gonsalves' shocked condition prevented her from giving complete details to the detectives. She was unable to say precisely where the assaults had occurred.

Minutes after she was shoved from the car, passersby found her and notified police.

Reports Called Untrue

Istanbul, Turkey, Aug. 11 (AP)—A U. S. military mission spokesman says Turkish press reports that an American expedition is climbing Mt. Ararat—near the Soviet frontier—are untrue. Turkish newspapers said an expedition led by Col. Edson D. Raff of New York city, head of the U. S. Field Mission to the Turkish Third Army headquarters, has started up the peak-legendary resting place of Noah's Ark. "There is no such expedition and the report is not true," the U. S. mission spokesman declared last night. In the past, the Russians have denounced American expeditions to Mt. Ararat as spying junkets.

Pentagon Rushes Identification of Americans on List

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Pentagon is speeding the identification of Americans on the list of 1,050 non-Korean captives reported by the Reds to have died in Communist prison camps.

The list, supplied in accordance with the armistice terms, reached Washington over the weekend.

But the Defense Department said public identification will be withheld—and even the total number of Americans listed—until exhaustive checks have been completed and all families of the men notified.

Red China's Peiping radio station reported last night that 1,050 non-Koreans had died in captivity. It also said the United Nations command had reported 8,440 Communist prisoners who had died while in the UN hands.

Even if all of the dead prisoners reported by the Reds were Americans, which is highly unlikely, the number falls far short of the 8,705 U. S. servicemen listed by the Pentagon as missing in action.

Soldier Claims Reds Bayonetted Stragglers

Freedom Village, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—An American from Bayonne, N. J., said after release from the Communists today that he saw "with his own eyes" Red soldiers bayonet stragglers in a column of captives marching north.

Pfc. Richard W. Gollewski, 20, was captured Feb. 13, 1951, while with the 2nd Division.

"On the march up," he said, "they bayonetted a lot. I saw that with my own eyes. A guy would fall out and a guard would drop back and you'd hear the guy scream.

"A couple of times I was at the end of the column and I saw it myself.

"A lot died of starvation," he said. "You never got anything to eat. Maybe a little rice ball or barley."

Prospector Held By Quebec Police

Montreal, Aug. 11 (AP)—Provincial police said today that Wilbert Coffin, 37-year-old prospector, is being held for questioning as a material witness in connection with the deaths of three Pennsylvania bear hunters in the Gaspe wilderness.

Police here said Coffin, important witness at an inquest into the gruesome deaths of Eugene Lindsey, 45, his son Richard, 17, and Fred Claar, 20, is being held in Quebec City as a result of evidence uncovered in Montreal last week.

Police declined to say what the evidence was.

Were From Pennsylvania

The three hunters were from Hollidaysburg, Pa.

In Quebec, Solicitor General Antoine Rivard said a coroner's inquest into the deaths of the hunters will be re-opened next week. The delay, he said, is necessary to permit witnesses to be called from the United States and Montreal.

He indicated the inquest will be re-opened in Gaspe where a coroner's jury ruled July 27 that two of the hunters had been murdered and a third had died from unknown causes.

The hunters' remains, stripped clean of flesh by marauding bears, were found scattered through the bush in mid-July, more than a month after they had entered the bush on their hunting expedition. They were believed to have been slain about June 10.

Second Alarm Is Out for Youth, 16

Darien, Conn., Aug. 11 (AP)—A second missing person broadcast in about 24 hours went out yesterday from Darien police who are looking for Richard O. Norvell, 16, of Coral Gables, Fla., and a student at Deanwood School here.

A detective in the Darien police department said the first call was sent out Sunday when a school official reported the boy had disappeared, carrying a portable typewriter. Continued the detective:

The boy was located Sunday night in New York at the 34th street branch of the YMCA from where he telephoned his parents at their Coral Gables home. The boy's parents directed him to telephone the school, a private institution here, and ask that someone from the school pick him up in New York. Acting on the strength of that telephone call, a school official asked the police department to cancel its missing person alarm.

When the school representative reached the YMCA building, the boy had disappeared again.

Returning to Darien, the school official requested the police department to send out another alarm on Monday. It did.

Police said the boy is still missing.

Vanderbilt Wife Asks Public Aid

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., trying to obtain some money from her wealthy globe-trotting husband, applied yesterday for public relief.

The blonde 33-year-old beauty insisted she was destitute except for two pawn tickets on jewelry and a mink coat, and had no place for her or her 11-year-old daughter to lay their heads.

Welfare authorities told her to sell the tickets and come back when she was broke as the other people in line.

Vanderbilt got a Reno divorce from Patricia, his fifth wife last June, but Mrs. Vanderbilt's lawyer maintained it was nothing but a "mailorder" divorce which New York does not recognize.

The couple have been scrapping in the courts for some time with Mrs. Vanderbilt holding non-support warrants against him based on the contention she is about to become a public charge. She also has an appeal pending to reinstate a separation suit which was thrown out on the grounds that technically she is not a New York resident.

She spent last night with friends in a Manhattan hotel, her lawyer Andrew D. Weinberger reported, but "it's only temporary."

Truck Damages Broadway House

A truck operated by John Dellacroce, 44, of 226 Holt Drive, Pearl River, left parked this morning in front of 346 Broadway, rolled into the house of Mrs. Marie A. Wolf, at 340 Broadway and damaged its front.

Police were notified of the mishap at 7:51 a. m., and Officers George Dougherty and Crawford Millham, reported that the truck rolled back, jumped the curb, caved in a section of the front of the house, damaged an iron railing, steps at the entrance, and plaster inside. Mrs. Wolf said the truck crashed through the sun parlor.

The driver was not in the area at the time, and the officers were about to have the truck removed by a wrecker when he arrived and moved it by its own power, the officers said.

The University of Alaska was founded in 1922 at Juneau.

Rosendale

Merchants Lose Two, Schedule Other Games

Rosendale, Aug. 11—The Rosendale Merchants lost two game to the Wallkill Medium Security Prison team, 7 to 2 and 3 to 0. The Rosendale boys showed good form out in the field, but were weak in pitching.

Tuesday evening at Sportsmen's Park field, the Merchants were scheduled to meet the Kingston Ashdown Whips. The two teams were tied up in games won. On Thursday evening, they will play the Mollenhauer team.

Maurice Crookston, who is in charge of the Rosendale Merchants team, announced that on August 23 he will take a group of 30 local boys to Napanoch, where they will play a doubleheader and take an educational trip through the Napanoch School.

Walter Oehrlein of Tillson, first basemen for the Mershants, during the entire season, will leave for service in the air force on August 13. Teammates wish him the best of luck.

Ladies' Aid

Rosendale, Aug. 11—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Tillson Reformed Church will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening, Aug. 12, at 8 o'clock at the home of Miss Pearl DeForce. The meeting has been changed from Thursday evening due to the Firemen's Carnival which begins that evening. Hostesses will be Miss DeForce and Mrs. Helen Aldridge.

Town Notes

Rosendale, Aug. 11—According to a board of health department recent report, residents of the Village of Rosendale are fortunate in having very good drinking water. Even the water falling over the dam, according to the report, is good drinking water, not requiring chlorination.

Pill Developer Dies

Boston, Aug. 11 (AP)—Dr. Benjamin F. Sieve, 50, who recently developed a birth control pill, died by hanging himself, a medical examiner ruled last night. Mrs. Sieve said she found her husband's body hanging from a rope in their home. Police said the doctor left a note but they refused to divulge its contents. A report last October that he had developed a birth control pill brought criticism from many Roman Catholics. However, Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington said use of the pills would not be against moral law. At the time of his report, Dr. Sieve warned that further studies were needed before the pills could be used generally.

Fire Victim Leaves

Mrs. Josephine Sheridan, 57, of Brooklyn, one of the victims of the Williams Lake fire on July 28, left Kingston Hospital for her home today. She had suffered burns of the arms and face in the fire. Her daughter, Josephine, 23, of Brooklyn, who suffered back injuries and shock, is still at the hospital. Three other victims are still undergoing treatment for injuries at the Benedictine Hospital, and recent reports on them have been favorable. Miss Sheridan has also been improving. Her condition at first was reported as serious.

Corpsman Prefers Girls to Chow, Wants 20 Letters

A navy corpsman serving with the First Marine Air Wing in Korea hopes somebody in Kingston will write to him, especially a girl, or girls interested in a fellow 6-1, with black curly hair.

In fact, Bill Hicks is so lonely he'd like to hear from 10 or 20 girls, he said in a letter to a local father whose son he met in Korea.

Hicks is plain fed up on looking at Asiatic femmes, he wrote to Charles Diers, a Freeman employe, and longs to hear from American girls. And, if they want to send pictures, so much the better.

During his tour of duty, Hicks ran across Ronald Diers, and decided to write to his dad to give him a hand in seeking correspondents.

Letters Have Priority

"Since the truce," he said, "there's not much to do but chow up and wait for mail." He doesn't want to put on any more than his 170 pounds, so letters have priority over the grub.

For anyone interested, the address is:

Ambassador's Wife Sees Styles Okay

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—American women have the most beautiful legs in the world and they shouldn't worry if French Designer Christian Dior wants to lift the hemline up and up.

Mme. Henri Bonnet, wife of the French ambassador to the United States, made this clear today upon her arrival from France on the French liner Liberte.

The chic wife of the French diplomat calmly hauled up her skirt hem to show that already she is falling in line.

"See, the hem was here and I have taken it up to here," she told newsmen.

The difference was about two inches.

"Everybody made such a fuss about the new length," she commented.

"Certainly, skirts are shorter but they are not necessarily knee length. I'd say about mid-calf. It depends on the individual and what kind of legs she has.

"American women shouldn't worry about it. They have the most beautiful legs in the world."

McCarthy Calls Another Inquiry

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Keeping details to himself, Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) called another closed door inquiry today into allegations that a Communist party member in the government has access to closely guarded atomic and military secrets.

Just as yesterday, when the investigation began unannounced, there was no word as to what witnesses, if any, were summoned. All McCarthy would say was that a public session would be held later in the week if enough facts are developed today and tomorrow.

After two hours of testimony from four unnamed witnesses yesterday, McCarthy said that if the evidence taken by his Senate investigations subcommittee proves true:

"A member of the Communist party has access to secret material of the military, Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and Central Intelligence Agency (CIA)."

Avoids Implications

He avoided any implication that the employe in question works in any one of the three agencies.

Authoritative sources later reported that the alleged Communist works for the government printing office. But this report could not be confirmed. An employe in the government printing office conceivably could obtain access to material from such scattered agencies as the Pentagon, AEC and CIA, although it was not clear how or why secret material would be so widely disseminated as to require printing.

City Court Jury Frees John Brown

A city court jury today returned a verdict of not guilty following trial of John Kenneth Brown, 20, of 23 Ravine street, who was arrested on a charge of allegedly impairing the morals of a minor.

Brown was arrested by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons on a warrant July 24. The information was signed by Lt. James P. Martin.

The case began this morning and the jury deliberated for about a half hour before returning a verdict early this afternoon.

Attorney John Larkin appeared for the defendant and John Schick for the district attorney's office. The trial was before Special Judge Harry Gold in the absence of Judge Raymond J. Mino, who is on vacation.

The promises—part of the East Zone's milder "new course"—were intended to attract back tens of thousands of farmers who had fled to the west. The Communists themselves have indicated less than 500 actually went back.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Stock Market dipped a little lower today after displaying some early resistance to a decline. Losses seldom extended to a point and gains were nearly that large.

Railroads showed the greatest weakness in yesterday's declining market, whereas today they started steady and remained that way with the exception of a couple of key rails on the downside.

Coppers remained higher throughout, but there was little activity in the group. Oils were lower with motors and chemicals. Otherwise the market was mixed.

Lower stocks included Santa Fe, Sinclair Oil, Du Pont, American Woolen, U. S. Steel, General Motors, and Admiral Corp.

Division Is Cited

Seoul, Aug. 11 (AP)—The ROK Capitol Division has been cited for its fighting in the bloody Kumsong battle on the east central front in the last days of the war, the army announced today. The citation was given by Lt. Gen. Reuben E. Jenkins, commander of the U. S. Ninth Corps, for the division's "courageous and determined action in the Kumsong salient battle."

Each time zone in the United States is approximately 15 degrees of longitude in width.

Grim GIs Vow . . .

been returned; the Reds listed 12,763.

The UN command has returned 19,406 of its 74,000 Red prisoners.

Another 100 Americans, 250 ROKs, 25 British and 25 Turks are scheduled to return Wednesday.

The latest group of Americans released won the "reactionary" honors the hard way.

Anger Greatest of All

There were bitter men among the first groups last week, but few matched the anger of the last groups.

They spoke of passion of those who have suffered.

"If any progressives get on the boat with me," said one, "they'll be shark bait. They are hated worse than the Chinks."

"If I met one in a bar, I'd hit him in the mouth," said another. "One of us wouldn't walk out—and it wouldn't be me."

American officers and newsmen were startled at the violence of the reactions and immedite steps were taken to keep some of the groups separate to prevent possible bloody clashes.

After months and years behind the Red Curtain, many still had courage to defy Communists.

The "ice bath"—standing barefoot for hours on the frozen Yalu river . . . choking confinement in crude one-man dungeons . . . beatings and clubbings . . . hanging by the arms with ropes . . . starvation . . . and deliberate withholding of medical care from the "reactionaries."

More Bitter for Turncoats

But bitter as the men were against the Chinese Communists they hated the "progressives" more.

"There were stool pigeons in my own squad," said Cpl. Robert A. Ginn of Columbia, S. C., with hate in his voice.

"Two men squealed on one of our friends, and the Chinks sentenced him to a year in jail two weeks ago.

With Ginn were two Americans with the same last name but not related—Sgt. Harold M. Keck of Bethlehem, Pa., and Clp. Clyde A. Keck of Sparta, Mich.

It was one of these three who broke toward the "progressive" and was restrained by an army officer. The officer would not say which he grabbed, however.

Ginn and the two Kecks estimated that about 10 per cent of the Americans they saw had "gone progressive."

Estimates Vary

Other former prisoners have told of seeing 'progressives" back on the UN side.

Estimates of their numbers have varied considerably and some repatriates said it was hard to tell whether a fellow prisoner really swallowed the Red line or just played along for better treatment.

Either way, the "progressives" stirred contempt.

The Turks put on the big show in the latest group to return—they sang and shouted and shed the faded blue prison clothing of the Reds.

Most of the Americans appeared healthy.

Several of the British were among the survivors of the "Glorious Gloucesters," the British battalion that fell under a swarm of Reds early in 1951.

The Communist prisoners were hurried north in closed ambulances, apparently to prevent repetition of earlier incidents when Korean civilians had thrown stones at them.

Malenkov Wins

down on military spending—as Moscow would have the world believe—it is actually increasing its military budget by about 25 per cent.

George Kennan, former American ambassador to Moscow, meanwhile predicted in a speech that "revolution eventually would break out" in the Soviet orbit.

He told a university seminar here Russia's structure is "faced today with severe strains and crisis" and said: "It will eventually earn the retribution it so richly deserves."

Prospector Held By Quebec Police

Montreal, Aug. 11 (AP)—Provincial police said today that Wilbert Coffin, 37-year-old prospector, is being held for questioning as a material witness in connection with the deaths of three Pennsylvania bear hunters in the Gaspe wilderness.

Police here said Coffin, important witness at an inquest into the gruesome deaths of Eugene Lindsey, 45, his son Richard, 17, and Fred Claar, 20, is being held in Quebec City as a result of evidence uncovered in Montreal last week.

Police declined to say what the evidence was.

Were From Pennsylvania

The three hunters were from Hollidaysburg, Pa.

In Quebec, Solicitor General Antoine Rivard said a coroner's inquest into the deaths of the hunters will be re-opened next week. The delay, he said, is necessary to permit witnesses to be called from the United States and Montreal.

He indicated the inquest will be re-opened in Gaspe where a coroner's jury ruled July 27 that two of the hunters had been murdered and a third had died from unknown causes.

The hunters' remains, stripped clean of flesh by marauding bears, were found scattered through the bush in mid-July, more than a month after they had entered the bush on their hunting expedition. They were believed to have been slain about June 10.

Second Alarm Is Out for Youth, 16

Darien, Conn., Aug. 11 (AP)—A second missing person broadcast in about 24 hours went out yesterday from Darien police who are looking for Richard O. Norvell, 16, of Coral Gables, Fla., and a student at Deanwood School here.

A detective in the Darien police department said the first call was sent out Sunday when a school official reported the boy had disappeared, carrying a portable typewriter. Continued the detective:

The boy was located Sunday night in New York at the 34th street branch of the YMCA from where he telephoned his parents at their Coral Gables home. The boy's parents directed him to telephone the school, a private institution here, and ask that someone from the school pick him up in New York. Acting on the strength of that telephone call, a school official asked the police department to cancel its missing person alarm.

When the school representative reached the YMCA building, the boy had disappeared again.

Returning to Darien, the school official requested the police department to send out another alarm on Monday. It did.

Police said the boy is still missing.

Vanderbilt Wife Asks Public Aid

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., trying to obtain some money from her wealthy globe-trotting husband, applied yesterday for public relief.

The blonde 33-year-old beauty insisted she was destitute except for two pawn tickets on jewelry and a mink coat, and had no place for her or her 11-year-old daughter to lay their heads.

Welfare authorities told her to sell the tickets and come back when she was broke as the other people in line.

Vanderbilt got a Reno divorce from Patricia, his fifth wife last June, but Mrs. Vanderbilt's lawyer maintained it was nothing but a "mailorder" divorce which New York does not recognize.

The couple have been scrapping in the courts for some time with Mrs. Vanderbilt holding non-support warrants against him based on the contention she is about to become a public charge. She also has an appeal pending to reinstate a separation suit which was thrown out on the grounds that technically she is not a New York resident.

She spent last night with friends in a Manhattan hotel, her lawyer Andrew D. Weinberger reported, but "it's only temporary."

Truck Damages Broadway House

A truck operated by John Dellacroce, 44, of 226 Holt Drive, Pearl River, left parked this morning in front of 346 Broadway, rolled into the house of Mrs. Marie A. Wolf, at 340 Broadway and damaged its front.

Police were notified of the mishap at 7:51 a. m., and Officers George Dougherty and Crawford Millham, reported that the truck rolled back, jumped the curb, caved in a section of the front of the house, damaged an iron railing, steps at the entrance, and plaster inside. Mrs. Wolf said the truck crashed through the sun parlor.

The driver was not in the area at the time, and the officers were about to have the truck removed by a wrecker when he arrived and moved it by its own power, the officers said.

The University of Alaska was founded in 1922 at Juneau.

Rosendale

Merchants Lose Two, Schedule Other Games

Rosendale, Aug. 11—The Rosendale Merchants lost two game to the Wallkill Medium Security Prison team, 7 to 2 and 3 to 0. The Rosendale boys showed good form out in the field, but were weak in pitching.

Tuesday evening at Sportsmen's Park field, the Merchants were scheduled to meet the Kingston Ashdown Whips. The two teams were tied up in games won. On Thursday evening, they will play the Mollenhauer team.

Maurice Crookston, who is in charge of the Rosendale Merchants team, announced that on August 23 he will take a group of 30 local boys to Napanoch, where they will play a doubleheader and take an educational trip through the Napanoch School.

Walter Oehrlein of Tillson, first basemen for the Mershants, during the entire season, will leave for service in the air force on August 13. Teammates wish him the best of luck.

Ladies' Aid

Rosendale, Aug. 11—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Tillson Reformed Church will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening, Aug. 12, at 8 o'clock at the home of Miss Pearl DeForce. The meeting has been changed from Thursday evening due to the Firemen's Carnival which begins that evening. Hostesses will be Miss DeForce and Mrs. Helen Aldridge.

Town Notes

Rosendale, Aug. 11—According to a board of health department recent report, residents of the Village of Rosendale are fortunate in having very good drinking water. Even the water falling over the dam, according to the report, is good drinking water, not requiring chlorination.

Pill Developer Dies

Boston, Aug. 11 (AP)—Dr. Benjamin F. Sieve, 50, who recently developed a birth control pill, died by hanging himself, a medical examiner ruled last night. Mrs. Sieve said she found her husband's body hanging from a rope in their home. Police said the doctor left a note but they refused to divulge its contents. A report last October that he had developed a birth control pill brought criticism from many Roman Catholics. However, Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington said use of the pills would not be against moral law. At the time of his report, Dr. Sieve warned that further studies were needed before the pills could be used generally.

Fire Victim Leaves

Mrs. Josephine Sheridan, 57, of Brooklyn, one of the victims of the Williams Lake fire on July 28, left Kingston Hospital for her home today. She had suffered burns of the arms and face in the fire. Her daughter, Josephine, 23, of Brooklyn, who suffered back injuries and shock, is still at the hospital. Three other victims are still undergoing treatment for injuries at the Benedictine Hospital, and recent reports on them have been favorable. Miss Sheridan has also been improving. Her condition at first was reported as serious.

Corpsman Prefers Girls to Chow, Wants 20 Letters

A navy corpsman serving with the First Marine Air Wing in Korea hopes somebody in Kingston will write to him, especially a girl, or girls interested in a fellow 6-1, with black curly hair.

In fact, Bill Hicks is so lonely he'd like to hear from 10 or 20 girls, he said in a letter to a local father whose son he met in Korea.

Hicks is plain fed up on looking at Asiatic femmes, he wrote to Charles Diers, a Freeman employe, and longs to hear from American girls. And, if they want to send pictures, so much the better.

During his tour of duty, Hicks ran across Ronald Diers, and decided to write to his dad to give him a hand in seeking correspondents.

Letters Have Priority

"Since the truce," he said, "there's not much to do but chow up and wait for mail." He doesn't want to put on any more than his 170 pounds, so letters have priority over the grub.

For anyone interested, the address is:

Ambassador's Wife Sees Styles Okay

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—American women have the most beautiful legs in the world and they shouldn't worry if French Designer Christian Dior wants to lift the hemline up and up.

Mme. Henri Bonnet, wife of the French ambassador to the United States, made this clear today upon her arrival from France on the French liner Liberte.

The chic wife of the French diplomat calmly hauled up her skirt hem to show that already she is falling in line.

"See, the hem was here and I have taken it up to here," she told newsmen.

The difference was about two inches.

"Everybody made such a fuss about the new length," she commented.

"Certainly, skirts are shorter but they are not necessarily knee length. I'd say about mid-calf. It depends on the individual and what kind of legs she has.

"American women shouldn't worry about it. They have the most beautiful legs in the world."

McCarthy Calls Another Inquiry

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Keeping details to himself, Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) called another closed door inquiry today into allegations that a Communist party member in the government has access to closely guarded atomic and military secrets.

Just as yesterday, when the investigation began unannounced, there was no word as to what witnesses, if any, were summoned. All McCarthy would say was that a public session would be held later in the week if enough facts are developed today and tomorrow.

After two hours of testimony from four unnamed witnesses yesterday, McCarthy said that if the evidence taken by his Senate investigations subcommittee proves true:

"A member of the Communist party has access to secret material of the military, Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and Central Intelligence Agency (CIA)."

Avoids Implications

He avoided any implication that the employe in question works in any one of the three agencies.

Authoritative sources later reported that the alleged Communist works for the government printing office. But this report could not be confirmed. An employe in the government printing office conceivably could obtain access to material from such scattered agencies as the Pentagon, AEC and CIA, although it was not clear how or why secret material would be so widely disseminated as to require printing.

City Court Jury Frees John Brown

A city court jury today returned a verdict of not guilty following trial of John Kenneth Brown, 20, of 23 Ravine street, who was arrested on a charge of allegedly impairing the morals of a minor.

Brown was arrested by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons on a warrant July 24. The information was signed by Lt. James P. Martin.

The case began this morning and the jury deliberated for about a half hour before returning a verdict early this afternoon.

Attorney John Larkin appeared for the defendant and John Schick for the district attorney's office. The trial was before Special Judge Harry Gold in the absence of Judge Raymond J. Mino, who is on vacation.

The promises—part of the East Zone's milder "new course"—were intended to attract back tens of thousands of farmers who had fled to the west. The Communists themselves have indicated less than 500 actually went back.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Stock Market dipped a little lower today after displaying some early resistance to a decline. Losses seldom extended to a point and gains were nearly that large.

Railroads showed the greatest weakness in yesterday's declining market, whereas today they started steady and remained that way with the exception of a couple of key rails on the downside.

Coppers remained higher throughout, but there was little activity in the group. Oils were lower with motors and chemicals. Otherwise the market was mixed.

Lower stocks included Santa Fe, Sinclair Oil, Du Pont, American Woolen, U. S. Steel, General Motors, and Admiral Corp.

Grim GIs Vow . . .

been returned; the Reds listed 12,763.

The UN command has returned 19,406 of its 74,000 Red prisoners.

Another 100 Americans, 250 ROKs, 25 British and 25 Turks are scheduled to return Wednesday.

The latest group of Americans released won the "reactionary" honors the hard way.

Anger Greatest of All

There were bitter men among the first groups last week, but few matched the anger of the last groups.

They spoke of passion of those who have suffered.

"If any progressives get on the boat with me," said one, "they'll be shark bait. They are hated worse than the Chinks."

"If I met one in a bar, I'd hit him in the mouth," said another. "One of us wouldn't walk out—and it wouldn't be me."

American officers and newsmen were startled at the violence of the reactions and immedite steps were taken to keep some of the groups separate to prevent possible bloody clashes.

After months and years behind the Red Curtain, many still had courage to defy Communists.

The "ice bath"—standing barefoot for hours on the frozen Yalu river . . . choking confinement in crude one-man dungeons . . . beatings and clubbings . . . hanging by the arms with ropes . . . starvation . . . and deliberate withholding of medical care from the "reactionaries."

More Bitter for Turncoats

But bitter as the men were against the Chinese Communists they hated the "progressives" more.

"There were stool pigeons in my own squad," said Cpl. Robert A. Ginn of Columbia, S. C., with hate in his voice.

"Two men squealed on one of our friends, and the Chinks sentenced him to a year in jail two weeks ago.

With Ginn were two Americans with the same last name but not related—Sgt. Harold M. Keck of Bethlehem, Pa., and Clp. Clyde A. Keck of Sparta, Mich.

It was one of these three who broke toward the "progressive" and was restrained by an army officer. The officer would not say which he grabbed, however.

Ginn and the two Kecks estimated that about 10 per cent of the Americans they saw had "gone progressive."

Estimates Vary

Other former prisoners have told of seeing 'progressives" back on the UN side.

Estimates of their numbers have varied considerably and some repatriates said it was hard to tell whether a fellow prisoner really swallowed the Red line or just played along for better treatment.

Either way, the "progressives" stirred contempt.

The Turks put on the big show in the latest group to return—they sang and shouted and shed the faded blue prison clothing of the Reds.

Most of the Americans appeared healthy.

Several of the British were among the survivors of the "Glorious Gloucesters," the British battalion that fell under a swarm of Reds early in 1951.

The Communist prisoners were hurried north in closed ambulances, apparently to prevent repetition of earlier incidents when Korean civilians had thrown stones at them.

Malenkov Wins

down on military spending—as Moscow would have the world believe—it is actually increasing its military budget by about 25 per cent.

George Kennan, former American ambassador to Moscow, meanwhile predicted in a speech that "revolution eventually would break out" in the Soviet orbit.

He told a university seminar here Russia's structure is "faced today with severe strains and crisis" and said: "It will eventually earn the retribution it so richly deserves."

Pigeon Poacher

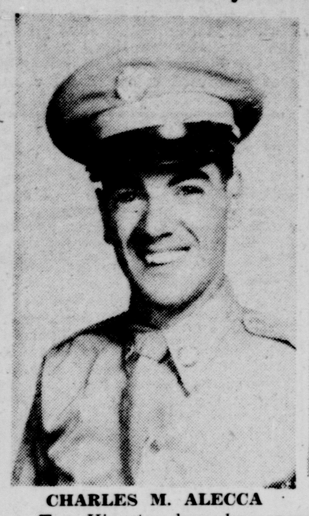

San Francisco (AP) — Thousands of pigeons flutter around this city's famed Civic Center. Twelve-year-old Robert Tillman wanted some to start a cote of his own. So, he climbed hand-over-hand up three stories of the crannied wall of the Civic Auditorium and inched his way to a tiny balcony, where he hoped to snare some birds. Firemen had to rescue the boy, and gave him a scolding. "I didn't think anyone would miss a few of the birds," Robert replied. "Look — they're all over the place."

Why We Say--

. . . Not ripe

Apple cider was given this name because it was once thought that the cider did not become fully ripe until after June 24th, the church feast of St. John.

Kasenkina Plunge Occurred 5 Years Ago; to Celebrate

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Five years ago tomorrow a Russian school teacher crawled out on a ledge of the Soviet consulate in New York and leaped to freedom.

Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, whose plunge made headlines around the world, will mark the event with a dual celebration.

First, she will go to a church near her home in Jackson Heights to offer thanks on the fifth anniversary of her escape.

Then she'll return to her second-floor apartment to drink a toast marking the successful conclusion of her own personal "five-year-plan" to achieve Americanization.

"There will be no vodka," said the 57-year-old former teacher. "Maybe just some pretzels and beer."

Mrs. Kasenkina, who leaped from a three-story window to avoid being returned to Russia, said she will tolerate no reminders of her Soviet past.

Feels Like American

It's a special day," she said. "I feel like an American and want to act like one."

"When I first moved to this neighborhood, I was nervous and afraid. I never left the house alone. I spoke through interpreters, life was empty. I had broken with my past and there was nothing to fill the void.

"Today I have been without interpreters for two years now. I drive my car to the supermarket every day and chat with the other women. I do not jump every time the telephone rings."

The venetian blinds in Mrs. Kasenkina's 4½-room apartment are open wide in the daytime. A special police siren once kept at her bedside is now gathering dust in a hall closet.

Mrs. Kasenkina speaks English slowly. Her conversation is in a halting Russian accent, but she has no trouble making herself understood.

Like Typical Home

The apartment looks like a typical American home.

There is a television set in one corner, American newspapers and magazines on the end table and an old tin-type photograph of Mark Twain on the wall.

Mrs. Kasenkina's weekly schedule is full. A few days a week an English teacher drops in to polish up her vocabularly. In spare time she paints. The living room walls are covered with landscapes and religious paintings, all her own work.

She lives on royalties from a book, occasional painting sales and private funds.

Mrs. Kasenkina says she is already experiencing "so much happiness it is too much for me to believe."

But she will pray for a few other things when she goes to church.

She will pray that the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service hurry her citizenship examination. She took out first papers nearly two years ago.

Then she will ask for the continued good health of her sister, Eugenia, a nurse in England.

Eugenia is the only member of her family still alive, and has promised to join Mrs. Kasenkina in America.

But her most fervent prayer will be on behalf of America and its people, who "saved my life when they gave me sanctuary. I will never forget."

To Have to Wait

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina is going to have to wait nearly three more years for the American citizenship she so anxiously seeks.

Immigration Service officials said today that under exisiting law, there is no possibility of her being naturalized until after May 14, 1956.

It was on May 14, 1951, that she obtained her certificate for permanent residence in this country, and the law says an alien must have five years such residence before becoming an American citizen.

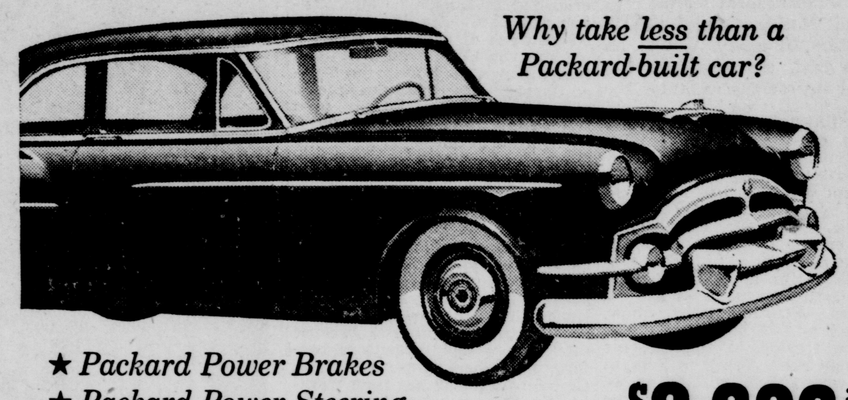

Mrs. Kasenkina filed her "first papers"—the notice of intention to seek naturalization—in New York city in May, 1952.

In the normal course of events, she will go through two hearings, a preliminary one before an Immigration Service examiner to establish her background and eligibility, and then a final one before either a state or federal judge. The judges have the last say on citizenship admissions.

Since her eligibility date is still far away, immigration officials said the matter of hearing dates has not yet been considered.

Tuna Catch

Darwin (AP) — They've been catching fish at Darwin, big five pound tunas, by their tails. A great shoal that came close inshore chasing sardines gave residents a great time. Small boys flipped them out of the water by the tails. More conservative fishermen baited their lines with sardines, and caught a tuna every cast. One party fishing with lines caught one ton.

K of C Plans Big Day For Children, Nuns Of Mother Cabrini

Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, will again sponsor a day of entertainment for the children of Mother Cabrini School, West Park, Thursday, Aug. 13. As in the past, the committee has made every arrangement for the affair.

The Knights and their friends driving cars will meet at West Park School at 9:15 a. m. They will leave the school with the children and nuns at 9:30 a. m., escorted by state police and proceed to the Broadway Theatre in Kingston for a special show beginning at 10:30 a. m. This special show was made possible by Vogel Gettier, manager of Reade's theatres. Following the show, they will go to DD's Drive-In, and will be treated to refreshments and train rides. Then to Forsyth Park where there will be games and refreshments served by the Catholic Daughters of America, who are assisting the Knights. Each child also will receive a gift. Following their afternoon in the park, they will be again escorted by the city police and state police back to the home.

Gardens Club Hears Paper by Mrs. J. Saxe On Oakland Project

The Little Gardens Club of Kingston was entertained at the Lake Katrine camp of Dr. Frederick Snyder August 7. Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Etta Wolven were co-hostesses at a picnic lunch.

Mrs. Ivan Freer read Mrs. John Saxe's paper, City With the Golden Garbage, describing the process of garbage decomposition used successfully at Oakland City, Calif. to transform city garbage into Oakland Compost, a fertilizer. Magnets are used to extract metal and vacuums to extract paper from the garbage. A yeast-like microbe is added to the garbage and decomposition, releasing valuable minerals, begins. This microbe "starter" is available to the public, Mrs. Freer read. Cities in warm climates should take more readily to this process, because of the more rapid growth of bacteria in higher temperatures. A German professor has been working on this experiment for some time, Mrs. Freer said.

Miss Ruth Waterbury reported that she had 429 people register at her house the day the Hurley Church declared Old Stone House Day.

The next meeting of the Little Gardens Club will have Miss Bessie Brewster and Miss Lottie Johnson as co-hostesses.

UNHAPPY VACATION

A girl writes me: "I have just returned home from a week's vacation at the seashore. I went with a girl friend of mine and we stayed at a resort hotel. The second day we were there, my friend met a young man who also was staying at the same hotel. From then on I saw very little of her and spent most of the time by myself. I was quite peeved about this and it really spoiled my whole vacation which I had been looking forward to eagerly. One evening while we were dressing for dinner, I told her that I was very disappointed in her behavior and she immediately accused me of being jealous, and said that just because we came away together, was no reason why she had to spend all her time with me. I am very much upset over the whole thing and would like to have your opinion of this."

You, of course, might have made friends of your own. Now there is nothing you can do but forget it.

'Etiquette' for Birthday

Dear Mrs. Post: You will probably think this a very strange question to be asking you, but, nevertheless, I would like to know if it could be considered an insult to give a friend your book of Etiquette for a present?

Answer: I do not think your friend could feel that the gift of my book means that you think her ignorant of proper behavior any more than she would think the gift of a dictionary means that you think she cannot spell.

Setting Card Table

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend and I have had an argument about the proper way to set places at a card table. She says that even when serving light refreshments, for which a fork and spoon only are required, this silver should be placed exactly as for a meal. I think both can be put on the right. In fact, I think it would be better if they were put together. Please straighten this out for us.

Answer: This is a completely informal setting for which there is absolutely no rule—put them on any way you like best.

'Knucklehead' Is an Acceptable Idiom, Miss Kerr Decides

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Deborah Kerr, a product of Britain's best finishing schools and Hollywood's top glamor treatment, is not perturbed when her 5½-year-old daughter comes home from kindergarten and greets her as

"Hey, Knucklehead!"

At first, admits Deborah, she was startled. In her native Scotland she attended proper girls' schools, never seeing a boy "close up" until the age of 17, being taught to curtsy and show respect for her elders. After sober thought, however, she remembered that in her youth she was known to remark to a parent:

"Oh, go boil yourself in oil!"

This, she believes, is a fair British equivalent of the American "Knucklehead" idiom, which she regards as normal for small fry. And so she is not worried about raising her children in America. She thinks America is fine.

Deborah, busy wife of Anthony Bartley, producer and British war hero, is starred in four movies running on Broadway: "From Here to Eternity," "Julius Caesar," "Dream Wife" and "Young Bess." She has come to New York to rehearse for her first Broadway play, "Tea and Sympathy," slated for a fall premiere, and plans to bring her children east for the winter.

Girls Are Californian

Typically British from her accent to her porcelain complexion and her ladylike demeanor, Deborah is intensely interested in the Americanization of her two small daughters, Melanie, the 5½-year-old, and Francesca, now 20 months. Both were born in California, but are among the world's most widely traveled sub-sub-debs. Melanie had crossed the Atlantic six times by the time she was four, and had lived with her mother in London, Paris and Rome during the filming of various movies. To her, says Deborah, America is California, and she often remarks to her parents:

"You're British, but I'm Californian."

At present the Bartleys are hunting a proper New York apartment or suburban house in which to settle down for the winter—if the new play is a success, that is. The children are still in Hollywood, in care of their nurse, waiting impatiently to join their parents in New York. When small Melanie burst into tears as her mother was leaving Hollywood a few days ago, Deborah almost cried, too. But Melanie said, through her tears:

Up on Events

"Oh, it's not that I'll be lonesome, mummy. It's just that I'm worried for fear the play won't be a hit, and I won't get to spend the winter in New York."

Deborah's husband, one of Britain's most famous Royal Air Force squadron leaders during the war, feels it's all right to raise his children as Americans. Since his work also is in America, and probably will be for some time, he feels that his small daughters won't miss the traditional British upbringing.

Melanie reminds her parents to listen to President Eisenhower's speeches and brings them up to date on other matters. In discussing her mother's new play, she inquired:

"Tell me, mummy, is this new play of yours 3-D?"

K of C Plans Big Day For Children, Nuns Of Mother Cabrini

Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, will again sponsor a day of entertainment for the children of Mother Cabrini School, West Park, Thursday, Aug. 13. As in the past, the committee has made every arrangement for the affair.

The Knights and their friends driving cars will meet at West Park School at 9:15 a. m. They will leave the school with the children and nuns at 9:30 a. m., escorted by state police and proceed to the Broadway Theatre in Kingston for a special show beginning at 10:30 a. m. This special show was made possible by Vogel Gettier, manager of Reade's theatres. Following the show, they will go to DD's Drive-In, and will be treated to refreshments and train rides. Then to Forsyth Park where there will be games and refreshments served by the Catholic Daughters of America, who are assisting the Knights. Each child also will receive a gift. Following their afternoon in the park, they will be again escorted by the city police and state police back to the home.

Gardens Club Hears Paper by Mrs. J. Saxe On Oakland Project

The Little Gardens Club of Kingston was entertained at the Lake Katrine camp of Dr. Frederick Snyder August 7. Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Etta Wolven were co-hostesses at a picnic lunch.

Mrs. Ivan Freer read Mrs. John Saxe's paper, City With the Golden Garbage, describing the process of garbage decomposition used successfully at Oakland City, Calif. to transform city garbage into Oakland Compost, a fertilizer. Magnets are used to extract metal and vacuums to extract paper from the garbage. A yeast-like microbe is added to the garbage and decomposition, releasing valuable minerals, begins. This microbe "starter" is available to the public, Mrs. Freer read. Cities in warm climates should take more readily to this process, because of the more rapid growth of bacteria in higher temperatures. A German professor has been working on this experiment for some time, Mrs. Freer said.

Miss Ruth Waterbury reported that she had 429 people register at her house the day the Hurley Church declared Old Stone House Day.

The next meeting of the Little Gardens Club will have Miss Bessie Brewster and Miss Lottie Johnson as co-hostesses.

Receives Position

HELEN SCHOONMAKER

Miss Helen Schoonmaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schoonmaker, 202 West Chestnut street, has been appointed by the U. S. government to a position as teacher in the Overseas Dependent Program.

Miss Schoonmaker attended Ohio Wesleyan University, received her BE degree at New Paltz State Teachers College and her master's degree at Columbia University. She was on the staff at New Paltz.

For the last two years Miss Schoonmaker has been an advanced student in the field of theatre arts on the doctoral level at New York University. In connection with this work, she attended the Margaret Webster School of Drama, worked professionally in the Pasadena Theatre and the Woodstock Playhouse and played opposite Edward Arnold in the Chicago production of, Apple of His Eye.

Man, 111, Girl, 22 Are Now Married

Grimesland, N. C., Aug. 11 (AP)—Alex Ogburn, a Negro who lists his age as 111, and his bride of 22 are honeymooning at their home near here today.

Ogburn and his bride, Clyda Mae Goddard of Williamstown, were married at New Bern Saturday. His wife has two children by a previous marriage.

Ogburn says the "white folks" credit him with 46 children.

The aged Negro claims he was a grown man and a slave during the Civil War.

"I used to be strong," he said. "'Bout six or seven years ago I won a cuttin' contest with an axe down here at Washington, N. C."

Ogburn claims he married Clyda Mae because "I need a woman to wash and cook up for these young'uns."

Atkins Is Elected Chef de Gare of Ulster Voiture 40-8

Charles S. Atkins of Port Ewen, a member of Town of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion, became chef de gare of Ulster County Voiture, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux at last night's election and installation.

The installing officer was Attorney Walter J. Miller, Kingston, grand chef passe of New York state, and cheminot national passe, who urged all out cooperation in building the membership of the American Legion.

At the meeting in the Legion post rooms at Port Ewen, annual reports were given and the item leading the list of projects was the child welfare program for $1,200.

Stanley Lawrence of Kerhonkson, retiring chef de gare, complimented the 40 & 8ers for the support he received and urged the same cooperation for Chef de Gare Atkins.

One of the last occasions attended by Lawrence was the recent party sponsored at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital for more than 60 patients in which the veterans were joined by members of Local 215, Musicians Protective Union, for the musical portion of the program.

Near Victim of Icebox Makes Progress

Gary Smith, four years old, shown with his mother, Mrs. Richard R. Smith, gets exercises in a walking device at a convalescent home near Springfield, Vermont. It was just a year ago on Aug. 7, that Gary was found unconscious in an unused icebox in his home. The child had been there about eight hours. For 59 days Gary was in a coma, his sight and speech impaired and his limbs weakened. His mother says he is making progress and, in spite of his handicaps, has normal childish desires to play.

Palmieri to Study Bridge Possibility

Mario Palmieri, designer of the proposed Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge, arrived in Italy yesterday, representing David B. Steinman, engineer, to survey the possibility of building the world's longest suspension bridge.

The $60,000,000 bridge would reach from Sicily to the Italian mainland, a span of 4,500 feet. This would be 300 feet longer than the Golden Gate bridge of San Francisco, presently the longest.

Palmieri is returning to his native Naples to fulfill his personal dream of connecting the long cut-off Sicily to the mainland. The whirlpools and rapids in the Straits of Messina have taken a heavy toll of shipping throughout the island's history.

The Steinman firm has designed more than 200 bridges on five continents, including the Kingston bridge, and they are now working on plans for the Liberty bridge to link Brooklyn and Staten Island with a 4,620 foot span across the narrows.

Missing Boy, 2, Found in Jersey

Glen Rock, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—A missing 2-year-old boy, sought for 16 hours through woods and swamps, was found alive today.

Taken to Barnert Memorial Hospital in Paterson, Allan Miller was reported scratched and bruised, but not in serious condition.

Details of finding the tot, who had been sought since 5 p. m. yesterday by police and residents of this Bergen county community, were not immediately available.

The boy was found off Chandler drive near Fair Lawn avenue.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, had reported him missing shortly after 5 p. m. yesterday.

However, Ricky Bischoff, a 5-year-old neighbor of the missing boy, said he saw a woman wearing a blue dress take Bruce away in a red car.

Search Is Started

A search got under way soon after Bruce was reported missing. The area is dotted with clay pits. By nightfall the search was joined by firemen, auxiliaries, Boy Scouts and civilian defense workers from Glen Rock and neighboring Fair Lawn.

Fair Lawn police sent lighting equipment. Bloodhounds were brought in from state police barracks at Ramapo and Hawthorne, both in New York.

Forming a human chain, Boy Scouts made a careful check of a swamp near Fair Lawn.

The searchers also were on the lookout for a neighbor's black cocker Spaniel who disappeared and might be with the boy, police said. residents said they saw Bruce playing with the dog early in the afternoon.

'Shocking Stories' Are Told By Liberated U. S. Troops

Freedom Village, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—Liberated American soldiers told today shocking stories of "squealing" by fellow prisoners, some of whom chose to stay behind rather than return to the United States.

Others described tortures suffered because they defied their Communist captors—tortures that included hanging by the arms, beatings, imprisonment in crude dungeons, starvation rations and "ice baths."

Their stories—told to newsmen at this processing center for returned Americans—added to the mounting evidence of the horrors and intrigue that flamed in North Korean prison camps.

Cpl. Robert A. Ginn of Columbia, S. C., told of the actions of two informers which resulted in a fellow prisoner being sentenced just two weeks ago to a year in jail.

Other Men Warned

Ginn said the Chinese announced over the prison loudspeaker that the captive would not return in the exchange and warned other men would get the same treatment "if they failed to straighten out."

Ginn said the Reds broadcast the captive had been convicted of "instigating against Chinese and complaining about the food."

"It is my belief two men in my own squad went to the Chinese and squealed on this man," Ginn said. "I think it was a mighty low thing to do."

Three Americans held in the same North Korean compound estimated 10 per cent of the 310 Americans in their company had "gone along" wtih the Reds.

More British Turn

The three, Sgt. Harold M. Keck of Bethlehem, Pa., Cpl. Clyde A. Keck of Sparta, Mich., and Cpl. Leroy Lam of Upperco, Md., said an even larger percentage of British prisoners had turned "progressive."

They said that of 35 Americans who went along with the Reds, at least 20 "believed the propaganda."

Clyde Keck, no relation to the other Keck, said he understood seven men in his company, including the squad leader, chose to stay behind with the Communists.

The day before the exchange, he said, "the squad leader came in and said he wanted to say goodbye. He didn't look happy. It was like shaking hands with a wet fish."

Harold Keck said the Chinese instructor at his compound was called "Screaming Skull — he looked like a monkey."

Told to Stick Together

Keck said "Screaming Skull" told the "Progressives to stick together in the States and nothing will happen."

Keck said that he was thrown into a cell with 27 other men after an escape. During his imprisonment, he said an American-Spanish sergeant did not pay close enough attention to what the Chinese guards were saying.

"They brought up 15 Chinks and beat him up with clubs and guns until he couldn't walk," said Keck. "He was a mess, but he lived. After beating up the sergeant, they came in and whaled hell out of 12 of us. I had a rawhide across the face."

Pfc. Howard D. Estell of Columbus, Ohio, spoke bitterly about the Red "trials," saying "when they want to put someone in jail, they make up something and then make you confess one way or the other. They point a pistol at you and if that's not enough, they have other methods."

Kangaroo Court Held

Cpl. Joseph Timpanaro of Lyndhurst, N. J., said a panel of five American GIs at Pyoktong held a "kangaroo court" and convicted another American of stealing rations from a Chinese warehouse. The man was sentenced to three days at hard labor.

Sgt. James W. Dixon of Hampton, Va., related he was given repeated "ice baths" for being "reactionary."

"I was always interrupting the propaganda lectures," he said.

"Next thing I know I am down there standing on the Yalu river."

He said the Chinese would remove his shoes and make him stand on the frozen river.

Sgt. Joseph W. Preola of Bayonne, N. J., said the night before he left Pyoktong a group of American "Progressives" met "to strengthen their unity" before being repatriated. He said about 15 men of the 300 in his company attended.

Knew of Seven Americans

He said he knew of about seven Americans, one Turk and one British who had elected to stay behind. He said some of the Americans who decided to refuse repatriation had made many Communist radio broadcasts, signed petitions and written letters.

Preola said he was classified as a "reactionary" by the Reds. He said he was thrown in jail twice and put on hard labor "about 15 times."

After an attempted escape in mid-winter, 1951, Preola said the Chinese removed his gloves, tied his thumbs behind his back, put a choke rope beneath his neck so he could not bend over and left him in the freezing cold for more hours than he could recall.

Cpl. Frederick R. Keys of Greene, N. Y., said he was placed in a dungeon hole six times during his captivity. Keys said he stole food from the Chinese "to live" and never once during his captivity did he go to any of the Communist indoctrination lectures.

"Every time they caught me," said Keys, "they did it because American GIs who had turned Communist squealed on me."

St. Laurent personally ran only in his own district of Quebec. He won a majority of more than 20,000 the biggest of any candidate. All his cabinet ministers were re-elected, including Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson and Trade Minister Clarence D. Howe.

The Communists supplied 100 of the 900 candidates running for the 265 seats. They lost everywhere.

Sgt. Ronald Steeger Back From Korea

Sergeant First Class Ronald F. Steeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Steeger of Van Deusen street, was aboard the Navy Transport Gen. M. C. Meigs which arrived Sunday at San Francisco with 3,505 Army personnel returned from Korea, according to an Associated Press listing.

Sgt. Steeger, who received the Purple Heart medal for wounds received during his tour of duty in Korea, enlisted in the army from Pawling.

Man, 111, Girl, 22 Are Now Married

Grimesland, N. C., Aug. 11 (AP)—Alex Ogburn, a Negro who lists his age as 111, and his bride of 22 are honeymooning at their home near here today.

Ogburn and his bride, Clyda Mae Goddard of Williamstown, were married at New Bern Saturday. His wife has two children by a previous marriage.

Ogburn says the "white folks" credit him with 46 children.

The aged Negro claims he was a grown man and a slave during the Civil War.

"I used to be strong," he said. "'Bout six or seven years ago I won a cuttin' contest with an axe down here at Washington, N. C."

Ogburn claims he married Clyda Mae because "I need a woman to wash and cook up for these young'uns."

Knew of Seven Americans

He said he knew of about seven Americans, one Turk and one British who had elected to stay behind. He said some of the Americans who decided to refuse repatriation had made many Communist radio broadcasts, signed petitions and written letters.

Preola said he was classified as a "reactionary" by the Reds. He said he was thrown in jail twice and put on hard labor "about 15 times."

After an attempted escape in mid-winter, 1951, Preola said the Chinese removed his gloves, tied his thumbs behind his back, put a choke rope beneath his neck so he could not bend over and left him in the freezing cold for more hours than he could recall.

Cpl. Frederick R. Keys of Greene, N. Y., said he was placed in a dungeon hole six times during his captivity. Keys said he stole food from the Chinese "to live" and never once during his captivity did he go to any of the Communist indoctrination lectures.

"Every time they caught me," said Keys, "they did it because American GIs who had turned Communist squealed on me."

virtually equal to 1949's ratio. They had the heaviest popular vote in 8 of 10 provinces—with Saskatchewan going to the CCF and Alberta to the Social Crediters.

St. Laurent personally ran only in his own district of Quebec. He won a majority of more than 20,000 the biggest of any candidate. All his cabinet ministers were reelected, including Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson and Trade Minister Clarence D. Howe.

The Communists supplied 100 of the 900 candidates running for the 265 seats. They lost everywhere.

Sgt. Ronald Steeger Back From Korea

Sergeant First Class Ronald F. Steeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Steeger of Van Deusen street, was aboard the Navy Transport Gen. M. C. Meigs which arrived Sunday at San Francisco with 3,505 Army personnel returned from Korea, according to an Associated Press listing.

Sgt. Steeger, who received the Purple Heart medal for wounds received during his tour of duty in Korea, enlisted in the army from Pawling.

District Boy Scouts Start Finance Drive

Saugerties, Aug. 11—Saugerties District Scouters began their drive for funds on Monday night with a door-to-door canvass of the village. The funds are used for the operation of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Daniel Lamb is finance chairman of the campaign. A number of captains and many workers were enlisted to make the drive successful. Headquarters have been established at the VFW Hall, Livingston street, where immediate tabulations of the returns are made as they come in.

Nursing Group Will Help Blood Program

Saugerties, Aug. 11—Mrs. Samuel J. Adams, chairman of the Ulster County Red Cross Chapter, has announced that the Saugerties Public Health Nursing Committee has offered its services in recruiting mothers and housewives for the Bloodmobile which will be here on August 26. The Community Club of Saugerties will press a recruitment effort among business and professional people.

Anyone wishing to give blood need not wait to be contacted. They may call Mrs. Adams at 869.

Reception Is Held

Saugerties, Aug. 11—More than 100 friends and relatives attended the reception held Saturday night in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Wiands, 95 West Bridge street. The reception was held in the V.F.W. Hall. A buffet supper was served for the many guests from 6 to 12 o'clock, and dancing followed. A three-tiered decorated cake adorned the center of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiands received many lovely gifts and cards from their many friends in honor of the occasion. Their six children presented their parents with a television set. Mr. Wiands gave his wife a new engagement and wedding ring, while she presented him with a gold pocket watch in memory of their long and cherished partnership.

They were married on August 11, 1903, and have resided in Saugerties these many years.

Alpine Climbers Upset Subway Grill, 4-1, on Koeppen's 3-Hitter

Loss Only 2nd In 18 Contests For CSB Leaders

Beichert's, Hilltop Go Eight Innings, 0-0

Clubbed for 17 hits in his last outing, Don Koeppen rallied with a brilliant three-hitter yesterday, as Alpine Climbers upset the league-leading Subway Grill, 4 to 1, in the City Softball League.

In handing the leaders their only second loss in 18 games, Games, Koeppen pitched perfect ball for five innings. In the sixth the Grillmen averted a shutout when Vince Peck doubled and scored on a bad relay from the outfield.

George Magley's bases-loaded double gave Koeppen a three-run lead in the second and that was more than he needed. The Climbers, winning their 10th victory of the season against eight losses, collected only six hits off Joe Amato and Tom Spada but bunched four of them in the second.

Only one other Subway runner besides Peck advanced beyond second base against Koeppen.

The doubles by Peck and Magley were the only extra base blows of the game and the nine hits for both sides went to nine different players.

Play Scoreless Tie

In another tremendous pitching duel between Joe Enright and Danny Basch, Beichert's resurgent Studebakers and Hilltop battled to an 8-inning scoreless deadlock.

The game was called on account of darkness after the only major scoring threat of the game had been cancelled out by a Studebaker double play in the sixth. Form Coughlin engineered the twin killing.

One of the best City Softball League games in years, the contest was marred by only one inconsequential miscue. Neither pitcher permitted an extra base hit and only Andy Murphy of Beichert's was able to get more than one single.

G. Wells and A. Waterous Cop Qualifying Medals

Former Posts 72 At Wiltwyck Club

Gerald Wells, the most improved player in this year's Ulster county amateur championship, and Allen Waterous have won qualifying medals in the championship flights at Wiltwyck and Woodstock.

Wells carded a pair of 36s over Wiltwycks' rugged layout to lead the field by three strokes with a 72 in the 18-hole qualifying test.

In first and second round matches, he brushed past Art Organtini, 4 and 3, and Louis G. Bruhn, 5 and 3, to land in the round of four with Maurice and Dick Davenport and J. Watson Bailey.

Waterous, who recently captured the 1953 club handicap title at Woodstock, continued his excellent play with a front nine 35 and three successive 37s in the 36-hole qualifying competition. He had a 2-stroke advantage over defending champion, Boyer Gonzales and his son, Billy Waterous. Fred Allen carded a 73-76-149, a figure matched by August Torres.

Bailey Beats Daley

In one of the key matches in Wiltwycks' second round, J. Watson Bailey edged Bob Daley, 2-up. Daley had clobbered Clyde Wonderly, Jr., 7 and 6, in a first round test. Maurice Davenport defeated George Schick, 3 and 1, while Dick Davenport ousted Bill Costello, 3 and 2.

Daley and Maurice Davenport fired 75s in the qualifying play. Costello posted a 78, while Louis G. Bruhn and J. Watson Bailey posted 80s.

The summaries at Wiltwyck:

First Round

Gerald Wells d Art Organtini, 4 and 3

Louis G. Bruhn d George Rifenbary, 1-up

Maurice Davenport d A. J. Anderson, 5 and 4

George Schick d Ivan Whitmore, 3 and 1

J. W. Bailey d Sy Werbalowsky, 4 and 3

Bill Costello d Ernest LeFevre, 4 and 3

Dick Davenport d Roland Riegel, 7 and 6

Second Round

G. Wells d L. G. Bruhn, 5 and 3

M. Davenport d G. Schick, 3 and 1

J. W. Bailey d Bob Daley, 2-up

R. Davenport d B. Costello, 3 and 2

Doubleheader Opener For Recreation League

Its single game inaugural rained out Sunday night, the Recreation Baseball League gets under way with a doubleheader tonight at municipal stadium.

First game at 6 p. m. brings together Hercules and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The nightcap at 8:30 pairs the Recreations and E&R squad.

A large crowd is expected to attend the premiere of the new 15-18 year circuit. The second game brings together two of the finest young pitchers in the area—Bruce Bechtold and Frank Reis. Bechtold will pitch for the Recs, while Reis toils for the E&R.

Jack Houghtaling, another future book great, goes against John Woolsey or Skookie Amato in the opener. All four clubs are loaded with talent and promise first rate attractions for their abbreviated 1953 schedule.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
(Shooting Editor)

When better mouse traps are built, it is quite possible that some gun gadgeteer will build them, and then wonder why the world does not flock to his doorstep waving folding money.

For among the gun-minded there's a gruesomely high percentage of gadget-minded folks who are perpetually dreaming up useless dinguses and then wondering why they don't sell.

For example, not long ago two earnest young men came into my office with their brain child. Fresh out of the service, they'd piled up their overseas and mustering out pay as business capital, and proposed to manufacture a muff for shotguns.

Actually, they had a point. Their model was of sheepskin, shaped to fit loosely over the butt-stock and fasten with a snap around the small of the gun. Hence the shooter would need no glove on his trigger hand. He could sit all day in a withering cold duck blind or park on a stump to shiver out a deer, but his pinkies would be kept all nice and warm under the fleece, his trigger finger alive and sensitive for any nicety of trigger pull.

Fine. Except for one thing. When you had the muff on the gun, you couldn't hit a small to medium-sized barn with it. Wrapping the stock with sheepskin kept things warm all right, but it also fattened the comb of the stock and raised the height of the comb by just the thickness of that sheepskin. Result: the gun inevitably shot way high and way left of where you figured to point it.

All the hickeys to clamp onto shotgun muzzles, rings, cross bars with little pins set in holes and adjustable doo-dads gadgeteers have produced and marketed are of less use to the practical shotgun than a high silk hat. Aids to sighting? Could be if shotgunnery were a matter of sighting and not, as it is, fast gun pointing based on instinct and practice.

Actually, there are a number of gun gadgets which haven't as yet been invented, for which there would be at least enough demand among practical shooters to keep the wolf from some gadgeteer's door. For one example, in every telescopic sight made today, the aiming point is fixed in size—too coarse for long precision shots, especially in fading light.

How handy would it be if we could shift the size, the span of our scope's aiming point to suit the shooting situation! Might be a violation of the law of optics, too, but what are laws to a gun gadgeteer.

Vernon Heads For Comeback Award of Year

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—When the ballots are counted for baseball's comeback-of-the-year award this fall, Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators is certain to be well up in the voting.

Vernon batted only .251 in 1952 and, at 35, it was believed he had seen his best years. One of them was in 1946 when he led the American League in batting with .353.

But the veteran first sacker has been one of the real surprises this season. He currently holds a 15 point edge in the junior circuit hitting race with a .335 mark to .320 for runner-up Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians.

Further emphasizing Mickey's comeback this year is his improvement in other batting departments. Last year, he finished with 143 hits, 33 doubles, 10 homers and 80 runs batted in. So far in 1953, he has compiled 146 hits, 34 doubles, 10 home runs and 77 RBI's.

Irvin Leads NL

In the National League, Monte Irvin of the New York Giants leads with a .339 average. The 34-year-old outfielder, who sprained an ankle last Sunday, picked up four points last week while Red Schoendienst, his closest competitor, dropped 12 points to .333.

Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox and George Kell of the Boston Red Sox both went into a tailspin last week, and are tied for third with .316 apiece. Minoso dropped nine points and Kell six.

Brooklyn's Carl Furillo moved into third place in the National League with a .329 slate. He gained two points on nine hits in 25 at bats.

Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia Athletics blasted out four home runs to wrest the American League lead from Rosen. He has 29 to Al's 27. Rosen continues to set the pace in RBI's with 92.

Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews tops the National League in home runs with 36 and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn has driven in the most runs, 103.

Legion Blasts Rotary, 8 to 4

Five-Run First Inning Hands Losers Ninth Loss

Steltz Pitches Five-Hitter

The Rotary nine has been trying unsuccessfully all season long to notch their first victory in the Fraternal Youth League.

Whatever designs they had yesterday, after eight straight setbacks, were rudely jolted by the American Legion powerhouse.

Racking up their seventh win in 10 starts to move a game behind the league-leading Elks, the Legionnaires exploded for five runs in the first frame and went on to score a decisive 8-3 decision.

The pitching statistics were fairly even but that's where the comparison ended. Five Rotary miscues and the club's lack of punch in the clutches told the story. Each side had four hits but Steltz doled out nine walks. Rotary blew several scoring chances leaving 10 runners stranded.

Bad First Inning

Trouble started quickly for the Rotary. Ray Reilly, the Legion leadoff, reached first on John Turck's error and Jack Effner hit Tony Amato with a pitched ball. A passed ball advanced each a base and Bob Maines walked to load the bases with one out.

Reilly and Amato scored when Turck booted Bob Weishaupt's grounder. Maines reached third and Weishaupt got to second before Don Duffy blooped a single to right, chasing Maines across with the third run. Weishaupt scored the fourth run on Paul Sepesy's infield out and a moment later the Legion pulled off another of its copyrighted squeeze plays with Duffy on the scoring end.

No player on either side had more than one hit and all eight safeties were singles.

Booster League

Booster Bowling League meets at the Bowlodrome tonight at 7:30 to re-organize for the 1953-54 season. All team captains and those seeking franchises are invited.

Bowling Notices To Be Restricted To One Insertion

Notices of reorganization of bowling leagues for the 1953-54 season will be restricted to one insertion for each. A notice announcing the organization of the league, with team names and opening night schedules will also be published. All such notices and scores during the season must reach the sports department by 9 a. m. daily.

Esopus Little League To Receive Proceeds

That pleasant travesty on the national pastime—donkey baseball—returns to the area Wednesday night, when two Port Ewen teams meet under the arclights at Ross Field.

Game time is 8:30 p. m., with the entire proceeds going to the Town of Esopus Little League.

The lights and donkeys will be furnished by a road outfit that has specialized in asinine baseball for more than two decades. The comedians will be strictly home grown talent playing under the banner of teams to be known as the Ball and Chainers and the Gay Blades.

Knute Beichert, who is turning to donkey baseball to forget the present plight of the New York Giants will be ably assisted by a distinguished group of Esopus residents on Ball and Chainers roster. Among them are Wilson Tinney, Jack Spinnenweber, Fayette Smith, Bill Maurer, Bill Ferguson, Bob Graves, Bud Potter and Cleon Robinson.

The Gay Blades, made up of young, unattached baseball talent of the community, feature Ronald and Harvey Sleight, Eddie Van Loan, Bob Shelightner, Don Ferraro, Big Jim Ferraro, Gene and Jack Beaver and Bruce Munson.

There will be a nominal admission charge. Spectators are cautioned not to insult the donkeys. They're not responsible for the shenanigans that will unfold at Ross Field tomorrow night.

Alpine Climbers Upset Subway Grill, 4-1, on Koeppen's 3-Hitter

Beichert's, Hilltop Go Eight Innings, 0-0

Clubbed for 17 hits in his last outing, Don Koeppen rallied with a brilliant three-hitter yesterday, as Alpine Climbers upset the league-leading Subway Grill, 4 to 1, in the City Softball League.

In handing the leaders their only second loss in 18 games, Games, Koeppen pitched perfect ball for five innings. In the sixth the Grillmen averted a shutout when Vince Peck doubled and scored on a bad relay from the outfield.

George Magley's bases-loaded double gave Koeppen a three-run lead in the second and that was more than he needed. The Climbers, winning their 10th victory of the season against eight losses, collected only six hits off Joe Amato and Tom Spada but bunched four of them in the second.

The doubles by Peck and Magley were the only extra base blows of the game and the nine hits for both sides went to nine different players.

Play Scoreless Tie

In another tremendous pitching duel between Joe Enright and Danny Basch, Beichert's resurgent Studebakers and Hilltop battled to an 8-inning scoreless deadlock.

The game was called on account of darkness after the only major scoring threat of the game had been cancelled out by a Studebaker double play in the sixth. Form Coughlin engineered the twin killing.

One of the best City Softball League games in years, the contest was marred by only one inconsequential miscue. Neither pitcher permitted an extra base hit and only Andy Murphy of Beichert's was able to get more than one single.

G. Wells and A. Waterous Cop Qualifying Medals

Former Posts 72 At Wiltwyck Club

Gerald Wells, the most improved player in this year's Ulster county amateur championship, and Allen Waterous have won qualifying medals in the championship flights at Wiltwyck and Woodstock.

Wells carded a pair of 36s over Wiltwycks' rugged layout to lead the field by three strokes with a 72 in the 18-hole qualifying test.

In first and second round matches, he brushed past Art Organtini, 4 and 3, and Louis G. Bruhn, 5 and 3, to land in the round of four with Maurice and Dick Davenport and J. Watson Bailey.

Waterous, who recently captured the 1953 club handicap title at Woodstock, continued his excellent play with a front nine 35 and three successive 37s in the 36-hole qualifying competition. He had a 2-stroke advantage over defending champion, Boyer Gonzales and his son, Billy Waterous. Fred Allen carded a 73-76-149, a figure matched by August Torres.

Bailey Beats Daley

In one of the key matches in Wiltwycks' second round, J. Watson Bailey edged Bob Daley, 2-up. Daley had clobbered Clyde Wonderly, Jr., 7 and 6, in a first round test. Maurice Davenport defeated George Schick, 3 and 1, while Dick Davenport ousted Bill Costello, 3 and 2.

Daley and Maurice Davenport fired 75s in the qualifying play. Costello posted a 78, while Louis G. Bruhn and J. Watson Bailey posted 80s.

The summaries at Wiltwyck:

First Round

Gerald Wells d Art Organtini, 4 and 3

Louis G. Bruhn d George Rifenbary, 1-up

Maurice Davenport d A. J. Anderson, 5 and 4

George Schick d Ivan Whitmore, 3 and 1

Bob Daley d Clyde Wonderly, Jr., 7 and 6

J. W. Bailey d Sy Werbalowsky, 4 and 3

Bill Costello d Ernest LeFevre, 4 and 3

Dick Davenport d Roland Riegel, 7 and 6

Second Round

G. Wells d L. G. Bruhn, 5 and 3

M. Davenport d G. Schick, 3 and 1

J. W. Bailey d Bob Daley, 2-up

R. Davenport d B. Costello, 3 and 2

Doubleheader Opener For Recreation League

Its single game inaugural rained out Sunday night, the Recreation Baseball League gets under way with a doubleheader tonight at municipal stadium.

First game at 6 p. m. brings together Hercules and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The nightcap at 8:30 pairs the Recreations and E&R squad.

A large crowd is expected to attend the premiere of the new 15-18 year circuit. The second game brings together two of the finest young pitchers in the area—Bruce Bechtold and Frank Reis. Bechtold will pitch for the Recs, while Reis toils for the E&R.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
(Shooting Editor)

When better mouse traps are built, it is quite possible that some gun gadgeteer will build them, and then wonder why the world does not flock to his door-step waving folding money.

For among the gun-minded there's a gruesomely high percentage of gadget-minded folks who are perpetually dreaming up useless dinguses and then wondering why they don't sell.

For example, not long ago two earnest young men came into my office with their brain child. Fresh out of the service, they'd piled up their overseas and mustering out pay as business capital, and proposed to manufacture a muff for shotguns.

Actually, they had a point. Their model was of sheepskin, shaped to fit loosely over the butt-stock and fasten with a snap around the small of the gun. Hence the shooter would need no glove on his trigger hand. He could sit all day in a withering cold duck blind or park on a stump to shiver out a deer, but his pinkies would be kept all nice and warm under the fleece, his trigger finger alive and sensitive for any nicety of trigger pull.

Fine. Except for one thing. When you had the muff on the gun, you couldn't hit a small to medium-sized barn with it. Wrapping the stock with sheepskin kept things warm all right, but it also fattened the comb of the stock and raised the height of the comb by just the thickness of that sheepskin. Result: the gun inevitably shot way high and way left of where you figured to point it.

All the hickeys to clamp onto shotgun muzzles, rings, cross bars with little pins set in holes and adjustable doo-dads gadgeteers have produced and marketed are of less use to the practical shotgun than a high silk hat. Aids to sighting? Could be if shotgunnery were a matter of sighting and not, as it is, fast gun pointing based on instinct and practice.

Actually, there are a number of gun gadgets which haven't as yet been invented, for which there would be at least enough demand among practical shooters to keep the wolf from some gadgeteer's door. For one example, in every telescopic sight made today, the aiming point is fixed in size—too coarse for long precision shots, especially in fading light.

How handy would it be if we could shift the size, the span of our scope's aiming point to suit the shooting situation! Might be a violation of the law of optics, too, but what are laws to a gun gadgeteer.

Vernon Heads For Comeback Award of Year

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—When the ballots are counted for baseball's comeback-of-the-year award this fall, Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators is certain to be well up in the voting.

Vernon batted only .251 in 1952 and, at 35, it was believed he had seen his best years. One of them was in 1946 when he led the American League in batting with .353.

But the veteran first sacker has been one of the real surprises this season. He currently holds a 15 point edge in the junior circuit hitting race with a .335 mark to .320 for runner-up Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians.

Further emphasizing Mickey's comeback this year is his improvement in other batting departments. Last year, he finished with 143 hits, 33 doubles, 10 homers and 80 runs batted in. So far in 1953, he has compiled 146 hits, 34 doubles, 10 home runs and 77 RBI's.

Irvin Leads NL

In the National League, Monte Irvin of the New York Giants leads with a .339 average. The 34-year-old outfielder, who sprained an ankle last Sunday, picked up four points last week while Red Schoendienst, his closest competitor, dropped 12 points to .333.

Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox and George Kell of the Boston Red Sox both went into a tailspin last week, and are tied for third with .316 apiece. Minoso dropped nine points and Kell six.

Brooklyn's Carl Furillo moved into third place in the National League with a .329 slate. He gained two points on nine hits in 25 at bats.

Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia Athletics blasted out four home runs to wrest the American League lead from Rosen. He has 29 to Al's 27. Rosen continues to set the pace in RBI's with 92.

Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews tops the National League in home runs with 36 and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn has driven in the most runs, 103.

Legion Blasts Rotary, 8 to 4

Five-Run First Inning Hands Losers Ninth Loss

Steltz Pitches Five-Hitter

The Rotary nine has been trying unsuccessfully all season long to notch their first victory in the Fraternal Youth League.

Whatever designs they had yesterday, after eight straight setbacks, were rudely jolted by the American Legion powerhouse.

Racking up their seventh win in 10 starts to move a game behind the league-leading Elks, the Legionnaires exploded for five runs in the first frame and went on to score a decisive 8-3 decision.

The pitching statistics were fairly even but that's where the comparison ended. Five Rotary miscues and the club's lack of punch in the clutches told the story. Each side had four hits but Steltz doled out nine walks. Rotary blew several scoring chances leaving 10 runners stranded.

Bad First Inning

Trouble started quickly for the Rotary. Ray Reilly, the Legion leadoff, reached first on John Turck's error and Jack Effner hit Tony Amato with a pitched ball. A passed ball advanced each a base and Bob Maines walked to load the bases with one out.

Reilly and Amato scored when Turck booted Bob Weishaupt's grounder. Maines reached third and Weishaupt got to second before Don Duffy blooped a single to right, chasing Maines across with the third run. Weishaupt scored the fourth run on Paul Sepesy's infield out and a moment later the Legion pulled off another of its copyrighted squeeze plays with Duffy on the scoring end.

No player on either side had more than one hit and all eight safeties were singles.

Bowling Notices To Be Restricted To One Insertion

Notices of reorganization of bowling leagues for the 1953-54 season will be restricted to one insertion for each. A notice announcing the organization of the league, with team names and opening night schedules will also be published. All such notices and scores during the season must reach the sports department by 9 a. m. daily.

Esopus Little League To Receive Proceeds

That pleasant travesty on the national pastime—donkey baseball—returns to the area Wednesday night, when two Port Ewen teams meet under the arclights at Ross Field.

Game time is 8:30 p. m., with the entire proceeds going to the Town of Esopus Little League.

The lights and donkeys will be furnished by a road outfit that has specialized in asinine baseball for more than two decades. The comedians will be strictly home grown talent playing under the banner of teams to be known as the Ball and Chainers and the Gay Blades.

Knute Beichert, who is turning to donkey baseball to forget the present plight of the New York Giants will be ably assisted by a distinguished group of Esopus residents on Ball and Chainers roster. Among them are Wilson Tinney, Jack Spinnenweber, Fayette Smith, Bill Maurer, Bill Ferguson, Bob Graves, Bud Potter and Cleon Robinson.

The Gay Blades, made up of young, unattached baseball talent of the community, feature Ronald and Harvey Sleight, Eddie Van Loan, Bob Shelightner, Don Ferraro, Big Jim Ferraro, Gene and Jack Beaver and Bruce Munson.

There will be a nominal admission charge. Spectators are cautioned not to insult the donkeys. They're not responsible for the shenanigans that will unfold at Ross Field tomorrow night.

Kingston-Saugerties 'Old Timers' Game Scheduled September 13

4th Annual Set Will Be Played At Athletic Field

Kingston Boys Club To Receive Proceeds

The fourth annual "Old Timers" baseball game between pre-World War 2 veterans of Kingston and Saugerties will be played at the Athletic Field on Sunday, Sept. 13, at 2:30 p. m., it was announced last night.

The entire proceeds of the game will be turned over to the Kingston Boys Club.

The contest is designed as an annual reunion of players who competed for the Kingston All Stars and Saugerties A. C. and Bushwicks of the 1930s.

Saugerties leads in the series, two games to one, having won the first two games, before the locals crashed through last year at Cantine Field.

A reception for the players and wives of both teams will be held at Lawton Park after the ball game.

For 40-Year Olds

The game will be restricted to players 40 years or older, except for a few specific exceptions. Members of the local committee, including Thomas M. Davitt, Willard Thomas and Charles J. Tiano said they would meet with the Saugerties committee in the next few days to iron out details of the game.

The first three games of the series has attracted nearly all of the old timers who competed in the Golden Era of area independent baseball from the early 1930s to 1940.

Manager Les Brink of Saugerties announced yesterday that his players would start working out several times weekly. He had already designated James "Lefty" Martin as the starting hurler.

The local lineup and other details concerning the game will be announced later.

Carlino's 643 Leads Classic

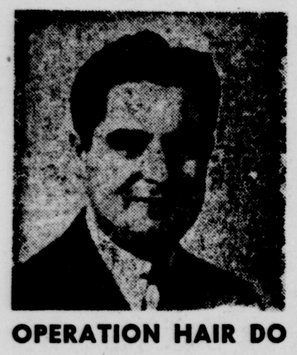

Tom Carlino and Johnny Ferraro rolled into the "600" bracket in last night's session of the Summer Classic at Bowlodrome.

Carlino stacked games of 216-202-225- for a 643 series and Ferraro fired 225-219-627. Also among the top scorers were Larry Weishaput 206-233-594, Jackie Ferraro 575, George Robinson 218-569, Ronnie Mauro 203-567, Bill Schabot 559, B. Chipman 553 and Tony Campanella 222-548.

Jim Piersall's Single Ruins Porterfield Bid for 0-Hitter

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Porterfield's "bad dream" team is growing. He's added another outfielder and may soon have a full lineup.

Porterfield, a stylish Washington righthander who is specializing this season in pitching shutouts, has blanked the opposition eight times in 17 complete games. That's more than any other pitcher has accomplished in either circuit since Bob Lemon's 10 in 1948.

He hurled No. 8 last night, a sparkling one-hitter against the Boston Red Sox which he won 2-0.

In the only other action the Milwaukee Braves whittled half a game off the Dodgers's National League lead by whipping St. Louis 8-2. The Dodgers still lead by 6½ games.

Piersall Spoiler

The lone Boston safety was a third inning single by rightfielder Jim Piersall.

That blow put Piersall in Porterfield's "bad dream" lineup which also included shortstop Eddie Joost of Philadelphia and second baseman Bobby Avila and lefthander Dale Mitchell of Cleveland. These are the four men who have spoiled no-hitters for the shutout ace since he hit the majors in 1948.

Mitchell ruined a hitless game during Porterfield's freshman year. Avila broke up one in 1951. Joost cracked the spell at Philadelphia exactly three months ago. Piersall's hit also put the blight on Porterfield's 29th birthday celebration.

"It was the only ball I threw that didn't go where I wanted it to go," the pitcher said after the game.

The victory was the 14th of the year for Porterfield, more than he's ever won before in the big time. He's lost nine.

Spahn Wins

Two other pitchers with one-hitters to their credit this season—Warren Spahn and Harvey Haddix—were involved in the St. Louis-Milwaukee contest. Spahn was in form but Haddix wasn't. He gave up 10 hits before bowing out in the fifth inning.

Milwaukee scored once in the first inning, then added five in the second on five hits and two costly errors. The Cards made three miscues in all and every one of them led directly to a run.

Howard, K. Roosa High in Mixer

Richard Howard and Kay Roosa posted scores of 562 and 517 to lead their respective divisions of the Sangi Summer Mixed League.

William G. Evans shot 561, Mitzie Arlensky 554, A. Wood Sr. 539, Jack Martin 515 and Al Roosa 500. Runnerup B. Reilly had 477 in the distaff department. Mildred Dunn hit 475, Fannie Battaglino 473.

Team results:

Kingston-Saugerties 'Old Timers' Game Scheduled September 13

4th Annual Set Will Be Played At Athletic Field

Kingston Boys Club To Receive Proceeds

The fourth annual "Old Timers" baseball game between pre-World War 2 veterans of Kingston and Saugerties will be played at the Athletic Field on Sunday, Sept. 13, at 2:30 p. m., it was announced last night.

The entire proceeds of the game will be turned over to the Kingston Boys Club.

The contest is designed as an annual reunion of players who competed for the Kingston All Stars and Saugerties A. C. and Bushwicks of the 1930s.

Saugerties leads in the series, two games to one, having won the first two games, before the locals crashed through last year at Cantine Field.

A reception for the players and wives of both teams will be held at Lawton Park after the ball game.

For 40-Year Olds

The game will be restricted to players 40 years or older, except for a few specific exceptions. Members of the local committee, including Thomas M. Davitt, Willard Thomas and Charles J. Tiano said they would meet with the Saugerties committee in the next few days to iron out details of the game.

Tiano will serve as manager of the Kingston squad with Davitt and Thomas as coaches.

The first three games of the series has attracted nearly all of the old timers who competed in the Golden Era of area independent baseball from the early 1930s to 1940.

Manager Les Brink of Saugerties announced yesterday that his players would start working out several times weekly. He had already designated James "Lefty" Martin as the starting hurler.

The local lineup and other details concerning the game will be announced later.

Carlino's 643 Leads Classic

Tom Carlino and Johnny Ferraro rolled into the "600" bracket in last night's session of the Summer Classic at Bowlodrome.

Carlino stacked games of 216-202-225- for a 643 series and Ferraro fired 225-219-627. Also among the top scorers were Larry Weishaput 206-233-594, Jackie Ferraro 575, George Robinson 218-569, Ronnie Mauro 203-567, Bill Schabot 559, B. Chipman 553 and Tony Campanella 222-548.

Team results:

Officials Study

leased American prisoners because some men have said others swallowed the Communist line.

The spokesman said Army Intelligence officers will interview all the exchanged captives as a matter of course, but without any attempt to segregate those who appear to have accepted the heavy doses of Red propaganda.

The long voyage home is counted upon by the army to strengthen the men physically as well as to ventilate their minds of any Communist notions.

Would Take No Action

As to the possibility that some of them may have agreed to serve as Communist agents, a spokesman said the army would take no action before settling all doubt on that score.

One freed American told a story at Freedom Village yesterday of a group of 30 repatriates from a prisoner camp on the Yalu river who intended to preach communism in the United States.

Others said some prisoners had "played along" with the Reds to get better treatment, so that it was difficult to distinguish between those who simply took the course of least resistance and those who may have seriously embraced communism.

Officials here noted that free speech is one of America's basic guarantees. However, any American converted to communism would have to take care not to violate laws prohibiting subversive acts.

For example, the Smith Act prohibits conspiracy to teach and advocate the overthrow of this government by violence, with penalties ranging up to five years imprisonment. Most of the Communist party's top U. S. leadership has been put behind bars under this statute.

Any Red-indoctrinated prisoners who wanted to distribute Communist pamphlets or similar material in this country would have to register with the attorney general as an agent for a foreign principal.

Distribution without such registration is punishable by fines up to $10,000 or imprisonment for five years, or both.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

• Around the Fairways:

Alvin Boice's record shattering 61 at Twaalfskill (for amateurs) is an incredible accomplishment when you check his scorecard and find a bogie and a double bogie. . . . The Silent Swinger needs only the Herdegen Memorial to complete his Ulster county Little Slam. . . . It's a feat that ranks with George Hughes' 62 in the first county amateur at Woodstock.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Lew Worsham's spectacular 140-yard eagle-2 (with a wedge, mind you) must rate as the greatest finish in golf history. It was a $25,000 shot, equalled in golf annals only by Gene Sarazen's famous double eagle on the Augusta National's 15th hole in a Masters tournament. The Squire of Germantown, who is scheduled for a late August appearance at Woodstock, holed out a 235-yard spoon shot to tie Craig Wood in 72 holes and then went on to take the playoff. Gerry Wells and Bob Daley are threats in the Wiltwyck club championships and Woodstockers are predicting a Boyer Gonzales-Allen Waterous finish, although young Norman Foster could make a mess of the form chart. This is the first year in many moons that Poughkeepsie's Ray Billows has not won or threatened in a major golf tournament. The Cinderella Kid is approaching the pipe and slipper stage golf-wise.

• Pros Pick Walter Hagen as Best:

Two of the area's pros—Jim Hutchins of Woodstock and Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill—rate Sir Walter Hagen as the No. 1 golf professional of all time. They base their opinion on Hagen's contribution to the game as a player, promoter and public relations man. Hagen is the man who broke down the British custom of barring professionals from the clubhouse. He got an assist from the then Prince of Wales in that department. Hagen earned his greatest reputation as a match player, having won five PGA titles. His total of 11 major crowns is exceeded only by Bobby Jones' 13. Hagen captured two U. S. Opens and four British Opens. Pressing is the privilege of the professional but the bane of the amateur. An Alex Gerlak tip: When you buy a new set of golf clubs it's vitally important that you get a proper fit for your height, general build and type of swing. Improper fit can warp your entire game and cost you strokes. Particularly important are clubs of the correct length, weight and flexibility of shaft.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

A passage from the official golf rule bok at Hong Kong: "If the ball comes to rest within dangerous proximity to a crocodile, another ball may be dropped." Authors of the periodic Twaalfskill calls to steak roasts, cocktail parties, etc., have done a neat job this year with refreshing originality in their mimeographed announcements. Floyd Flint coming up with a pleasant announcement on the Seniors tournament in the next few days. Finest par-3 golf holes in the area? Here's our list: Wiltwyck No. 8, Twaalfskill No. 3, Palenville No. 8, James Baird No. 3, IBM No. 4, Woodstock No. 9. The Abel Abernethy Memorial Trophy, symbolic of the Twaalfskill championship, will be up for grabs for the 13th time in this year's tournament. William Thiel, better known for his bowling achievements, won the first leg in 1940. Louis J. Smith and Alvin Boice are the only repeaters. Smitty won it in 1944 and 1945 and Boice in 1949 and '50. George Hughes took it in 1951 and Boice came back last year. He's the Ben Hogan of the Twaalfskill field—the man they have to beat.

• Hint to Golfing Husbands:

Teach your wife to play golf that she may grow old gracefully. Through it all, rare companionship develops. Help your wife, along with yourself, to grow old actively, zestfully, and charmingly. Achieve for yourself, thereby, new freedom and profit. Cary Middlecoff says Sam Snead, approaching 41, is one of the finest conditioned athletes in the world for his age. "Watch him swing at a golf ball sometime," says Middlecoff. "Notice the turn he takes. Look at his perfect balance when he hits into the ball. If I turned my body like Snead does, I'd probably break something. He's just like an Indian rubber man. Snead has the body of a 25-year-old. He'll still be tough to beat when he's 50."

Silhouette—The phone rang at the Woodstock Country Club and Bill Davies, the clubhouse attendant, answered. "Is my husband there?" inquired the plaintive voice on the other end of the wire. "I'm sorry, mam," replied the sharp-witted Davies, "there's never anybody's husband around this clubhouse."

How to Play Par Golf

Firm Grip at Top of Backswing

By JULIUS BOROS
(1952 U. S. Open Champion)

Many golfers let go at the top of the backswing.

The grip collapses. The club dips far below the parallel line with the ground which it should approximate. The hands lead the club in the downswing with the clubhead hurrying to catch up.

Rhythm is gone. So is power. Distance is sure to suffer. The shot may result in either a fat fade or a hook.

You must contain all your power at the top of the swing so you can remain firm and completely in control of the downswing. Otherwise the clubface will not be square to the ball at impact.

If you are troubled by letting go at the top, apply pressure to the last three fingers of the left hand and thumb of the right. This should give you a firm grip at the top.

One other problem you may encounter at the top of the swing is having your right elbow pointing out instead of down. This is a point you should check if you are slicing.

This is another action that can result from an improper pivot. When the hip is properly turned out of the way, the elbow will fall in close to the body.

Never let the right arm become too tense, or you may suffer the same problem from that. The hands being ahead of the ball at impact generally is the result of over-swinging. This also can be brought about by lunging.

AHEAD—Julius Boros' incorrect pivot, or lunging, has his hands ahead of ball as the clubhead comes in contact. (NEA)

Pivot, don't sway.

Bikes, Boat Stolen

Thefts of two bicycles and a row boat were reported to the police yesterday. Joseph Nerone, of 92 Abruyn street, reported at 5:22 p. m., his 12-foot rowboat, was stolen from the river off Kingston Point Park. It was chained and locked to the cement bridge there, he said. It is valued at $60. Catherine Mehm of 54 Henry street reported at 6:14 p. m., that her bicycle valued at $38.50 was stolen from in front of her house, and Linda Giannuzzi, of 162 Clinton avenue, reported her bicycle, valued at $50, stolen from a garage.

Iowa Soldier Says Informers Were Many

Freedom Village Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—A liberated Iowa soldier said today there were so many informers among the prisoners at his North Korean camp "you couldn't say anything against the Reds without the Chinese finding out about it within 20 minutes."

Cpl. Richard A. Holmquist of Boone, Iowa, added bitterly:

Polio Cases Are Higher

Albany, Aug. 11 (AP)—Polio cases are running more than 60 per cent higher than last year's total in the 57 counties outside New York city, despite a slight drop in the number of new cases. The State Health Department said today 91 new cases were reported last week, compared with 1906 the week before. The new cases boosted the 1953 total to 511, compared with 313 for the corresponding period last year.

Fayette, Mo. (AP)—The sparrows and starlings were getting so thick around the courthouse that people stayed away in droves. Firemen tried to hose them from the trees. The birds loved the water and flocked to the area in even greater number. Anyway, the sidewalks were cleaner for a while.

BEST M-G-M MUSICAL OF ALL TIME!
EVERYBODY IS GETTING ABOARD
"The Band Wagon"
TO GIVE YOU AN IDEA OF THE GREAT ATTRACTION COMING TO THIS CITY WE'RE REPRINTING BELOW THE REVIEWS OF ITS WORLD PREMIERE AT RADIO CITY MUSIC HALL, N. Y.

"One of the best musical films ever made. It is a honey. Musical numbers shaped to the champagne tastes of all. Everything in this picture exemplifies its rousing theme song. That's entertainment indeed!"—N. Y. TIMES

"A wonderful musical! Superfine! M-G-M has done it again. Has so many extraordinary qualities this reviewer hardly knows where to begin enumerating them. Highest Rating!" —N. Y. DAILY NEWS

"Crowded with fun! Sparkling musical! The Dietz-Schwartz music...the Astaire charm...the Charisse flair...the Freed-Minnelli showmanship!" —N. Y. HERALD TRIBUNE

"Sure winner! Excellent melodies and sparkling dancing! Fred Astaire and Cyd Charisse brilliant, particularly in the dazzling modern jazz ballet 'Girl Hunt' which is alone worthy of the admission!" N. Y. DAILY MIRROR

"A pure delight. Accomplishes in high style what has previously seemed impossible. Here is a screen musical that is sentimental and sophisticated at the same time. A surprising Astaire hits a new high!" —N. Y. WORLD-TELEGRAM AND SUN

"The best musical of the week, the month, the year, the decade or, for all I know, of all time. You can't afford to miss it if you're going to see a motion picture this year! For my money, it's better than 'An American In Paris' which won prizes!"—N. Y. POST leased American prisoners because some men have said others swallowed the Communist line.

The spokesman said Army Intelligence officers will interview all the exchanged captives as a matter of course, but without any attempt to segregate those who appear to have accepted the heavy doses of Red propaganda.

The long voyage home is counted upon by the army to strengthen the men physically as well as to ventilate their minds of any Communist notions.

Would Take No Action

As to the possibility that some of them may have agreed to serve as Communist agents, a spokesman said the army would take no action before settling all doubt on that score.

One freed American told a story at Freedom Village yesterday of a group of 30 repatriates from a prisoner camp on the Yalu river who intended to preach communism in the United States.

Others said some prisoners had "played along" with the Reds to get better treatment, so that it was difficult to distinguish between those who simply took the course of least resistance and those who may have seriously embraced communism.

Officials here noted that free speech is one of America's basic guarantees. However, any American converted to communism would have to take care not to violate laws prohibiting subversive acts.

For example, the Smith Act prohibits conspiracy to teach and advocate the overthrow of this government by violence, with penalties ranging up to five years imprisonment. Most of the Communist party's top U. S. leadership has been put behind bars under this statute.

Any Red-indoctrinated prisoners who wanted to distribute Communist pamphlets or similar material in this country would have to register with the attorney general as an agent for a foreign principal.

Distribution without such registration is punishable by fines up to $10,000 or imprisonment for five years, or both.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

• Around the Fairways:

Alvin Boice's record shattering 61 at Twaalfskill (for amateurs) is an incredible accomplishment when you check his scorecard and find a bogie and a double bogie. . . . The Silent Swinger needs only the Herdegen Memorial to complete his Ulster county Little Slam. . . . It's a feat that ranks with George Hughes' 62 in the first county amateur at Woodstock.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Lew Worsham's spectacular 140-yard eagle-2 (with a wedge, mind you) must rate as the greatest finish in golf history. It was a $25,000 shot, equalled in golf annals only by Gene Sarazen's famous double eagle on the Augusta National's 15th hole in a Masters tournament. The Squire of Germantown, who is scheduled for a late August appearance at Woodstock, holed out a 235-yard spoon shot to tie Craig Wood in 72 holes and then went on to take the playoff. Gerry Wells and Bob Daley are threats in the Wiltwyck club championships and Woodstockers are predicting a Boyer Gonzales-Allen Waterous finish, although young Norman Foster could make a mess of the form chart. This is the first year in many moons that Poughkeepsie's Ray Billows has not won or threatened in a major golf tournament. The Cinderella Kid is approaching the pipe and slipper stage golf-wise.

• Pros Pick Walter Hagen as Best:

Two of the area's pros—Jim Hutchins of Woodstock and Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill—rate Sir Walter Hagen as the No. 1 golf professional of all time. They base their opinion on Hagen's contribution to the game as a player, promoter and public relations man. Hagen is the man who broke down the British custom of barring professionals from the clubhouse. He got an assist from the then Prince of Wales in that department. Hagen earned his greatest reputation as a match player, having won five PGA titles. His total of 11 major crowns is exceeded only by Bobby Jones' 13. Hagen captured two U. S. Opens and four British Opens. Pressing is the privilege of the professional but the bane of the amateur. An Alex Gerlak tip: When you buy a new set of golf clubs it's vitally important that you get a proper fit for your height, general build and type of swing. Improper fit can warp your entire game and cost you strokes. Particularly important are clubs of the correct length, weight and flexibility of shaft.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

A passage from the official golf rule bok at Hong Kong: "If the ball comes to rest within dangerous proximity to a crocodile, another ball may be dropped." Authors of the periodic Twaalfskill calls to steak roasts, cocktail parties, etc., have done a neat job this year with refreshing originality in their mimeographed announcements. Floyd Flint coming up with a pleasant announcement on the Seniors tournament in the next few days. Finest par-3 golf holes in the area? Here's our list: Wiltwyck No. 8, Twaalfskill No. 3, Palenville No. 8, James Baird No. 3, IBM No. 4, Woodstock No. 9. The Abel Abernethy Memorial Trophy, symbolic of the Twaalfskill championship, will be up for grabs for the 13th time in this year's tournament. William Thiel, better known for his bowling achievements, won the first leg in 1940. Louis J. Smith and Alvin Boice are the only repeaters. Smitty won it in 1944 and 1945 and Boice in 1949 and '50. George Hughes took it in 1951 and Boice came back last year. He's the Ben Hogan of the Twaalfskill field—the man they have to beat.

• Hint to Golfing Husbands:

Teach your wife to play golf that she may grow old gracefully. Through it all, rare companionship develops. Help your wife, along with yourself, to grow old actively, zestfully, and charmingly. Achieve for yourself, thereby, new freedom and profit. Cary Middlecoff says Sam Snead, approaching 41, is one of the finest conditioned athletes in the world for his age. "Watch him swing at a golf ball sometime," says Middlecoff. "Notice the turn he takes. Look at his perfect balance when he hits into the ball. If I turned my body like Snead does, I'd probably break something. He's just like an Indian rubber man. Snead has the body of a 25-year-old. He'll still be tough to beat when he's 50."

Silhouette—The phone rang at the Woodstock Country Club and Bill Davies, the clubhouse attendant, answered. "Is my husband there?" inquired the plaintive voice on the other end of the wire. "I'm sorry, mam," replied the sharp-witted Davies, "there's never anybody's husband around this clubhouse."

How to Play Par Golf

Firm Grip at Top of Backswing

By JULIUS BOROS
(1952 U. S. Open Champion)

Many golfers let go at the top of the backswing.

The grip collapses. The club dips far below the parallel line with the ground which it should approximate. The hands lead the club in the downswing with the clubhead hurrying to catch up.

Rhythm is gone. So is power. Distance is sure to suffer. The shot may result in either a fat fade or a hook.

You must contain all your power at the top of the swing so you can remain firm and completely in control of the downswing. Otherwise the clubface will not be square to the ball at impact.

If you are troubled by letting go at the top, apply pressure to the last three fingers of the left hand and thumb of the right. This should give you a firm grip at the top.

One other problem you may encounter at the top of the swing is having your right elbow pointing out instead of down. This is a point you should check if you are slicing.

This is another action that can result from an improper pivot. When the hip is properly turned out of the way, the elbow will fall in close to the body.

Never let the right arm become too tense, or you may suffer the same problem from that. The hands being ahead of the ball at impact generally is the result of over-swinging. This also can be brought about by lunging.

Remember that distance is regulated by the speed of the clubhead, which is controlled by the pivot.

AHEAD—Julius Boros' incorrect pivot, or lunging, has his hands ahead of ball as the clubhead comes in contact. (NEA)

Pivot, don't sway.

Bikes, Boat Stolen

Thefts of two bicycles and a row boat were reported to the police yesterday. Joseph Nerone, of 92 Abruyn street, reported at 5:22 p. m., his 12-foot rowboat, was stolen from the river off Kingston Point Park. It was chained and locked to the cement bridge there, he said. It is valued at $60. Catherine Mehm of 54 Henry street reported at 6:14 p. m., that her bicycle valued at $38.50 was stolen from in front of her house, and Linda Giannuzzi, of 162 Clinton avenue, reported her bicycle, valued at $50, stolen from a garage.

Iowa Soldier Says Informers Were Many

Freedom Village, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—A liberated Iowa soldier said today there were so many informers among the prisoners at his North Korean camp "you couldn't say anything against the Reds without the Chinese finding out about it within 20 minutes."

Cpl. Richard A. Holmquist of Boone, Iowa, added bitterly:

Polio Cases Are Higher

Albany, Aug. 11 (AP)—Polio cases are running more than 60 per cent higher than last year's total in the 57 counties outside New York city, despite a slight drop in the number of new cases. The State Health Department said today 91 new cases were reported last week, compared with 1906 the week before. The new cases boosted the 1953 total to 511, compared with 313 for the corresponding period last year.

For the Birds

Fayette, Mo. (AP)—The sparrows and starlings were getting so thick around the courthouse that people stayed away in droves. Firemen tried to hose them from the trees. The birds loved the water and flocked to the area in even greater number. Anyway, the sidewalks were cleaner for a while.

EVERYBODY IS GETTING ABOARD

TO GIVE YOU AN IDEA OF THE GREAT ATTRACTION COMING TO THIS CITY WE'RE REPRINTING BELOW THE REVIEWS OF ITS WORLD PREMIERE AT RADIO CITY MUSIC HALL, N. Y.

"One of the best musical films ever made. It is a honey. Musical numbers shaped to the champagne tastes of all. Everything in this picture exemplifies its rousing theme song. That's entertainment indeed!"—N. Y. TIMES

"A wonderful musical! Superfine! M-G-M has done it again. Has so many extraordinary qualities this reviewer hardly knows where to begin enumerating them. Highest Rating!"—N. Y. DAILY NEWS

"Crowded with fun! Sparkling musical! The Dietz-Schwartz music...the Astaire charm...the Charisse flair...the Freed-Minnelli showmanship!"—N. Y. HERALD TRIBUNE

"Sure winner! Excellent melodies and sparkling dancing! Fred Astaire and Cyd Charisse brilliant, particularly in the dazzling modern jazz ballet 'Girl Hunt' which is alone worthy of the admission!"—N. Y. DAILY MIRROR

"A pure delight. Accomplishes in high style what has previously seemed impossible. Here is a screen musical that is sentimental and sophisticated at the same time. A surprising Astaire hits a new high!"—N. Y. WORLD-TELEGRAM AND SUN

"The best musical of the week, the month, the year, the decade or, for all I know, of all time. You can't afford to miss it if you're going to see a motion picture this year! For my money, it's better than 'An American In Paris' which won prizes!"—N. Y. POST

Patrolman Resigns From Local Force

James Harbeck, 32, of 12 Murphy street, who was recently appointed a regular patrolman on the local police department, last night handed in his resignation, Police Chief Raymond VanBuren said today.

Harbeck was appointed a special patrolman on May 29, 1951, and served as such until he was appointed a regular member of the department on last June 1. Chief VanBuren indicated the resignation was handed in without prior notice and no details as to future plans of the former patrolman were given.

Chief VanBuren said the department now has one vacancy unless Sgt. James J. Cullum, who is on leave of absence, does not return next month. Sgt. Cullum has been doing investigating work for a state department, and works out of Albany.

The Municipal Civil Service Commission said only two names remain on the list of eligibility from which recent appointments were made to the department.

Backward Archaeology

Westport, Mass. (AP)—Since she became interested in archaeology two years ago, Mrs. James L. Raposa has found hundreds of Stone Age artifacts practically in her own back yard. While many have been arrow and spear heads, one of her most prized finds turned out not to be the spear head she thought it was. Experts tell her it is a nearly perfect knife of green-gray banded felsite. A smoothly worked stone tool was described at the Bronson Museum in Attleboro, headquarters of the Massachusetts Archaeological Society, as a gouge from the so-called "stone bowl" era of 1,500 B. C. She found a stone axe in a trench dug for an electric cable for her house.

First Hand Report on Korea

Illinois Democrat Hits GOP Truce, Prosperity Claims

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)— Sen. Douglas (D.-Ill.) today labelled as "the most far-fetched thing I've ever heard" Republican claims of credit for prosperity at home and the truce in Korea.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (R.-Mass.) made the claims in a nationwide telecast lauding the record of the new administration and the first session of the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress.

Martin said the Korean war was "the Number One" problem facing the GOP regime when it took over from the Democrats in January. He declared that it was met by "a refreshing toughness" in foreign affairs which "touched off an amazing chain of events."

Order to U. S. Fleet

The first move, Martin said, was Eisenhower's order to the U. S. 7th Fleet to quit shielding Red China against possible attacks from Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces in Formosa.

Results of the new policy, narrators on the telecast said, included the exchange of wounded prisoners in Korea, the Korean truce, anti-Communist riots in East Germany, desertion by Communist fliers, and the release of William Oatis, Associated Press reporter imprisoned in Communist Czechoslovakia.

"Why doesn't Speaker Martin claim the sun spots and the drouth?" Douglas commented to a newsman.

"President Truman probably could have had a peace in Korea last summer if he had been willing to take the same prisoner of war terms which we now have accepted."

The Illinois senator said he feared there were weaknesses in the present cease-fire terms which would become obvious soon. One, he said, was the privilege granted the North Koreans to build air fields down almost to the 38th Parallel.

As for the 7th Fleet order, Douglas said it was no change in policy—that Truman had been permitting the Chinese Nationalists to make hit-and-run raids on the coast without formal sanction.

The senator emphasized that, despite Eisenhower's order, "there has been no invasion of the mainland" by Chiang Kai-shek's forces.

Ellenville Man Is Fined as 'Bookie'

Robert Brown, 43, of Ellenville, who was arrested recently on a charge of "making book" at a tavern there, pleaded guilty last night before Justice Benjamin Lonstein and received a $200 fine and a 90-day suspended sentence.

When arraigned recently before Lonstein, Brown pleaded innocent through his attorney John Bonomi and was released under $250 bail for his appearance last night.

State police said the arrest was made on information from the District Attorney Howard C. St. John and Ellenville Police Chief Frank Groppe.

POW Tells About Fear And Hunger in North

Seoul, Aug. 11 (AP)—A South Korean freed from Communist captivity said today most North Koreans live in "dissatisfaction, fear and hunger."

He also said he talked briefly with a Russian officer in his 25 days as a prisoner.

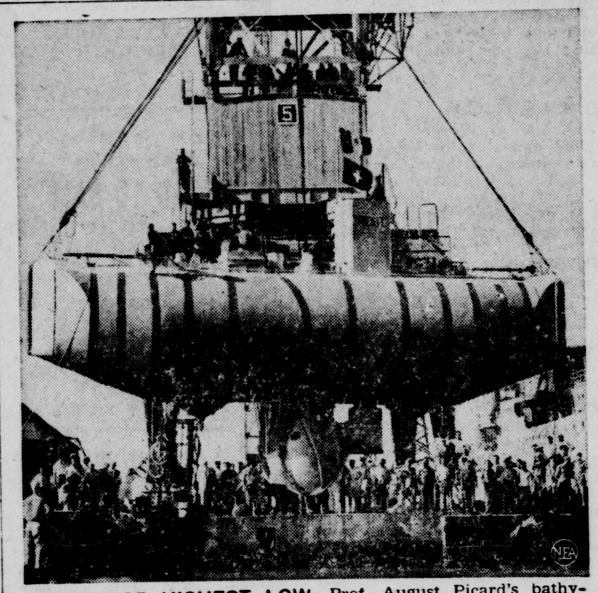

"I saw many North Korean civilians sympathetic with allied POWs and I was given heart warming advice secretly by some North Korean soldiers," said Sgt. Park Soon Chul.

Pays $100 for Selling Alcohol Off Premises

Charles Weissbord, who operates the Kass Tavern in Greenfield Park, was fined $200 yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Kerhonkson on a charge of selling alcohol off the premises with an on-the-premises license.

Poppel suspended payment of $100 of the fine imposed. Weissbord was arrested at the tavern, located on Route 52 about half way between Woodburn and Ellenville, by state police of the Ellenville Station.

BUILT FOR HIGHEST LOW—Prof. August Picard's bathysphere is suspended in mid-air during its launching at Castellammare di Stabia, Italy. The famed Swiss-born scientist will use the strange-looking vessel to explore the depths of the Tyrrhenian Sea. The "ship" consists of two parts. The upper, cigar-shaped part is a watertight compartment where special gasoline can be stored. The lower part is where the professor and his son will conduct their experiments and in which they hope to reach the lowest depth ever visited by man.

Provinces Back Iran's Premier

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 11 (AP)—Iran's Communists were expected today to push harder than ever for the ouster of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi as the payoff for their strong support in plebescite votes approving government plans to dissolve Parliament.

The nation's provincial areas gave Premier Mohammed Mossadegh a whopping 1,441,156-694 vote yesterday approving his demand for the ending of the Majlis (lower house of Parliament). Last week, Tehran and its suburbs okayed the proposal 166,607-116.

But the Communist campaign against the Shah and his court appeared certain to weaken the Reds' ties with Mossadegh. The premier has shown no desire to go that far against the ruler, insisting only that he "must reign, not rule," and that the government must be supreme.

The plebiscite vote, though hugely in Mossadegh's favor, was held under the shadow of a boycott ordered by opposition leader Ayatullah Kashani. The powerful religious leader charged the vote was a device to permit Mossadegh to rule as a dictator, without Parliament.

Eastern Tractor Shutdown Denied

Reports that Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corp., 36 St. James street, was "shutting down" were denied today by John J. Carroll, president and treasurer of the firm.

He said there was nothing to the rumor, that he had "laid off a few men" a couple of weeks ago but that it was routine. He pointed out that there was "always" a layoff in August and September, that business was slack until shipments picked up again in October.

Prisoners Take Leave When Passes Withheld

Inchon, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—Some repatriated American prisoners have taken unauthorized leave here, officials at the Inchon replacement depot said today. All returned and were not charged with being AWOL.

Four became sick and were sent to a hospital to recuperate.

Military police guards said bottles of liquor were passed into the depot at night on strings from outside the wall.

MPs are under orders not to use violence of any kind to prevent a man from leaving a compound but to use persuasion and to call an officer if necessary.

Officers in close contact with the repatriated prisoners said many of them voiced irritation about being kept on the post without passes.

No Fire Hazard

Waynesboro, Va. (AP)—A day after a fire destroyed four buildings and damaged six others, city council cited a lumber company building as an apparently dangerous fire risk. The company owner replied in an advertisement in the city's daily newspaper. He assured the public his building wasn't a fire hazard. It wasn't after that night. It burned down.

Indo-Chinese to Get Control From France

Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Aug. 11 (AP)—France has bowed to the Indo-Chinese kingdom of Cambodia and agreed to give her immediate control of her own army, police, and judicial system, Cambodian Premier Pen Nouth said today.

Pen Nouth indicated the French proposals were acceptable to the kingdom, whose king recently fled temporarily to Thailand to dramatize his little country's desire for freedom.

Pen Nouth said, "I accept, with pleasure, the announcement of the immediate transfer of the three powers which will allow us to proclaim that we are fully sovereign and independent internally."

He said that he would soon call a conference of Cambodian officials to decide whether he should go to Paris to negotiate for Cambodian independence over external affairs.

Cambodia, he said, wants to have her own diplomats abroad, and wants control of her trade and financial relations with other countries.

Pen Nouth said that under the French proposals, there will only be Cambodian police in the kingdom, but there would remain some French judges in the courts. As for the army the French and Cambodians would work out together what zones would be patrolled by French Union forces, then, later the two countries would sign a military pact.

Antenna Trouble

Kansas City (AP)—With more television stations opening here, City Manager L. P. Cookingham shuddered at the prospect of countless receiver antennas towering over the city's sightly residential areas. Some cities have so many antennas of varied design and height that they have become "urban uglies," he said. "I hope we can find some means of escaping this." So he issued an order to department heads: See if it's possible to require at least some uniformity in antenna design.

Precautions Taken To Guard Czechs

Sioux City, Ia., Aug. 11 (AP)—Authorities are taking elaborate precautions to protect from possible Communist seizure the eight Czechs who escaped through the Iron Curtain July 26 in a homemade "freedom tank."

This was learned by Leonard Cloud, 28, Sioux City, yesterday in his first trans-Atlantic telephone conversation with his pretty Czech wife, Lila. She is somewhere in Germany.

Cloud, an ex-soldier, spent only three months with his wife before he was forced to leave her behind in Czechoslovakia in 1949 when his visa expired. Czech authorities blocked his efforts to get a passport for her to join him here.

A Junior Chamber of Commerce committee arranged Cloud's call to his wife. Hugh Dunn, committee chairman, said only high military intelligence officers know the whereabouts of Mrs. Cloud and the other Czech refugees.

Each has a code number and armed guards accompany them when they leave their quarters.

To "bring a silver lining to the Clouds," the committee here has arranged plane passage for the 30-year-old bride as soon as she gets her papers but Cloud learned that the military will withhold any information about her flight until the plane is safely out of reach of the Communists.

"I was so excited I could hardly talk," Cloud said of his conversation. He is joining in plans for an official welcome and parade for Mrs. Cloud on her arrival here.

Where's the Fire?

McAlester, Okla. (AP)—Little red boxes are plaguing city officials. The city recently instituted a painless method for paying overtime parking tickets. Motorists were allowed to place the tickets and 25 cents in red boxes installed in each downtown block. This allowed them to avoid the $1 police fine. Firemen, however, got an alarm from the industrial section soon after. When they arrived, they found a farmer trying to stuff his overtime ticket and a quarter in a red fire alarm box.

Patrolman Resigns From Local Force

James Harbeck, 32, of 12 Murphy street, who was recently appointed a regular patrolman on the local police department, last night handed in his resignation, Police Chief Raymond VanBuren said today.

Harbeck was appointed a special patrolman on May 29, 1951, and served as such until he was appointed a regular member of the department on last June 1. Chief VanBuren indicated the resignation was handed in without prior notice and no details as to future plans of the former patrolman were given.

Chief VanBuren said the department now has one vacancy unless Sgt. James J. Cullum, who is on leave of absence, does not return next month. Sgt. Cullum has been doing investigating work for a state department, and works out of Albany.

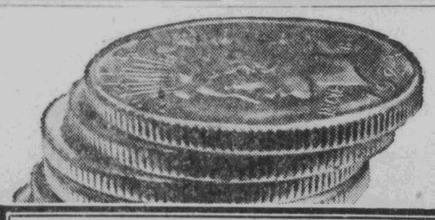

The Municipal Civil Service Commission said only two names remain on the list of eligibility from which recent appointments were made to the department.

Backward Archaeology

Westport, Mass. (AP)—Since she became interested in archaeology two years ago, Mrs. James L. Raposa has found hundreds of Stone Age artifacts practically in her own back yard. While many have been arrow and spear heads, one of her most prized finds turned out not to be the spear head she thought it was. Experts tell her it is a nearly perfect knife of green-gray banded felsite. A smoothly worked stone tool was described at the Bronson Museum in Attleboro, headquarters of the Massachusetts Archaeological Society, as a gouge from the so-called "stone bowl" era of 1,500 B. C. She found a stone axe in a trench dug for an electric cable for her house.

First Hand Report on Korea

Illinois Democrat Hits GOP Truce, Prosperity Claims

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D.-Ill.) today labelled as "the most far-fetched thing I've ever heard" Republican claims of credit for prosperity at home and the truce in Korea.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (R.-Mass.) made the claims in a nationwide telecast lauding the record of the new administration and the first session of the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress.

Martin said the Korean war was "the Number One" problem facing the GOP regime when it took over from the Democrats in January. He declared that it was met by "a refreshing toughness" in foreign affairs which "touched off an amazing chain of events."

Order to U. S. Fleet

The first move, Martin said, was Eisenhower's order to the U. S. 7th Fleet to quit shielding Red China against possible attacks from Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces in Formosa.

Results of the new policy, narrators on the telecast said, included the exchange of wounded prisoners in Korea, the Korean truce, anti-Communist riots in East Germany, desertion by Communist fliers, and the release of William Oatis, Associated Press reporter imprisoned in Communist Czechoslovakia.

"Why doesn't Speaker Martin claim the sun spots and the drouth?" Douglas commented to a newsman.

"President Truman probably could have had a peace in Korea last summer if he had been willing to take the same prisoner of war terms which we now have accepted."

The Illinois senator said he feared there were weaknesses in the present cease-fire terms which would become obvious soon. One, he said, was the privilege granted the North Koreans to build air fields down almost to the 38th Parallel.

As for the 7th Fleet order, Douglas said it was no change in policy—that Truman had been permitting the Chinese Nationalists to make hit-and-run raids on the coast without formal sanction.

The senator emphasized that, despite Eisenhower's order, "there has been no invasion of the mainland" by Chiang Kai-shek's forces.

Ellenville Man Is Fined as 'Bookie'

Robert Brown, 43, of Ellenville, who was arrested recently on a charge of "making book" at a tavern there, pleaded guilty last night before Justice Benjamin Lonstein and received a $200 fine and a 90-day suspended sentence.

When arraigned recently before Lonstein, Brown pleaded innocent through his attorney John Bonomi and was released under $250 bail for his appearance last night.

State police said the arrest was made on information from the District Attorney Howard C. St. John and Ellenville Police Chief Frank Groppe.

POW Tells About Fear And Hunger in North

Seoul, Aug. 11 (AP)—A South Korean freed from Communist captivity said today most North Koreans live in "dissatisfaction, fear and hunger."

He also said he talked briefly with a Russian officer in his 25 days as a prisoner.

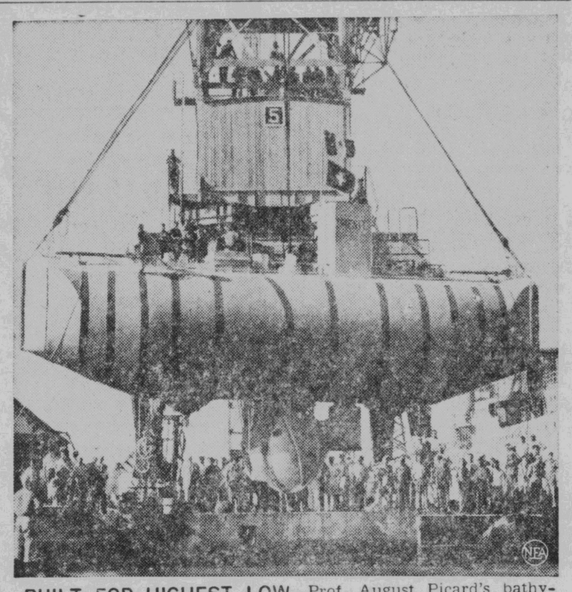

"I saw many North Korean civilians sympathetic with allied POWs and I was given heart warming advice secretly by some North Korean soldiers," said Sgt. Park Soon Chul.

Pays $100 for Selling Alcohol Off Premises

Charles Weissbord, who operates the Kass Tavern in Greenfield Park, was fined $200 yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Kerhonkson on a charge of selling alcohol off the premises with an on-the-premises license.

Poppel suspended payment of $100 of the fine imposed. Weissbord was arrested at the tavern, located on Route 52 about half way between Woodburn and Ellenville, by state police of the Ellenville Station.

BUILT FOR HIGHEST LOW—Prof. August Picard's bathysphere is suspended in mid-air during its launching at Castellammare di Stabia, Italy. The famed Swiss-born scientist will use the strange-looking vessel to explore the depths of the Tyrrhenian Sea. The "ship" consists of two parts. The upper, cigar-shaped part is a watertight compartment where special gasoline can be stored. The lower part is where the professor and his son will conduct their experiments and in which they hope to reach the lowest depth ever visited by man.

Provinces Back Iran's Premier

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 11 (AP)—Iran's Communists were expected today to push harder than ever for the ouster of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi as the payoff for their strong support in plebescite votes approving government plans to dissolve Parliament.

The nation's provincial areas gave Premier Mohammed Mossadegh a whopping 1,441,156-694 vote yesterday approving his demand for the ending of the Majlis (lower house of Parliament). Last week, Tehran and its suburbs okayed the proposal 166,607-116.

The Communists voted in full strength. Estimates credited them with at least 70,000 of the premier's votes in Tehran.

But the Communist campaign against the Shah and his court appeared certain to weaken the Reds' ties with Mossadegh. The premier has shown no desire to go that far against the ruler, insisting only that he "must reign, not rule," and that the government must be supreme.

The plebiscite vote, though hugely in Mossadegh's favor, was held under the shadow of a boycott ordered by opposition leader Ayatullah Kashani. The powerful religious leader charged the vote was a device to permit Mossadegh to rule as a dictator, without Parliament.

Eastern Tractor Shutdown Denied

Reports that Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corp., 36 St. James street, was "shutting down" were denied today by John J. Carroll, president and treasurer of the firm.

He said there was nothing to the rumor, that he had "laid off a few men" a couple of weeks ago but that it was routine. He pointed out that there was "always" a layoff in August and September, that business was slack until shipments picked up again in October.

Prisoners Take Leave When Passes Withheld

Inchon, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—Some repatriated American prisoners have taken unauthorized leave here, officials at the Inchon replacement depot said today. All returned and were not charged with being AWOL.

Military police found one man in a Korean house near the depot.

Four became sick and were sent to a hospital to recuperate.

Military police guards said bottles of liquor were passed into the depot at night on strings from outside the wall.

MPs are under orders not to use violence of any kind to prevent a man from leaving a compound but to use persuasion and to call an officer if necessary.

Officers in close contact with the repatriated prisoners said many of them voiced irritation about being kept on the post without passes.

No Fire Hazard

Waynesboro, Va. (AP)—A day after a fire destroyed four buildings and damaged six others, city council cited a lumber company building as an apparently dangerous fire risk. The company owner replied in an advertisement in the city's daily newspaper. He assured the public his building wasn't a fire hazard. It wasn't after that night. It burned down.

Indo-Chinese to Get Control From France

Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Aug. 11 (AP)—France has bowed to the Indo-Chinese kingdom of Cambodia and agreed to give her immediate control of her own army, police, and judicial system, Cambodian Premier Pen Nouth said today.

Pen Nouth indicated the French proposals were acceptable to the kingdom, whose king recently fled temporarily to Thailand to dramatize his little country's desire for freedom.

Pen Nouth said, "I accept, with pleasure, the announcement of the immediate transfer of the three powers which will allow us to proclaim that we are fully sovereign and independent internally."

He said that he would soon call a conference of Cambodian officials to decide whether he should go to Paris to negotiate for Cambodian independence over external affairs.

Cambodia, he said, wants to have her own diplomats abroad, and wants control of her trade and financial relations with other countries.

Pen Nouth said that under the French proposals, there will only be Cambodian police in the kingdom, but there would remain some French judges in the courts. As for the army the French and Cambodians would work out together what zones would be patrolled by French Union forces, then, later the two countries would sign a military pact.

Antenna Trouble

Kansas City (AP)—With more television stations opening here, City Manager L. P. Cookingham shuddered at the prospect of countless receiver antennas towering over the city's sightly residential areas. Some cities have so many antennas of varied design and height that they have become "urban uglies," he said. "I hope we can find some means of escaping this." So he issued an order to department heads: See if it's possible to require at least some uniformity in antenna design.
